

Delay in Answering Might Mean Hanoi Is Considering Truce

Rusk Claims Cease-Fire for Christmas Is Up to Communists

TOKYO (AP) — The Viet Cong have yet to respond to Secretary of State Dean Rusk's ultimatum five days ago that the United States might accept another Christmas truce in Viet Nam.

There also has been silence in Hanoi and Peking over his oblique offer to halt bombing North Viet Nam if the North reduced its own military activity on the battlefield.

The unusually long silence suggests the Communists are giving serious consideration to the moves they should make in reply to Rusk's overtures.

An unanswered question is whether the Communists now feel they cannot win militarily

'Fading Away'

A high-ranking U.S. official in Tokyo — a listening post to the Asian Communist world — has suggested that perhaps "a gradual fading away," and not full-dress negotiations such as a new Geneva conference, may be the most likely manner in which the war will end.

He holds that this could be the easiest solution both for the United States and its allies and the Communists. He implies that a meeting of a number of international powers — including Red China — would be the least desirable thing for the United States and the North Vietnamese. The Chinese are regarded as exerting sometimes unsolicited pressure on Hanoi to keep the war going.

In place of a big-power meeting, there could be direct, secret talks between the United States and Hanoi and unpublicized discussions between the South Viet Nam government and the Viet Cong, he said.

Up to Hanoi

Rusk told a news conference in Washington last Friday a Christmas cease-fire would be up to the North Vietnamese government initially and the Viet Cong.

He said he hasn't been able, despite persistent efforts, to find out what Hanoi would do in return if there were a long hiatus in the bombing which last year ended lasted 37 days.

Vatican sources have indicated Pope Paul VI may recommend a Christmas truce and a halt in the bombing. United Nations Secretary-General U Thant says a full halt in the bombing would create a "congenial atmosphere" for negotiations.

Lasted 30 Hours

The cease-fire on the ground last year lasted 30 hours. The Viet Cong later proclaimed a four-day cease-fire from Jan. 23 to mark the Vietnamese new year, Tet.

Earlier this month Red China — apparently anticipating a U.S. offer to halt the bombing — denounced it as "a fraudulent peace move." It said that since the assaults were on a sovereign nation they should stop unconditionally and that there was no room for bargaining.

Two Killed in Valley Crashes

Oshkosh, Racine Women Die in Separate Collisions

Two Fox Valley highway deaths Wednesday raised the state's toll for the year to 986, compared with 912 on this date a year ago.

Annie Blandi, 28, Racine, died Wednesday night in Appleton Memorial Hospital after the car she was riding in collided with another car at U.S. 45 and Outagamie County Trunk BB.

The dead woman was a passenger in a car driven by Warno Kleindt, 36, also of Racine.

In the other car were Mr. and Mrs. Roger Hansen, route 1, Hortonville, and their son, Brian All were being treated at the hospital.

Further details of the collision were unavailable late Wednesday night.

Another accident Wednesday took the life of an Oshkosh woman.

Red Influx to South At Record High Rate

U. S. Officials Cite Per Month Norm of 5,330

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Infiltration of Communist troops from North to South Viet Nam is higher than ever this year, according to U.S. official statistics, more than triple what was reported before the bombing of the north began in February 1965.

The U.S. Command announced Wednesday that at least 48,000 enemy troops moved down from the north between January and September, an average of about 5,330 a month. This balances off most combat deaths in Communist ranks — Hanoi regulars, hard-core Viet Cong and regional guerrillas — as announced weekly by allied spokesmen. Accepted estimates of other infiltrators and unconfirmed "possibles" boost the monthly total to above 8,000. "It's the same as usual," said a U.S. military spokesman as Thanksgiving Day brought turkey dinners for the 360,000 American military men in Viet Nam. "Let's hope the boys eat heartily."

The enemy influx, accompanying an extensive buildup of American ground forces, more than tripled the evident infiltration rate before the U.S. air

Canada Seeks United Nations Seat for Peking

General Assembly Asked to Accept 'Two-China' Plea

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Canada advocated Wednesday a stopgap solution to the U.N. Chinese representation controversy that would put both Communist and Nationalist China in the general assembly but hand the big power Security Council seat to Peking.

Despite a fresh blast from Peking against anything resembling a two-China formula, Canadian Foreign Secretary Paul Martin declared it was essential that the U.N. doors be widened to admit both Chinese regimes.

Guidelines Sought

In a major policy speech, he urged the 121-nation assembly to adopt these guidelines for what he called an interim solution to the 16-year-old problem.

—Participation of Nationalist China in the assembly as a member representing the territory over which it exercises effective jurisdiction — the island of Formosa.

—Participation of Communist China in the assembly as the member representing the territory over which it exercises effective jurisdiction — the Chinese mainland.

—Participation of Communist China in the 15-member Security Council as a permanent member. Nationalist China now holds a permanent seat, along

U. S. Reports Capturing 2 Cambodians

WASHINGTON (AP) — A State Department spokesman said Wednesday that two Cambodians captured by American troops in Viet Nam Nov. 19 "failed to heed warning shots over their heads."

The two men were wounded when a fire fight developed in the Cambodian border area of South Viet Nam's Tay Ninh Province. They were taken prisoner and moved to a U.S. field hospital where they are still being treated.

State Department press officer Robert J. McCloskey said the Cambodian government is being notified of the incident by the government of South Viet Nam.

McCloskey said he is sure the U.S. forces were on the South Vietnamese side of the border when the incident occurred. He said he has no reason to doubt the Cambodians were also on the South Vietnamese side.

Seattle Hit by Power Blackout

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — Downtown Seattle was plunged into darkness Wednesday night when a power failure cut off electricity to buildings in the area.

City power officials said the power outage was caused by a series of underground fires which tripped power relays.

Cause of the fires was not known.

All available police units were rushed to the area to direct traffic.

'It Can't Happen to Us,' Says Lovell as Radar Fails

Astronauts Had Pains to Accompany Pleasures

MANNED SPACE CENTER. HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The world's champion spacewalker declared Wednesday his stroll in orbit went without a hitch, but he expressed concern over the failure of four maneuvering jets on Gemini 12.

"This is not a small problem," Air Force Lt. Col. Edwin E. Buzz Aldrin Jr., said as he told a news conference about the fact four of 16 thrusters on the spaceship failed.

He said a board of inquiry would be formed to find out "everything possible we can about why some of these thrusters haven't been behaving the way they should." Some other Gemini flights had similar problems.

'Quite Frustrating'

His flying partner, Navy Capt. James A. Lovell Jr., earlier had said the problem "really got to be quite frustrating. I got mad at it occasionally because I couldn't do anything. Every time I wanted to do something, I'd always roll."

The 16 small jets, or rockets, that ring the spaceship are fired in various combinations to steer the vehicle in the direction desired.

"Actually it was good experience," Lovell said, "because we found out that as systems degrade, you have to learn to operate with what you have and we were able to maintain attitude and control with degraded thrusters and using maneuver thrusters that were really not intended for that use."

The two pilots told of their four-day mission — its excitement and frustrations — at a news conference at the Manned Spacecraft Center. Their voyage, the last in America's Gemini program, ended Nov. 15 with a batch of records.

A rookie at the outset, Aldrin came home from space as holder of the world's record for time spent outside an orbiting capsule. In flawlessly accomplishing a two-hour and nine-minute stroll, he experimented with a set of new devices, including a waist strap and "golden slipper" foot restraints, to do a series of simple tasks.

"Things went quite a bit smoother than I had actually thought it would. We didn't run into a single problem that gave us any particular trouble. I think we learned the great value of a restraint system," Aldrin said.

"We had to fix the body in a position where we then could devote our entire effort to the task at hand."

Aldrin did not encounter the fatigue problem astronauts before him did.

"I Don't Know"
"I think we might want to look into this a little bit and find out what causes it," he explained. "While I was rubbing my fingers together, I could notice in the dark, a very faint glow between my fingers."

Asked later about what might have caused it, he said: "Rubber surface gloves — I don't know."

During a swift rendezvous with an Agena rocket the first night in space, Lovell said, their radar failed.

"Buzz noticed that the computer wasn't giving any change of range," Lovell said, noting that at the time the spacecraft began to close in on the Agena, the radar was supposed to feed the computer the distance left between the two vehicles.

"I looked down at the little green light that tells us that we had radar lock on and it was off," he said. "For a minute there, both of us just looked at each other."

"We said, 'Oh no, it can't happen to us. Anybody else or any other time but, gee, not this time." Then suddenly it dawned on us that sure enough our radar had indeed failed."

Brilliance of Sun

He explained that they then decided to use visual means to sweep into the successful rendezvous. Aldrin peered through a sextant while Lovell flew the ship.

Aldrin noted that his eyes had difficulty adjusting to the brilliance of the unobscured sun, even though he had a protective visor.

"The lighting is just fantastically brilliant, and the pupils just kind of closed right down even with the visor lowered. You are not really aware of this until we started going into darkness."

It took him three or four minutes after the sun went down to get his eyes adjusted.

Grateful Nation Gives Thanksgiving Prayers

Millions of Americans will be performing this annual task today as America pauses for the Thanksgiving holiday. Putting the family turkey in the oven is Mrs. Carolyn Griffin of Charlotte, N. C. A remote control camera caught the oven's eye view. (AP Wire-photo)

America Remembers Fighting GIs

NEW YORK (AP) — Celebrating a strictly American holiday, families throughout the nation today hold their traditional Thanksgiving for past and current blessings, amid prayers for 360,000 U.S. fighting-men in Viet Nam.

In Saigon, where turkey dinners and all possible trimmings were being prepared for servicemen, a U.S. military spokesman said, "Let's hope the boys eat heartily."

Other military personnel stationed in other parts of the world are not forgotten — they'll have not only traditional fare but also gifts. So will the 181 Veterans Administration hospitals and domiciles. The VA has readied nine tons of cranberries and 17 tons of mashed potatoes, plus the turkey, and pumpkin or mince pie, for more than 100,000 persons to be served, including personnel.

Four-Day Holiday

Travelers swarmed through airports, bus terminals and railroad stations for what, for many, is a four-day holiday. The holiday is essentially a family one, with loved ones converging upon "home" from far and near.

There is fun, too, for the parade watchers, who can watch such spectacles as the famed Gimbels' parade in Philadelphia and the annual Macy parade in New York.

Nor are the homeless and hungry forgotten. The Salvation Army traditionally serves thousands of midday meals to indigents. On Manhattan's Bowery, the Volunteers of America readied 2,000 turkey dinners for the less fortunate.

Interfaith Services

Churches of all faiths plan special worship, with interfaith services scheduled in some churches.

Practically all history books say the first Thanksgiving was held at Plymouth, Mass., 1621, with Gov. William Bradford proclaiming the holiday.

George Washington issued the first Thanksgiving proclamation in 1789. But the custom did not become established nationally until 1863, when Abraham Lincoln proclaimed the last Thursday of November of that year as a day "to review our gratitude for America's fruitful fields."

Torrential Rains Again Punish Italy

Roman Suburbs Hit by Overflow Of Tiber River

ROME (AP) — Torrential rains Wednesday lashed the length of Italy, flooded parts of Rome and its outskirts, and sent streams spilling over banks again in flood-damaged Tuscany.

The rains — worst since the 48-hour deluge that caused the disastrous floods of Nov. 4 — swept the peninsula from the foothills of the Alps to the shores of Sicily. In the Alpine highlands, the rain turned to snow in freezing temperatures.

Waters of the swollen Tiber river spilled over into low-lying farmlands around Rome and poured three feet deep into shops and ground floors in suburban areas.

Little Threat to Rome
Overburdened sewers in the city backed up water into hundreds of basements and flooded underground electric conduits.

There was no real threat that the Tiber could rise enough to break over the high banks that line the river through Rome. The last big Tiber flood in the city occurred in 1870.

The situation was different to the north in areas still struggling from effects of the earlier flood disaster.

Heavy rains drenched Florence, the worst hit city, all through the day. There was no significant rise in the Arno River, but smaller streams in southern Tuscany flooded again.

The rain-swollen Cornia River burst its banks and poured over farmlands already inundated earlier in the month.

First Speech

The President made his first formal speech since undergoing surgery a week ago Wednesday for removal of a polyp from a vocal cord and closing of an old incision in his side which had reopened. This was the day the stitches from the latter repair work were removed by White House physician Lay Fox, a Navy captain.

Johnson's voice was husky. He slashed a lot of wordage from the prepared text of his talk and held it down to 2 minutes, 51 seconds by the clocking of press secretary Bill D. Moyers.

His doctors had instructed the President to refrain from formal speeches for four to five weeks following the operation. Johnson said the Gemini program has opened the way for the Apollo program to get a man on the moon.

"Apollo," he said, "will make America a truly spacefaring nation."

"The three-man Apollo is the

Gov. Connally Sure Only One Assassin Fired Dallas Shots Nevertheless Maintains He, JFK Weren't Struck by Same Bullet

By LEE JONES
AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Gov. B. Connally, gravely wounded when President John Kennedy was assassinated, firmly Wednesday to his belief that only one sniper fired the shot that killed the president. He said he does not believe the investigation should be re-opened as some persons demand.

Instead, the governor said, it would be better spent investigating the credentials of persons writing books of fiction of the Warren Commission, the official assassin-investigating body.

The handsome governor was sitting in the jump seat of the presidential limousine in Dallas Nov. 22, 1963 when Kennedy was shot to death. The Warren Commission said Lee Harvey Oswald, a laborer in the Texas School Book Depository, was the assassin.

"Backlash of Tragedy" bullet plowed through Connally's back, through his chest, shattered his right wrist and ended his thigh.

The Warren Commission said he was "persuasive" evidence that Connally was hit by a bullet that had passed through Kennedy. But Connally said he is convinced a separate bullet struck him.

"It is shocking to me," said the governor at a news conference. "that in the backlash of tragedy, journalistic scavengers such as Mark Lane attempt to impugn the motives of these members of the (Warren) Commission, cast doubts upon the commission as a whole and question the credibility of the government itself."

Assassination Plot
Lane, a New York attorney represented Lee Harvey Oswald's mother, Marguerite Oswald, before the Warren Commission. Lane wrote a book, "Rush to Judgment," in which he contended there was an assassination plot involving more than one rifleman.

Lane is one of several authors

whose books questioned the commission's findings.

"I think it is time to pause and reflect upon what these individuals are, rather than calling for a further investigation of the assassination. I suspect a searching investigation into their own credentials would reveal that their motives have political overtones and that their views have been given prominence out of all proportion to their value."

Without Any Doubt
"I am convinced without any doubt that I was not struck by the first bullet," Connally said. "I retain my original view and I always shall." He referred to the bullet which passed through the president's throat and which the commission said apparently struck the governor.

"But just because I disagree with the Warren Commission on this one finding does not mean I disagree with their over-all findings," the governor said.

Connally said he is "satisfied beyond any doubt" that there was only one assassin, not two or more as some critics of the Warren Commission have theorized.

Only Son Dies in War, Mother Still Comes to Court

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — Mabel Stewart quietly took a seat Tuesday in Criminal Court waiting her turn to be called to the witness stand.

She had been summoned as a witness in a breaking, entering and larceny case. But as the court droned on with its daily routine business, Deputy Sheriff Samuel Greenberg noticed that the 61-year-old mother of four was crying.

Asked what was wrong, Mrs. Stewart said that just before she left home for the court, she had been informed that her only son, Wilbert, 20, had been killed in action in Viet Nam. She had come anyway, she said, because she felt it was her civic duty.

Judge James A. Perrott postponed the case indefinitely.

$8 Million Loss To State Foreseen

MADISON (AP) — Wisconsin learned Wednesday that its share of the federal cutback in federal highway aids would be $8 million, nearly one-fifth of the amount authorized for this fiscal year.

The state had anticipated $48 million in aids. A state official said no revised list of priorities had been drawn up but, "We're more apt to do the final stage of some project than start a new one."

telegram from Rex M. Whitton, administration of the U.S. Bureau of Roads, setting a ceiling of $3.3 billion on the amount of cash available to the 50 states this fiscal year.

The amount originally earmarked was $4 billion, said G. H. Bakke, the chairman of the Wisconsin Highway Commission. Whitton's telegram said the step was being taken "in recognition of the need for reducing non-military federal expenditures as a contribution to the Viet Nam effort and the resultant program to reduce inflationary pressures."

Bakke said states had been warned to expect a possible 10 per cent cut, but added the 17½ per cent slash Wednesday was "a more drastic holdback than we had anticipated."

Whitton's telegram did not spell out details of the slash.

Knowles, GOP Spent $636,000 in Campaign

Lucey, Democrats List Expenditures Totalling $532,336

MADISON (AP)—The Republican party of Wisconsin and Gov. Warren P. Knowles reported spending about $636,000 in engineering the runaway GOP victory in the Nov. 8 election.

The combined total reported by Lt. Gov. Patrick J. Lucey, Knowles' opponent, and the Democratic party of Wisconsin climbed to $532,336, according to financial statements filed in the secretary of state's office.

Lucey's voluntary campaign committee outspent Knowles' organization by a ratio of more than 2 to 1, the statements showed.

The lieutenant governor, who survived a bitter primary battle, which Knowles was spared, reported $285,436 spent. Knowles said his re-election bid cost $127,199.

Much of the cost of Knowles' campaign was handled by the GOP state party, which said it spent slightly more than $500,000. The Democratic party, which operated separately from the Lucey organization for the most part, said it spent $246,900 to support its candidates for state and local offices.

Food Cost Drop Not Enough To Avert Living Cost Hike

Consumer Goods, Service Price Increases Outstrip Wage Gains

By NEIL GILBRIDE
WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite a barely noticeable drop in food prices, Americans found it even tougher making ends meet last month as the cost of everything else continued the sharpest upward spiral in a decade.

"Prices were higher for all types of consumer goods and services except food in grocery stores," the Bureau of Labor Statistics said Wednesday in reporting a four-tenths of one per cent rise in the consumer price index.

The increase in October prices outdistanced wage gains of 11 cents of some 15 million factory workers, who lost 20 cents a week in purchasing power.

The October increase boosted the price index to another record high of 114.5, which meant it took $11.45 to pay for typical family needs worth $10 in the 1957-59 period on which the index is based.

Possible Inflation
Commissioner Arthur M. Ross of the bureau declined to be drawn into a discussion of whether the government considers the price hikes inflationary, but said: "Obviously it's more than we like to see."

Increases of nine-tenths of one per cent for transportation, eight-tenths for medical care, seven-tenths for clothing and four-tenths for housing brought the index 37 per cent above a year ago—the biggest annual rise since 1956-57.

It was the ninth straight, monthly rise in living costs.

In a special report, Ross said an investigation of higher 1967 car prices showed that most of the increase over 1966 was due to improved quality—mostly new standard safety features and longer warranties on new autos.

Auto Prices
"Suggested retail prices of factory-equipped cars averaged about $55—2.1 per cent—higher than in 1966," the bureau said. "All but about $6—or two-tenths $58,516 into his successful election effort.

His opponent, Rep. John Race, D-Wis., said his voluntary committee spent $23,322 in the attempt to return him to Congress for a second two-year term. Sources within the Race organization had said privately last summer they expected the campaign cost to soar to more than $75,000.

of one per cent — was due to quality improvements," Ross said.

But new car prices increased 4.2 per cent from September to October, primarily because dealers were selling new 1967 models instead of 1966 cars, and were giving smaller trade-in allowances in what Ross said is largely normal.

The long-term rise in grocery prices reversed in a two-tenths of one per cent drop in October, but restaurant prices were higher, keeping over-all food prices unchanged.

Meat, fruit, vegetable and bread prices dropped at the market, but eggs and milk went up.

Higher wages averaging a cent an hour boosted factory workers' take-home pay 11 cents a week to $100.65 for those with three dependents and $92.72 for single workers.

But "purchasing power declined by about 20 cents for both groups of workers" because of the rise in prices, the bureau said.

After-tax pay of factory workers over the year was up $2.50 per week, or 2.7 per cent, but this was more than wiped out by the steady climb in living costs.

Compared with October of last year, real spendable earnings for single workers and workers with three dependents have declined by about 85 cents, for one per cent," the bureau said.

The past year's big rise in living costs was led by an 11 per cent hike in mortgage interest rates, a 6 per cent increase in medical care, a 5.6 per cent climb in groceries and higher costs for home repair, real estate taxes and property insurance.

General Increases
Compared with food prices a year ago, cheese was up 19 per cent, butter 17 per cent, milk 10 per cent, fruits and vegetables 6.3 per cent, cereals and bakery products 6.3 per cent and meats, poultry and fish 4.5 per cent.

Increases of 2.7 per cent for clothing, gasoline and cigarettes were highest over the year among nondurable goods other than food.

Higher prices for furniture and new and used cars boosted durable goods prices 1.4 per cent since October 1965.

Some 1.2 million workers, mostly in aerospace and auto manufacturing and related industries, will get cost of living increases averaging about three cents an hour because of the October price hikes. These workers have labor contracts pegged to the government index.

About 750,000 retired federal workers or their survivors will get a 3.9 per cent boost in retirement annuities in the first increase under a 1965 law.

The First Thanksgiving

But hear I cannot but stay and make a poore people's presente condition; and so I thinke will the reader too, when he well considers the same. Being thus passed the vast ocean, and a sea of troubles before in their preparation, they had now no friends to welcome them, nor inns to entertaine or refresh their weatherbeaten bodys, nor houses or much less townes to repaire too, to seeke for succoure. . . And for the season it was winter, and they that know the winters of that cuntry know them to be sharp and violent, and subjecte to cruell and fierce stormes, dangerous to travell to known places, much more to search an unknown coast. Beside, what could they see but a hideous and desolate wilderness, full of wild beasts and wild men? . . . For summer being done, all things stand upon them with a weather-beaten face; and the whole cuntry, full of woods and thickets, represented a wild and savage hein. If they looked behind them, ther was the mighty ocean which they had passed and was now as a maine barr and goulfe to separate them from all the civill parts of the world. . . .

There continues to be controversy over who first landed on the shores of North America. But thanks to William Bradford's extensive and highly readable history of Plymouth Plantation, we have ample description of the trials of those who later came to be called the Pilgrims and who celebrated the First Thanksgiving. What was the motive that prompted these people to find themselves at last as Bradford so well describes, on the shores of a wilderness?

Actually most of them were no longer being persecuted for their religion. They had left England and Bishop Laud but in Holland they were permitted to hold services as they liked. But — they didn't like some of the customs of their adopted country. But — they were separated from some of their friends still in England. But — they had a dream of something new, something beyond, something richer and finer. Wrote Bradford, "but they knew they were pilgrims and looked not much on these things, they lifted their eyes to the heavens, their dearest country, and quieted their spirits."

The wilderness fulfilled all the horrors they had imagined that first winter. There were the savages to fear although they kept to the forest for the most part. But there was hunger and the cold and sickness.

Write it on iron,
Write it on iron and New England rock,
The story of those four months when they built the town,
For they built it with the dying and the dead.
They built it upon the bones of fourteen women
Who had come for life, not death. . . .

And when it was done,
There were four living women out of eighteen,
The colony cut in half, four households wiped out. . . .

So wrote Stephen Vincent Benet in Western Star. But the handful who remained of those who had landed from the Mayflower replanted the Indian corn, built better homes for the next winter, took in the orphaned children and the widows.

And the next fall, they had a Thanksgiving.

It was not the way we picture it today. Bradford makes little of the event noting only that "the Lord sent them such seasonable showers, with interchange of faire warme weather, as, through his blessing caused a fruitful and liberrall harvest, to their no small comfort and rejoycing. For which mercie (in time convenient) they also sett aparte a day of thanksgiving."

Determination, courage and perhaps above all the humility to give thanks for what may now seem to be small favour indeed, these were the contributions of the Pilgrims which are implicit in Thanksgiving Day.

Wilkins Returns to Mississippi

There has been concern, and some of it well grounded, that reaction to city violence and some Negro extremism means a considerable "white backlash" which will show itself not only in elections but in a slow-down of efforts to achieve equality for all races. But a recent trip by Roy Wilkins, head of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, to some racially tense areas of Mississippi indicates that the changes in the South may be monumental.

Four years ago Wilkins was arrested in Jackson, Mississippi, because he tried to get service in a restaurant open to whites only. But on this trip Wilkins had no trouble either in getting meal service or accommodations. Although there are obviously many still dedicated white segregationists in Mississippi, they left Wilkins strictly alone.

Of even greater impact was the welcome Wilkins received. In one city, the Mayor appeared at a rally for Wilkins and even joined the Negroes in singing "We Shall Overcome." In another city where White Citizens Councils had been influential in the past, there was no open opposition to a large rally and the white Mayor invited Wilkins to call on him. White businessmen reportedly gave assurances of more Negro employment and while "whites didn't come out in great numbers," according to Wilkins, "some did show up at the meetings and we talked with others."

Of course Wilkins is undoubtedly considered the far lesser of the evils stemming from racial unrest to many white moderates in the south. He criticizes black power demands and generally has taken a more moderate approach to improving racial relations than more militant civil rights leaders. If the greeting given Wilkins by southern whites is not exactly enthusiastic or even sincere, it nevertheless did occur. And there obviously has been progress when a Negro leader can be so greeted without bombs being tossed or riots organized.

It is ironic that it is probably not so much Wilkins' moderate stands so much as the militant ones of some of his opponents that have changed attitudes toward him.

Thoughts of Others at Thanksgiving

According to reliable American newspapers, India faces one of the worst phases of its entire history during the coming year. J. Anthony Lukas of the New York Times writes, for instance, that the monsoon rains have failed to fall in some areas for the second straight year. Photographs out of these regions show the earth to be a network of vast fissures, baked to a rock-like hardness. The beginnings of a famine so obvious during 1966 may explode into all-out mass death from starvation during 1967.

Famine, or smaller geographic pockets of starvation are almost a way of life for millions in some African and Latin American countries. Meanwhile, in many other areas of the world, people barely exist on minimal diets.

Add to the growing hunger problem the growing rate of disease, slum conditions, the refugees (the largest number since the end of World War II) and the still great number of displaced persons and you have a full size problem fraught with shattering possibilities.

Three great faiths, the Protestants, Catholics and the Jews, once again this Thanksgiving Season, have turned their attention to these needy around the world and are offering assistance in the form of food, clothing, shelter and other important aid. These are the Protestant "Share Our Substance" appeal, the Catholic "Bishops' Thanksgiving Collection" and the United Jewish Appeal.

All three are eminently worthy of support.

Editor's Thanksgiving Message

100 YEARS AGO
Quoted from the Appleton
Crescent for Nov. 24, 1866.

Thursday next is the day designated by the President of the United States and the Governor of the State to be devoted to Thanksgiving and praise and joy and rejoicing. Let love and contentment, purity and fidelity, peace and concord, dwell in every home on this festive day. Cast care to the winds; let fun and merriment dance in every eye and fashion frolicsome words on every lip.

—But the poor and unfortunate; the suffering and the disconsolate; the widow and the fatherless. Forget them not on this National festive occasion. Leave them not to the cold, calloused and begrudgingly bestowed gifts of the pauper overseer!

Lady! Your husband may die and leave you a poor, dependent widow; your children may become fatherless, shoeless, suffering objects of pity!

Out of the bounty of God given you, bestow freely upon the needy. Visit the Poor. Sympathize with the afflicted. And the good Lord over all will cause it to return to you in happiness unspeakable and eternal.

Thanksgiving Gift of Painting Motivates Essay on Modern Art

BY HENRY J. TAYLOR

On Thanksgiving Day many years ago my father bought my dear mother a charming portrait by Sir Joshua Reynolds in London. He bought it because they liked it. Today, oh, my, oh, my! Reynolds is a better buy than Fort Knox.

Taylor

There are millions and millions of pictures in the world, the vast majority of them worthless. The problem now is not to sell the finest pictures but to find them in the first place.

If you've wondered about the astounding prices that mystify many news readers the answer is relatively simple.

The true classic masterpieces are one thing. But these are so settled into museums that dealers and auctioneers cannot possibly make a living marketing the available few.

SOLD ONE PAINTING
There is simply not enough turnover among the authenticated immortals. Moreover, much poignancy is added to the tremendous prices when you remember, as one instance, that the great Vincent van Gogh managed to sell only one painting ($80) in his lifetime.

Thus the first effect of today's scarcity market is to strain the question of authenticity.

Versatile diplomat Sir Peter Paul Rubens, for example, using mass-production methods, insisted that all the innumerable pictures done by his employed subcraftsmen

Anthony Koehn, vice president; Mrs. Theodore Pontow, secretary. Re-elected treasurer was Mrs. Al Priesen.

Gerry Taschler, bowling in the Women's City League at Munich Alleys in Neenah, rolled a 620 honor count that week. Her total topped each of the previous honor counts of the season made by Rusty Resch (600), Mavis Charron (612) and Lorraine Otto (613). Her 235 opener was best game of the night with a 196 total in the second game and 189 for the third.

Jack Wippich of Menasha was elected co-captain of the 1956 Oshkosh State College football team. During his four seasons he was one of the college conference's leading pass receivers and in 1956 he was chosen for the all-conference team.

were his own, and signed them.

Francisco de Goya was a police informer. Often a fugitive, his life was frequently too endangered to sign the true name to his works, or any name at all.

Ernest Hemingway said of 16th Century Andrea del Sarto's superb "Portrait of a Woman" in the Prado, "I have loved her longer than any other woman in my life." Well, del Sarto's pupils copied him and the master himself copied Raphael magnificently and anonymously.

The many remarkable pupils of Rembrandt, a ruined man, copied their teacher and immortal Titian copied his teacher, Giorgione. But Titian lived to be 99 and never stopped painting whereas Giorgione died when 33 and only about 10 pictures are uncontestedly attributed to him. Thus even Titian plays second fiddle to his teacher in today's price scramble, if you can guess which picture is a Titian and which a Giorgione.

Jean Corot and many other French masters through the centuries often signed their students' works for them as a sign of favor and encouragement. And so it goes: There's an Alfred Hitchcock mystery in many standard paintings coming on the scarcity market.

In addition, the market has been forced to include bad pictures by fine artists such as humble, emaciated Renoir with his 6,000 pictures extant who suddenly changed his style and found his greatness. Only then was the soul of the artist made manifest. Or look at the prices for anything — anything — by Claude Monet, a giant of a man who painted fragile scenes; reclusive Paul Cezanne; or sharp, slight Hilaire Degas. Their names on slabs of mud would be enough.

Finally, what about the incredible prices for pictures by artists whom many do not consider to be lasting artists at all?

THE ART GAME

If you want the full and dubious ramifications of this last factor, and the part some dealers, auctioneers and critics play in it, read British expert Robert Wraight's excellent, revealing book, "The Art Game."

Courageous Mr. Wraight points out that there may be no short cuts to becoming an artist, but there are many short cuts to becoming known as an artist.

He observes that there are more art critics writing than ever before, but criticism is at its lowest ebb.

Picasso defined the critics' responsibility as "building a bridge people can walk over to join the artist." Mr. Wraight states: "With a few notable exceptions, critics have built a wall around themselves. Inside the wall they play the emperor's-new-clothes game and seem to view those on the outside (the public) with apathy or the sort of pity usually felt for lunatics."

"No wonder," Mr. Wraight suggests, "that many critics blow their tops about successive exhibitions of banal abstractions and abstract-expressionist paintings by instant artists. No wonder their current cant is to defy 'space' — even an empty canvas, if they wish."

Something tells me all this may get quite sticky for the buyers before they get through.

Wisconsin Report

Knowles Boosts Renk As Possible Candidate For Senator, Governor

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
MADISON — When a reporter at the first post-election news conference of Gov. Warren Knowles asked him whether he intends to run for U.S. Senator two years hence, he really didn't expect an answer. Such questions are an expected part of the warm-up banter at such meetings, and in one of the fundamental rules of the game, such premature queries are always turned aside non-committally.

Wyngaard

As it turned out, however, Knowles evidently wanted the question and was prepared with an answer that will be closely scrutinized and puzzled over by the professional managers in both political parties as they contemplate the ticket-making tasks for the next competition of the parties.

Knowles didn't expect to be taken seriously when he replied with a smile that he hasn't thought about a senatorial seat opening up in 1968. For if he hasn't, he is perhaps the only practicing politician in the state who hasn't.

But he quickly went on with a comment that he obviously wanted to make, and was as obviously intended for the consumption of his own Republican backers as for the bewilderment of the waiting Democrats.

There are plenty of good men in the Republican Party available for the senatorial nomination, he remarked. They include Reps. John Byrnes, Melvin Laird and Vernon Thomson, as examples.

There are some emerging leaders in the legislature who might suit the situation, he went on. Then he suggested also the name of Wilbur Renk, the ambitious farmer-politician from Dane County, as a man naturally to be considered in terms of the senatorial seat.

HINT OF THIRD TERM

Thus Knowles quickly achieved two likely purposes — to keep Renk in sight for the consideration of the next

Republican convention and to plant the idea, ever so casually, that he may conceivably run for a third term in the executive office in 1968. A fair inference, moreover, is that he was also intending to hint that he will be the man in a position to influence such decisions when the time comes, and that he intends to maintain his position of maneuver derived from his status as the Wisconsin Republicans' most successful incumbent official.

The three congressmen he mentioned do not intend to run for senator. If there is any plausible aspirant in the present legislature, he has not yet been recognized in the press gallery or elsewhere.

The purpose of this skilful effort at news management, considered realistically, was to restore Renk to circulation. Renk is interested, as he has shown in several hard-driving campaigns in the last few years. Probably his first interest is the governorship, even as he knows that Warren Knowles has always been intrigued by the idea of a seat in the U.S. Senate. If Knowles decides to challenge Sen. Gaylord Nelson in two years, he will want a strong supporting ticket.

THE OLSON FACTOR

All of which brings up the position of Jack Olson, lieutenant governor-elect, and as a frequent campaigner, one of the best known men in his party. Olson wasn't mentioned by Knowles as one of the potential nominees, perhaps because he is known to be waiting in line for the governorship, but also possibly because there are some doubts in influential quarters that he will be a strong enough nominee for the executive office when that time comes.

Was Knowles discreetly plugging Renk as a superior candidate for governor when his new term expires and he seeks again the Senate seat to which he publicly aspired as long ago as 1957?

No doubt he will now keep his own counsel. Bossing a party in a state like Wisconsin is a difficult and hazardous business. Nor is it consistent with the Knowles personality. If the governor was doing what logic suggests he is doing, he can now only wait for the responses in the organization councils.

"Nowadays, nothing but money counts," I heard a man say at dinner last night — almost exactly the same words used by Ovid ("in pretio pretium nunc est . . .") in lines written at the time of Jesus.

The most brilliant, witty and intellectual man in the world still finds it difficult to make talk with his own relatives; for, usually, we have the most to say to those we have the least to do with.

When a man cannot choose between two women, or a woman between two men, they should choose neither — for love is not a scale or a sliderule to be balanced or calculated, and the very act of choosing between two indicates that neither is right.

Speaking of this delicate and treacherous subject, it is surely one of nature's mischievous ironies that the qualities that attract us to a person are often the most superficial ones, and not the deeper ones — thus, the reasons couples stay married have little to do with the reasons they got married.

No man should consider himself a philosopher until he knows how to get along with a fool — which most self-styled philosophers don't.

The one "moral" lesson that little children should be taught, perhaps more than any other, is that cruelty is a form of weakness, not of strength, and that only a person who is growing into strength and self-confidence can afford to drop cruelty as excess emotional baggage of childhood; this one lesson, I am convinced, could do more good than all the parental sermons and strictures on "ethical" matters.

Emotional Disturbance Can Cause Stuttering

BY JOSEPH MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: My son, age 7, spoke plainly until last year. Now he stutters so bad we can hardly understand him. What causes this and what can I do to correct it?

I have been told that he could be emotionally disturbed and it is affecting his speech. My ex-husband deserted me and the children when they were very small.

He writes and promises them all new bicycles, clothes and things, gets their hopes all built up and then writes and says he can't buy them anything.

Last year he came from California on a vacation and sent word that he wanted to see the kids. They got cleaned up and waited for him but he never showed up. He stayed for a week at his mother's, a few miles from here. The children were very hurt, especially the 7-year-old, and his speech started giving him trouble soon after that.

Is there a doctor that can help him? — H.P.

I suspect that you've told the entire story of that stuttering.

Many small children have to learn to accept the loss of a parent because of divorce or death. Usually it is possible to give them an explanation that is good enough to make life bearable.

But it is cruel — there is no other word for it — for children to have their hopes built up and then dashed as you describe.

Since you live in a rural area, you may have little access to a child guidance center or such source of counsel, but I suggest that you place the facts before your family doctor or your minister. They can, I trust, advise you as to how to protect the youngsters from any more of this heartbreaking disappointment. Surely the first thing to do would be to see that no more of these empty promises reach the children.

Arranging this is more a social than a medical problem, of course, but the stuttering — and very possibly other medical or behavior problems — will be very difficult to deal with until the children are relieved of the emotional turmoil of looking forward to seeing their father and getting affection from him, and then have everything turn to ashes instead.

It may be possible to feel sorry for your ex-husband, who must be a very immature individual to act the way he does. Nonetheless the children certainly must be protected from any more of his selfish antics.

Dear Dr. Molner: Is it true that a child after the age of 2½ years no longer needs vitamins if he is on a well-balanced diet? — M.F.

True. He no longer needs extra vitamins, since he gets enough from his food, if his diet is genuinely well balanced. If the diet is not adequately balanced (daily citrus or tomato juice, green and yellow vegetables, adequate protein foods, cereal, and plenty of milk) some vitamin supplements may be required. But proper diet is far preferable.

Dear Dr. Molner: My uterus and cervix have been removed but tubes and ovaries remain. I have read of tubal or ectopic pregnancies and wonder if this is possible with me? I am absolutely terrified. — S.D.

Tubal and ectopic pregnancies occur when the uterus is still present. I have read of only one ectopic pregnancy occurring after removal of the uterus, and it was reported because it was such an extraordinary rarity.

(There was a complicated anatomical peculiarity in that case which made it possible).

For all practical purposes I would say that it is impossible for any type of pregnancy in your case.

Emphysema can be controlled. To learn how to live with this serious lung disease, write to Dr. Molner in care of this newspaper, requesting a copy of the booklet, "How to Control Emphysema," enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 10 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Army Forced to Use Aged Training Rifle

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army ran short of standard M14 rifles in the United States during September and October. The Pentagon, acknowledging today what it called a temporary shortage, said nearly 15,000 retired M1 rifles were pulled from depot stocks to fill the gap. The .30 caliber M1 was phased out beginning in 1961 and succeeded by the lighter M14, a 7.62mm weapon weighing about 8 pounds.

In response to questions, the Defense Department attributed the weapons deficit to "increased unit activations and concurrent increases in the training base requirements." The Army has been training men at a rate of about 50,000 a month, with a net monthly gain of 20,000 to 25,000.

The Pentagon emphasized that: — Reissues of the old M1 ended on Oct. 21 and each man now armed with it will get the modern M14 within four to six weeks. — Every new soldier has been and is being trained with the M14 and no one who was given the older weapon was scheduled for overseas deployment. — No soldiers serving outside the continental United States are armed with the M1.

Sources said the Pentagon has stepped up production of the new M16 rifle which has been going to troops in Viet Nam. The M14 production lines were closed down two or three years ago, with the M16 envisioned as an interim replacement until the Army comes up with a new standard weapon for future years. Some military commanders favor the 6-pound, rapid firing M16 for jungle warfare, but officers in other areas of the world such as Europe, prefer the M14.

Larger Than .22

The M16 fires a 5.56mm round, only slightly larger than the .22 caliber bullet used by small-game hunters. About 630,000 M16s have been ordered, officials said. The Army is getting nearly half, the Air Force and the Marines the remainder.

One high military officer said the weapons shortage is not serious and, in fact, "as rifles go, this is pretty minute." He described it as indicative of prob-

Integrated Grosse Pointe

Negro Family Leaving, But Not Without Results

DETROIT (AP) — The first Negro family to move into the exclusive Detroit suburb of Grosse Pointe Woods will be moving out by the end of the year — but without giving up what they fought for.

A. Gordon Wright, 36, son of a Cleveland millionaire, said he would sell — or rent — his $40,000 home to another Negro family "since we've gone to so much trouble to integrate" the plush suburb.

The departure won't be because of any racial prejudice on the part of neighbors. "After the initial shock wore off, we were met with courtesy and friendliness by nearly everyone," said Wright, who moved into the two-story red brick colonial house four months ago with his wife and three children, aged 5, 7 and 9.

Shouted Epithets

The Wrights were the target of hostility and harassment when they first moved into the Grosse Pointe area in July. Teen-agers drove up and down the street, shouting "Nigger, get out!" and other epithets.

Since then, another Negro family has moved in, and both families apparently have now been accepted by the community.

Wright's job is being eliminated under the Johnson administration's economy order affecting federal agencies. He is regional director of the Economic Development Administration of the office in Detroit, with supervision over five Midwest states.

President Johnson Gives Formal Talk certain forerunner of the multi-manned spaceships of the not-too-distant future — ships that will bear the experiments and some day the experimenters of many nations — ships that will bear the hopes of all man.

On the chest of Gemini 12 astronaut James A. Lovell Jr., and Edwin E. Aldrin, Johnson had pinned the gold Exceptional Service Medal of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration. He awarded them framed citations hailing their accomplishments during a spectacular four-day journey through space earlier this month.

Lasting Memento
 Johnson got a surprise in return. Command pilot Lovell said he and spacewalker Aldrin had been thinking while they were aloft of some lasting memento that might be appropriate for the President. And he produced a framed color photograph which Aldrin handed over to Johnson.

 "Mr. President," Lovell said, "this is a picture of your ranch in Texas."
 It was taken during the Gemini 12 flight.
 Mrs. Johnson, by her husband's side, clapped her hands in delight.
 With the souvenir went a smaller picture showing the various topographical features of the Texas landscape centering around the hill country ranch.

Another York In U. S. Army 50 Years Later

Basic Trainee Is Third Cousin of World War I Hero
 FT. CAMPBELL, Ky. (AP) — A young man named Alvin C. York joined the Army nearly 50 years ago.

The Army now has another Alvin C. York, a third cousin to the most decorated enlisted man in World War I.

The original York grew up in Tennessee where he hunted fox and sold the pelts for $35 each.

The present-day York grew up in Illinois where he works with his father and two brothers in the family landscaping business.

The two men never met.
 "I always wanted to write my cousin, but I never did," says Pvt. York, stationed at Ft. Campbell, for basic training.
 "But I collected newspaper clippings and pictures."

Medal of Honor
 World War I's Sgt. York entered the service in 1917. On Oct. 8, 1918 then Cpl. York killed 28 enemy and took 128 enlisted men and four officers prisoner — all singlehandedly. For his unusual accomplishment, he was awarded the Medal of Honor.

Pvt. York, 21, was born and brought up in Spring Bay, Ill., has had the nickname "Sarge" since he was a child. He jokes that he didn't learn his real name until "about six years ago."

"I've always wanted to be in the Army," he says. "I guess something inside of me wanted to become a soldier."

York's drill instructor, S. Sgt. Marion Ridge, said, "One thing he does have over the other trainees is outstanding drive and enthusiasm. He'll make a fine soldier some day."

59 Air Missions
 Improving weather after nearly two weeks of rain and low clouds permitted Air Force and Navy squadrons to fly 59 missions Tuesday against North Viet Nam. The fair weather record is 171 missions.

Communist gunners shot down one plane, a two-seated Air Force F4C Phantom jet. Both crewmen were listed as missing. The plane was the 427th announced as lost over North Viet Nam.

Guam-based B52 bombers attacked Communist positions in support of two American group operations, Attleboro northwest of Saigon, and Paul Revere IV in the central highlands.

 collided at 3:20 p.m., Wednesday on U.S. 10, near the intersection with Waupaca County Trunk U.

According to authorities, Mrs. Phillips was pulling out of the restaurant driveway when the westbound Manecke vehicle struck her car broadside.

Fair Condition
 Manecke was taken to Waupaca's Riverside Hospital where he was listed in fair condition with a fractured hip and minor head injuries. Mrs. Phillips was pronounced dead at the scene.

The death raised Waupaca County's 1966 highway death toll to 12, compared with nine on this date a year ago.
 Another state highway death was recorded Wednesday when Allen E. Thompson, 18, rural Lone Rock, died of injuries suffered Monday night when his car struck a tree after leaving U.S. 14 about a mile north of Gotham in Richland County.

Egan Will Not Ask Recount of Alaskan Votes

Governor Recognizes Defeat by Republican Foe Walter Hickel

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP) — Gov. William A. Egan acknowledged Wednesday he had been defeated for re-election and said he would not seek a recount of ballots in Alaska's Nov. 8 general election.

"There is no question that Walter J. Hickel has been elected governor of Alaska," he told a news conference.

"I have urged my supporters, who had offered to pay for a recount of all ballots cast for governor Nov. 8, that such an action would be futile and unnecessary."

Egan, a Democrat, has been Alaska's only governor since it achieved statehood in 1959. Hickel, a millionaire Anchorage hotelman, had never before sought public office but had been active in Republican party affairs.

Egan called the news conference after the State Canvassing Board reported a check of the votes by precincts gave Hickel a 1,080 lead, 33,145 to 32,065.
 "If the difference were only 700 or 800 votes we would have had no alternative but to take a look at all the ballots," Egan said.

1,080 Votes
 Egan had conceded the day after the election when Hickel's lead reached 2,500 with most precincts in, but withdrew the concession when reports from remote areas cut the margin

 Lovell also had eye problems, but of a different nature.

"Buzz had come back in, we were repressurizing the cockpit. My eyes started to irritate. My eyes are very sensitive anyway. I had blinked them several times and in space the tears don't roll down your cheeks, they just stay there."

No Trouble With Eclipse
 "I suspect that perhaps perspiration or some salt deposits below 1,000.

around the eye had been washed into the tears and were burning the eye. It immediately went away when I opened up the visor and wiped my eyes clear."
 The astronauts said they had no difficulty spotting total eclipse of the sun. They snapped man's first pictures of the rare event from space.

Lovell said he had a filter over his window through which he could see the circle of the sun and at the same time be protected from its intense rays. "Just as the time was approaching I could see the moon, which was a dark disk, come across the rim of the sun and start to occult (hide) it," he explained. "I thought at first that we were really going to miss it because it appeared the moon was a little bit lower than the sun.

 "But suddenly the complete window became black and in an impulse I ripped off the filter and looked out. I could see a black disk against sort of a black sky with a brilliant ring around it—the corona of the sun."

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Syracuse University has received a $1 million from a 1909 graduate, now a Texas petroleum geologist.

Inmate Would Like To Forget Events of Last Thanksgiving

JEFFERSON (AP) — A Wau-pun State prison inmate who slipped over the wall last Thanksgiving, has very little to be thankful for this year.
 Circuit Judge Henry Gergen, Jr., sentenced Ralph Gruender, 33, to three more years in prison for his escape. This is to be served on completion of 70 years on earlier convictions of robbery and kidnapping.
 Gruender, who was the subject of one of the biggest man-hunts in state history, was captured in a gun battle with Milwaukee police a week after his escape.

 with the United States, the Soviet Union, Britain and France. Martin said he did not regard Canada's approach as a two-China solution, but most delegates viewed it in that light.
 Martin declared that Canada was not prepared to stand by and see the stalemate over Chinese representation perpetuated indefinitely. He said that he and his colleagues in the Canadian government had devoted much time in the past few months in private consultations to open the way for a forward move.

But he did not say that he was prepared now to submit the guidelines as a formal resolution for assembly consideration, or as amendments to pending resolutions.
Regrets Italy Plan
 He said it was a matter of regret that an Italian resolution proposing a year-long study of the problem "is not one, which in our view, goes far enough in charting the course which this assembly should now take in the interest of the United Nations, and that of the larger world community."

He objected to that part of the resolution proposing that questions be put to Peking as to its intentions toward the United Nations.

He made reference to criticism from Peking in the last 24 hours against a two-China formula and charging that the organization was under U.S.-Soviet control. But he added that in his opinion countries seeking admission of Communist China would not have done so over the years without Peking's consent.

Reasonable Basis
 He said that the time for asking questions of Peking is after and not before determining a reasonable basis for seating Communist China.

"The real responsibility which is ours is to formulate proposals which can be put to the parties in full confidence that they represent a reasonable approach to this issue," he said.
 "We can commend our proposals to the parties, but we cannot compel their acceptance. At the very least, however, we would have absolved ourselves of the responsibility for perpetuating a situation which lacks the elements of common sense."

The death raised Waupaca County's 1966 highway death toll to 12, compared with nine on this date a year ago.
 Another state highway death was recorded Wednesday when Allen E. Thompson, 18, rural Lone Rock, died of injuries suffered Monday night when his car struck a tree after leaving U.S. 14 about a mile north of Gotham in Richland County.

Celebrities to Inhabit New Los Angeles Zoo

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A the elephants, for instance, so crowded together they couldn't have been happy.

Built for 200

"The old zoo was built for 200 animals back in 1912 and there were 2,500 animals there when we closed it last August."

Three hundred animals from the old zoo will be used for trading with other zoos.

The new zoo, designed by Charles Luckman & Associates, has eliminated bars and placed animals in moat-surrounded concrete compounds or glassed-in cages.

It has acquired new and rare tenants by birth, barter, and purchase.

There is Herman the Hippo, a $24,000 purchase from India. Its journey to Los Angeles last spring was interrupted by a stop at Saigon. The South Viet Nam harbor was so clogged with war materiel that Herman's ship was delayed a month. When Herman's grassy food supply ran short, Americans sent lawn cuttings to the ship for fodder.

Princess Lollipop

Princess lollipop, a 1½-year-old chimpanzee, was born in the old zoo. Keepers held a contest to name her. The reward — a certificate naming the winner a monkey's uncle or aunt.

"We had entries from 39 states and the Canadian provinces — from businessmen, school children, housewives and even a nun. One woman sent songs and birthday cards to the chimp," said John Hunt, zoo publicist.

The zoo's solution was to combine the two most popular names and issue thousands of certificates, making all the contestants honorary monkey's uncles and aunts.

Like most modern zoos, the new one has abandoned the practice of merely displaying animals and has become an educational and conservation center.

Children's Zoo

Its children's zoo has a nursery for baby wild animals and domesticated animals which children can pet and feed.

A commissary prepares special diets for animals whose wild feeding can't be duplicated — pabulum instead of ants for anteaters, formula for baby monkeys deprived of mother's milk.

Recent acquisitions include two white kangaroos, white rhinos and a pair of Prezwalski horses. Only 200 remain of this breed, which once roamed the steppes of central Asia by the hundreds of thousands.

Another rare equine is the Tarpan, the last of which was believed to have died in captivity in 1919. Two European zoo directors recently succeeded in "reconstructing" the breed through controlled breeding to a point of re-establishing the species.

Peking, Hanoi Sign Trade Agreement

TOKYO, (AP) — Communist China and North Viet Nam signed an agreement Wednesday on trade and payments for 1967, Radio Peking reported. The broadcast said the agreement was signed in Peking between the Chinese government and a North Vietnamese trade mission. Details of the agreement were not disclosed.

Louisiana Teachers Drop Racial Barriers

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — The 20,000-member Louisiana Teachers Association voted Wednesday to open its membership to all races.

The National Education Association had threatened to expel the state group unless it dropped racial barriers in its membership.

The association's General Assembly voted 579-183 to eliminate the "white only" provision.

Weather Blamed for Small Apple Harvest

WINCHESTER, Va. (AP) — Virginia has harvested a smaller-than-usual apple harvest this year.

The crop of 5.1 million bushels, compares with 10.5 million bushels last year and a five-year average of 9.9 million bushels.

Officials blamed the weather.

No, This It Not an Oversized shopping cart. A gravel dump truck crashed into a Minneapolis supermarket Wednesday, spilling hundreds of cans of food over the store. The driver of the truck said his brakes failed and the truck crossed four lanes of traffic before hitting the front of the store. A customer and a store employee sustained minor injuries. Boyle's Thanksgiving

These Are a Few of His Favorite Things

NEW YORK (AP) — Things to be thankful for in an anxious time:

The happy sounds of childhood echoing from another room. Oyster dressing and pumpkin pie. The brown and steaming turkey. The sweet sad thoughts for ones no longer at the table.

All remembrances of April. Belts that buckle and people who don't. The excited barking of frolicking dogs. The rush of impatient feet on the pavement hurrying to the harbor of waiting arms. The surprise, after asking for someone missing, and finding that that someone is there after all.

The opening of all doors that lead to joy. The unpeeling splendor of the stars in the cold glory of a winter night, ring like peepholes into heaven. The feel of oak dark and the prickling thrill of a pine cone gripped in the hand.

Smells of Nature

All the thronging odors of nature in a time-warmed land. The lapping of endless waters. The kindling happiness of sharing a loved one's brag. Standing alone at night on a frozen hill, listening to the snap of unseen icicles.

The groaning ecstasy of trees tormented by capricious winds. The colorful caparison of autumn and the fruitful thoughts that lie in fallen leaves — a carpet of crispness. All letters of the English alphabet except X. The solidity of massive buildings dated with the simple grandeur of Roman numerals.

Walking across a bridge toward something unknown on the other side. The unctuous peril of whipped cream, forbidden calories in froth. The purring of pleased cats, and the marching trot of any music by Mozart. The lightning lift in every other line ever written by Emily Dickinson. The serenity of the faces carved on Mt. Rushmore, stone sentinels of the coming centuries.

Window Washer

Finding the right letter in the wrong office file. Tapping a foot to the tune piped in from lord-knows-where in the office elevator. Saying a glad goodbye to someone you'll be glad to say hello to real soon again. The confidence of expectation. Watching a high-up window cleaner massage the portholes of a skyscraper, one man against a concrete mass.

Seeing sunlight break out on a small boy's face after a torrent of sobs. The healing of all hurts, large or small. The staccato thrum of banjo strings, merry as silver moonbeams. Opening a telegram and finding the news is good.

Coming out of a hospital by the same door wherein you went. The pawing of each other by scuffling zoo bears at play. Letting teen-age children think they can really outrace you up lanes that lead to home. The plain elegance of vanilla ice cream, and one freckle on a snub nose. The completeness of the Statue of Liberty, a nation's moving creed in moveless metal. The cherishing of simple delights that bear no price tag.

A wife's face by candlelight. Calming with a cup of water a sleepy child's terror of the dark. Counting the green explosions of a budding bough outside the window in spring. The white thrill of responding sails. The resonance of man's best hopes and dreams.

All causes worth sacrifice. The mystery of the power that throbs the universe through every twilight and the majesty of every new-born morning.

For all this and more, thanks.

Yahoo! It's Cowboy Togs For Londoners

World's Craziest Capital Goes for Boots and Jeans

By EDDY GILMORE

LONDON (AP) — If more evidence is needed that this is the world's craziest capital, then what about the new boutique selling cowboy clothes to Londoners?

Situated on busy Oxford Street, it is, at least, in the West End. In London's West End are most of the capital's department stores, smart shops, art galleries, theaters and restaurants.

But really, broncobuster togery for the males of a nation more accustomed to derby hats, striped pants, and more lately to stove-pipe trousers, Beatle haircuts and miniskirts?

"This Western style will catch on all over the country," said the owner of the new trading post, "and I prophesy it will really last. You see, it's all so masculine."

Mainly Look

The proprietor, John Michael, also an originator of Carnaby Street gear, added: "It makes a man look a man and gives a woman a chance to be feminine again."

Commenting on a current craze for things Western among Britons — which goes deeper than clothes—The Times said it was a real cult, adding: "These grown men, all with jobs around London, have a fantasy world into which they ride at weekends. They are comparatively old hands in the Western cult, which is beginning to take hold, after sweeping through America, Germany and France."

But the new Western store, called The Westerner, is really catering to Britons who want to dress up like cowboys whether they get no farther west than London's West End.

Texas Sheriff

Helping The Westerner get started is Danny Arnold, who describes himself as a deputy sheriff of Bexar County, Tex. On the side he tours Britain with a Western vaudeville act. Deputy Danny told a posse of potential customers: "All those legendary guys like Wild Bill Hickok didn't get a chance to wear clothes like these."

At these prices, deputy? Jeans—$11.20 a pair. Hats—from $16.80 to $23. Boots — $29.40.

Adlai Stevenson Fund

Starts $10 Million Drive

CHICAGO (AP) — A campaign to raise $10 million for the Adlai E. Stevenson Institute of International Affairs will be headed by Donald M. Graham, a Chicago banker.

The institute, at the University of Chicago, will study problems of international peace.

You Can Have Holiday Cake And Diet Too

Stuffed Turkeys Make for Stuffed Diners on Holidays

On Christmas Day, many Americans will push away from the dinner table feeling more stuffed than the turkey they just ate.

And no wonder! Resolve dissolves and common sense evaporates under the Yuletide onslaught of turkeys and hams, mashed potatoes and candied yams, rolls and butter, gravies and sauces, cookies, candies, cakes and pies.

Countless diets are wrecked by holiday fare: at one sitting, a hearty eater can put away 2,000 or more calories, the calorie requirement for a whole day. And that doesn't include second helpings. Indulgence takes its toll in extra pounds, blooming waistlines and creeping regret.

Indigestion Cacophony
As you sit lazy and heavy in an armchair listening to the cacophony of indigestion, think of the ways you could have had your cake and a diet, too.

—You could have passed over the fudge brownies and settled for an apple or a handful of carrot or celery sticks when you decorated the Christmas tree.

You knew dinner was going to be big, so why the big breakfast?

Had you watched all those calories before dinner, you could have asked for a second helping of turkey or ham and taken a bigger than usual slab of pie or cake without a nagging conscience.

—Instead of gobbling up Christmas cookies and leftovers for a late dinner, you could have munched on something less filled with calories.

Holiday diets don't have to be a gastronomical bore. Dietary food and drink can balance those big, calorie-crammed meals and make the season one you won't remember for its extra pounds and indigestion.

Save Her Hands This Christmas

Dishwashers Are Among Most Popular Yule Gifts

Thousands of American homemakers will find a precious gift of time in their Christmas stockings this year. This gift is the hour a day saved from dishwashing drudgery by an automatic dishwasher.

Electric dishwashers are among the most popular of Christmas gift items. More of these worksaving, wife-saving appliances are purchased in November and December than at any other time of year.

Best Ever Gift
If your gift list includes a woman who is still doing dishes by hand, the automatic features of the new dishwasher models make this the best year ever for a dishwasher under the Christmas tree.

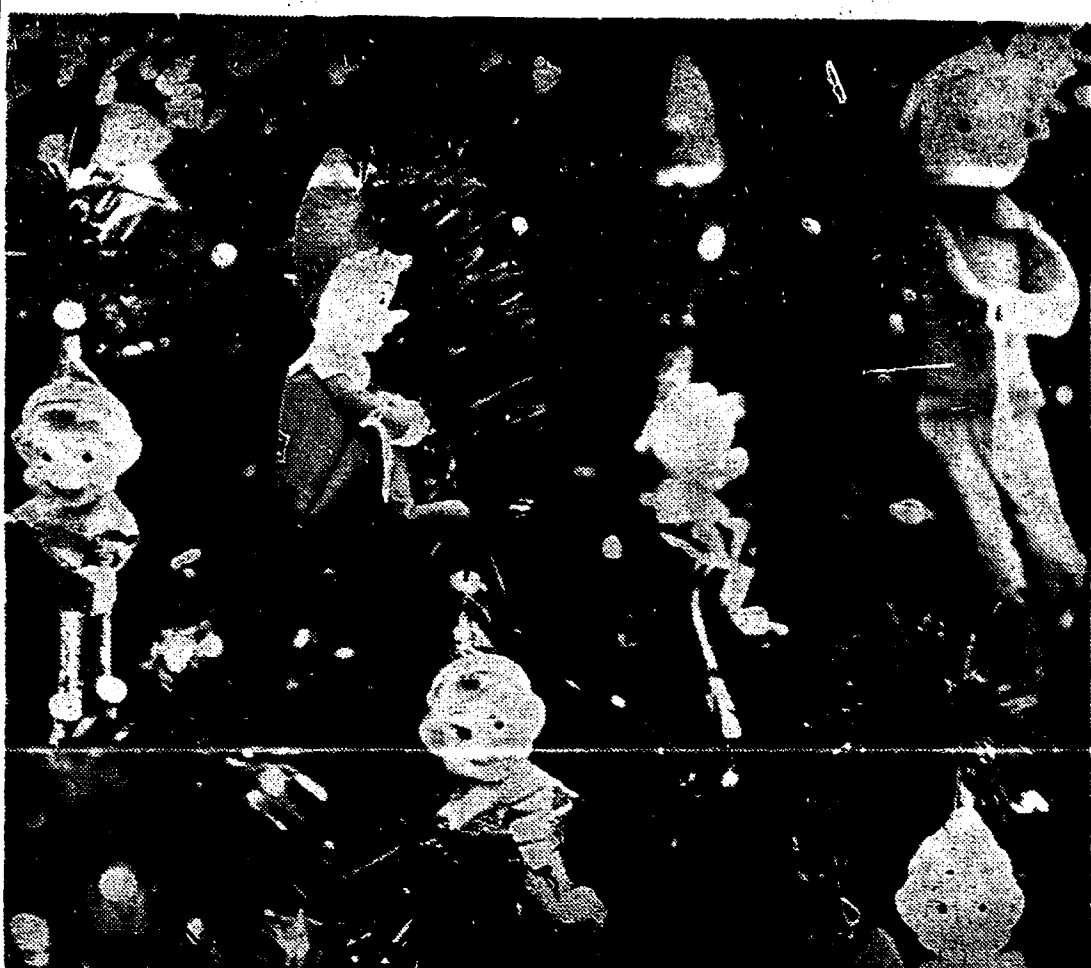

Dial or pushbutton controls can be set to handle a variety of cycles. This means that delicate china as well as heavy duty utensils come through safe, and as clean as a snowflake. Tableware is actually sanitized because dishwashers use hotter water and stronger detergents than hands can stand. Because there is less occasion to put hands in dishwater, a dishwasher helps keep hands softer and lovelier.

No Clutter
A pre-rinsing cycle on most models lets you load dishes as they are used, without hand rinsing, and keeps them moist until the machine is full and ready for a complete wash and dry cycle. Soiled dishes don't clutter the sink and countertops and the kitchen looks neat if unexpected guests drop by.

Most new models feature capacity that lets you load more tableware and accepts even out-sized platters, bowls, cookie sheets and pots and pans. This is especially helpful with the excess of dirty dishes that heavy holiday entertaining entails.

The variety of dishwasher styles lets you pick the perfect Christmas gift. There are: freestanding models which can be permanently installed everywhere; built-ins which slip undercounter; dishwasher—sink combinations; portables which are suitable for any kitchen because they store where convenient and roll to the sink when in use; and convertibles which can be used as portables now and permanently installed when you remodel or move.

Community Yule Tree in Some Form Now an All-American Tradition

The City Fathers of the United States have taken the Christmas tree to their hearts.

In the last half-century, it has branched out from the small family fir to the spectacular community tree, placed in the center of town for group Christmas caroling and pageants. Beneath its many brilliant lights, people of different backgrounds and cultures gather together to share the great pleasure of the yuletide season.

Oddly enough, it was sunny Pasadena, Calif. far from Santa's North Pole, that introduced the public Christmas tree in the winter of 1909. The Californians decorated a stately tree on towering Mount Wilson, and the glow could be seen for miles around.

New York City quickly followed suit three years later then "The Tree of Light" appeared in Madison Square Park. Then, Boston and Philadelphia joined the festivities with their own communal evergreens.

The early Philadelphia celebration echoed the pomp and circumstance of by-gone days. From the Liberty Bell tower of Independence Hall, a trombone choir of the Bethlehem Moravian church heralded the ceremonies with yuletide music. In the historic square, carolers performed near the great Norway spruce, proclaimed "The Children's Christmas Tree."

From The Nation

From that time on, Christmas trees sprouted in hundreds of settlements, from tiny villages to busy cities, with ceremonies embellished by their best choirs, art work and lighting effects.

The custom has even traveled to the White House, where "The National Living Christmas Tree" in Sherman Square, Washington, D. C., is lighted each year by the President.

Some cities have unique versions of the holiday tree. Altadena, a Pasadena suburb, boasts a "Christmas Tree Lane" of two hundred cedars bordering a mile-long avenue. Minneapolis fashions its spectacular tree from a telephone pole. Water-pipes driven into it at close intervals hold dozens of little trees for branches.

The General Grant sequoia in King's Canyon National Park, California, is perhaps the most outstanding living Christmas Tree we have. More than 3,500 years old, the sequoia was an ancient tree when Christ was born.

Rockefeller Center Tree

New York City is not to be outdone when it comes to Christmas trees. Sparkling evergreens bloom on its avenues and parks, but the tree in Manhattan's Rockefeller Center is always magnificent. For over 33 years, trees ranging from 50-foot pines to 90-foot Norway spruces have taken the honored place above the Prometheus statue.

In 1931, after clearing land for the Center's construction, workmen lined up around a small, decorated fir to receive their Christmas Eve pay. This was the first tree on the now famous site.

Formal Christmas tree festivities began in 1933, complete with choristers, the Columbia University Glee Club and the Gloria Trumpeters.

The record of holiday activities at Rockefeller Center is so full of highlights, it is difficult to select just a few for mention. The Ice Skating Pond was initiated in 1936 with a skating pageant that is now a tradition.

Brilliant Variations
The following Christmases brought organ music concerts, star-studded shows, original metal Christmas sculptures, Santa Claus and live reindeer.

In 1950, a blanket of stars was hung from cables across the Channel leading to the Plaza. The tiny bulbs represented the heavens as they would appear to New Yorkers on Christmas Eve.

The next season, television entered the scene. Viewers from coast to coast watched Kate Smith switch on the lights decorating a majestic spruce. "The Voice of America," the "Today Show" and other television shows have since covered the tree lighting ceremonies.

Many governors have officially donated trees to Rockefeller Center from their home states. Frequently, the property owner supplying the tree, along with his family, is invited to New York as the Center's guest. In 1958, Maine's Christmas gift was so perfect it was called "the tree that won a beauty contest."

In Honor of Canada

This year's Christmas tree is now in Canada's Petawawa Forest Preserve where it has lived for three-quarters of a century. The white spruce is the first to come from outside the United States. It is being presented to Rockefeller Center on the occasion of Canada's 100th anniversary of Confederation in 1867.

The Canadian Centennial Commissioner states that the gesture will underscore the good will that has always endured between the United States and his country.

The 64-foot evergreen will be cut Thanksgiving week. With its branches firmly bound or "corseted," the tree will be lowered onto the truck that will carry it 550 miles for Christmas in New York.

Early on Friday night, Dec. 9, the 34th yuletide tree in Rockefeller Center will come alive with lights.

Malaria No Longer A Menace in Most Parts of India

NEW DELHI (AP) — Malaria, once a major health menace in India, has been completely eliminated in half the country and is "under attack" in the other half, says a government announcement.

The announcement points out that areas along India's borders with Pakistan, Nepal and Burma will be maintained as a "sanitary cordon" until those countries bring their malaria control programs up to India's level.

India's malaria eradication program, which began in 1956, has been described as the largest single health campaign in the world. It received massive assistance from the United States and international agencies.

Conservatives Showing Gains In New York

Growth Certain to Hurt Republicans
In 1968 Elections

BY ROWLAND EVANS AND ROBERT NOVAK

NEW YORK — For the leaders of New York's Republican Party, the most disquieting aspect of the Nov. 8 election was the fact that the four-year-old state Conservative Party has tasted its first congressional blood.

It occurred in the Hudson Valley, a former Republican stronghold whose congressional seat was captured in the 1964 Goldwater debacle by Democrat John Dow. After identifying himself with the peacenik New Left in Congress the past two years, Dow was thought a sure loser to moderate Republican Louis Mills this year. His salvation came from an unexpected sector: the Goldwaterite Conservative Party.

Mills lost to Dow by a scant 4,294. But the Conservative candidate picked up 13,308 votes. Presuming that most of these would normally go to the Republicans, the Conservative vote for the first time has meant the difference between victory and defeat for a Republican congressional candidate.

Indeed, the Conservative Party, so despised by Gov. Nelson Rockefeller and his lieutenants at its birth in 1962, is helping force the once mighty New York Republican Party to its knees.

Dems Control Legislature

In this year of Republican success across the country, the Democrats maintained control of the New York Legislature and kept all seven congressional seats picked up in here in 1964. Rockefeller's own third term triumph was possible only because of an underfinanced, disorganized campaign by a divided state Democratic Party.

This may mean the New York Republicans are rapidly approaching the dilemma planned for them since 1962 by the Conservatives. They can either continue to decline when the Conservative Party grows, or else make peace with the Conservatives by moving to the right. The latter course probably would doom the Republican Party to permanent minority status in liberal New York, but that would not at all trouble the Conservative ideologues.

Chairmen Worried

In light of these prospects, there was no post-election jubilation among Republican leaders here following Rockefeller's re-election. State Chairman Carl Spad has been meeting in his Albany office with worried county chairmen. When Rockefeller returns from his Puerto Rico vacation, he will call a top strategy session of his political high command.

One decision from that meeting will be to stress the conservative aspects of the Rockefeller administration in response to what the governor's top political advisers acknowledge to be a rightward trend among the state's Republican voters.

But mere public relations gestures scarcely will solve Republican problems with the right wing here. Moreover, Rockefeller's political lieutenants probably err in their view that they need worry about conservatism but not the Conservative Party.

Building Organization

For that fledgling party is branching out. Its two guiding lights the past four years — Gieran O'Doherty and Daniel Mahoney — will spend much time in Albany next year trying to turn conservative-minded Republican legislators against Rockefeller and get them to accept Conservative endorsements in 1968. Moreover, unlike the fading state Liberal Party, the Conservatives are building a statewide precinct organization — composed in no small part of militantly devoted rightists who delight in seeing liberal Republicans lose elections.

Consider the Hudson Valley congressional race. Although some Conservative Party leaders privately question the wisdom of defeating moderate Republican Mills only to elect left Democrat Dow, they had no choice. The county organizations in that district flatly insisted that they nominate their own candidate.

What happens in the district two years hence will have state and even national implications. If the Republicans seek to appease the Conservatives by nominating a more conservative candidate than Mills, the first white flag of surrender will be lying. Others, throughout the state, may follow.

And that could mean the beginning of the end for the New York Republican Party, orged by Thomas Dewey a generation ago as the national vanguard of Republican progressivism.

Christmas Clubs Put Additional $1.5 Million In Hands of Shoppers

Institutions in Twin Cities Report Gains; Down in Appleton

More than $1.5 million, gathered during 1966 by farsighted Fox Cities Christmas shoppers, will be turned loose on the local economy as 12 banks and a savings and loan firm complete mailing Christmas Club checks to about 13,000 club members.

The total for this year represents an increase of about $100,000 over last year's total, however, all of the increase is accounted for in the Neenah-Menasha area. Four banks and a savings and loan in the Twin Cities showed increased club savings of approximately $110,000.

Christmas Club savings at eight banks in Appleton, Kaukauna, Kimberly and Little Chute, in total, was approximately $9,000 less this year than 1965, according to statistics reported by bank officials.

Program Offered
The Appleton area banks, each offering a Christmas Club program, also reported figures which, when combined, showed a decrease of about 215 in the total number of Christmas Club accounts.

Last year, checks worth approximately $75,700 were mailed to club members by the eight banks. This year the total dropped to $746,500.

Five of the banks reported slight increases in both memberships and total Christmas Club savings, but the increases were so slight that they were more offset by payment and membership cuts at the other three banks. Thus the overall total is lower this year than last.

Checks Dispatched
Most of the banks questioned have already dispatched their Christmas Club checks. Bank officials would not definitely credit one particular reason for the small gains or, in some cases, cuts in Christmas Club activity.

One bank spokesman did say, however, the fact that financial institutions in Neenah and Menasha are paying interest on Christmas Club savings may have some bearing on the club's decreases in Outagamie County banks and the corresponding Twin Cities gains.

He cited especially "borderline cases," those persons who may be working in the Twin Cities but live in Appleton or north and east of the city. Those commuters, he said, may join Twin Cities Christmas Clubs rather than clubs in and around Appleton.

Five financial institutions in Neenah and Menasha, including four banks and a savings and loan, reported a total increase for 1966 Christmas savings of about $110,000 over last year. Savings in the Twin Cities clubs

Members of both local ski organizations, from which top instructors are asked to volunteer their services to teach basic skiing techniques, already have indicated willingness to cooperate again this year.

It is expected that actual dates for the school, which attracts approximately 500 children and adults each year, will be announced shortly after next week's meeting.

Appleton Youth, AWOL Marine, Gets 60 Days

A 19-year-old Appleton youth who said he has been absent without leave (AWOL) from the Marines since Nov. 10, Wednesday afternoon was sentenced to 60 days in the Outagamie County jail after he pleaded guilty of a theft charge brought following investigation by Appleton detectives.

The court was told that John E. Hatton, 303 N. Mason St., stole a $3.35 check Monday from the Gabriel Furniture Co. and forged a signature and cashed the check the same day at Voigt's Drug Store.

The youth was arrested after Gabriel employees saw him pass the store the next day.

Hatton said he is AWOL from Camp Le Jeune in North Carolina. He told the court he worked at a Milwaukee service station before coming to Appleton last weekend. His mother, who appeared in Outagamie County Court Branch 2 with him, said she was not aware her son was AWOL.

Hatton will be released to Marine officials after he serves his sentence here.

Appleton Motorist, 19, Changes Plea, Admits Thomas G. Johnson Speed Count

Thomas G. Johnson, 19, route 2, Appleton, arrested April 12 by state police, Wednesday morning was fined $25 and costs or 12 days in jail after he pleaded guilty to an amended speeding charge.

Johnson was originally charged with speeding 91 miles per hour in a 65 m.p.h. zone on U. S. 41, near Outagamie County Trunk JJ. He had pleaded innocent and trial was set for Wednesday.

The guilty plea was entered after Dist. Atty. Nick F. Schaefer moved to amend the charge to speeding 84 m.p.h. Had Johnson been found guilty of the original charge, he would have lost his driving privileges for a mandatory 15 days.

Support Mounts for County Health Unit

Outline Aid Requirements To Supervisors

Outagamie Studies Federal Funds For Hospital

The complexities of federal aid, including Medicare, to county hospitals were explained Wednesday night to about 20 members of the Outagamie County Board.

Members of the county executive, welfare and health, education and institutions committees heard Dr. Ralph Archer, State Department of Public Welfare, explain the hospital assistance plans. The county about six weeks ago requested a complete report by Dr. Archer of funds available to county institutions.

Programs discussed by Dr. Archer were Medicare, hospital improvement, in-service training and comprehensive mental health center.

Higher Costs
Dr. Archer explained Medicare Titles 18 and 19 saying benefits offered are the same under both titles but Title 18 is for persons over age 65 who are participants in Social Security programs.

Title 19, on the other hand, has no age limit but requires patients to be dependent upon a welfare group before they are eligible for Medicare.

"This plan has cost the federal government three or four times as much as was expected," the doctor said. As a result, he predicted money

United Community Services, Women Voter League Claim Broadened Program Is Needed

Support is being generated by two groups to form a county-wide health department to meet needs and cope with general problems in Outagamie County.

In letters to Mayor George Buckley and other municipal officials, the League of Women Voters and the United Community Services (USC) of Appleton are renewing efforts in updating information on the county's health needs.

"From our studies on 1961-1966 we believe the best solution lies in county-wide action through the formation of a county health department," wrote Mrs. Verner Haag, 127 Fox Point Lane, and Mrs. Leonard Weis, 1501 S. Alicia Drive.

Mrs. Verner is chairman of the league's health committee, while Mrs. Weis heads the public health committee of the USC.

In recent years, other groups have advocated a county-wide health organization — the most recent recommendation being by the Appleton Board of Health.

Formation of a county-wide health department would lie within jurisdiction of the Outagamie County Board with the cooperation of the cities, towns and villages.

Through the combined efforts of the two organizations, reports have been prepared which show the county's population grew by 24 per cent from 1950 to 1960 and is continuing to increase.

"We believe it is time to seriously consider a coordinated approach to the health needs of the county board of supervisors before our problems become so great that correction will be very costly," the mayor was informed.

The two organizations explained that county health departments protect individuals by assuring proper food handling, proper waste disposal, safe water supplies, control of air pollution, insect and rodent control, and maintenance of healthful housing through inspection and testing by public personnel trained in public health.

A county health department, because of its scope, can offer a more efficient and equitable system, and a high level of service that is impossible under fragmented system of small units, the league and USC claimed.

The league and USC representatives said eight informational letters — two a week — are being sent to officials with facts about a county health department, its functions, staff needs and costs.

They also are citing studies and reports made by several other groups the past 16 years, including the Outagamie County Medical Society which is on record favoring a county setup.

Equipment Damaged At Appleton Firm

Damage between $50 and $60 was reported to Appleton police Wednesday after vandals broke lights in tractors and poured oil on engines of equipment at the McHugh Sewer and Excavating Co., 1308 W. Prospect Ave., during the past two days.

Company officials said the exact estimate of damage had not been completed, however the figure released to police did not include time lost while the equipment was being repaired.

Soldiers Square Project Ahead of Schedule

Ramp Builders Hope Weather Holds

BY WILLIAM C. CAREY

Post-Crescent Staff Writer
"Give us about a week more of fairly decent weather and after that we won't be stopping for nothing."

Arnold (Arnie) Warnes, job superintendent with 22 years construction experience under his belt, made the declaration in connection with the Soldiers Square ramp project.

Warnes, the No. 1 man on the job here for Standard Construction Co. of Minneapolis, tugged at his green-colored "hardtop" and took a look at the ramp plans sprawled out on the drawing board before him.

"The first week we fell behind schedule but we've been ahead ever since, and I hope to keep it that way," Warnes said as he peered out over the job site where about 40 to 50 men and huge equipment were hard at work.

No New Project
Molding concrete and steel into big, towering parking structures is not a new experience for Warnes, who has been with the Minneapolis firm since 1957.

Standard Construction was far the low bidder on the modern Soldiers Square structure which will have four stories, and hold 450 cars. It will be an attractive addition to Appleton's central business district.

By the time the 365 foot-long,

135 foot-wide ramp is completed, its "ingredients" will have consisted of tons of reinforcing steel, more than 6,000 cubic yards of concrete, close to 100,000 rose mold-color facing bricks, and thousands of man-hours.

Damaged Tank
The ramp, which will be metered, has a $725,000 price tag for construction, and cost of the land should run over $200,000 — making the new addition to Soldiers Square a million dollar project. It should be completed by mid-1967.

"We got off to a rough start when it came to some of the excavating," Warnes said. Excavators struck a huge metal water tank buried several feet below the ground, ripping a jagged hole in it.

"We didn't know it would be there, nor where it came from, but it made things pretty wet," Warnes said.

There were a few basements and other buried foundations that had to be dug out, too, which meant a difference in the depths for the footings.

Changed Plans
While plans called for footings about five to six feet below grade, some of the conditions the crews encountered made it necessary to go down 11 to 12 feet, he said.

"It meant we had to order out

huge, steel supports to keep forms in place; a concrete finisher hard at work; and a crane-lifted carrier about to unload its contents of fresh concrete over a reinforced steel form. (Post-Crescent Photos by Paul Hertzfeldt)

Health Officer Urges Measles Immunization

A measles vaccine clinic for children of Appleton was recommended to the board of health Wednesday by Dr. James Laird, city health commissioner. The board concurred in his proposal and will contact the Outagamie County Medical Society before making it official. Clinics for mass inoculations would be scheduled in various parts of the city somewhat similar to the anti-polio vaccine centers established a few years ago.

U. S. Government OK's Post Office Sale to Neenah

NEENAH — The federal government has given the city authority to purchase the former post office building at 305 S. Commercial St., for $45,000. Sen. Gaylord Nelson, in making the announcement, said the site will be used for municipal purposes. The city's plan commission is presently seeking sites for a new administration building. The old post office is one of three locations being considered. City officials said if the site is used for construction of a municipal building the present structure will be razed. The city hasn't made plans for the site if one of the other locations is selected for the building, authorities said.

Hit, Run Accident Results in Damage To Parked Vehicle

Frank R. Kruchoski, 706 S. Christine St., Appleton, reported a hit and run accident in which the left rear fender of his car was damaged while parked in the 200 block on E. Johnson Street between 3 and 4 p.m. Wednesday. Appleton police said the Kruchoski vehicle was parked on the north side of the street and the car appeared to have been hit by a truck apparently coming from a service entry directly across the street.

Woman Pinned By Car Wheel After Accident

Sandra L. Boushley Apparently Escapes Serious Injury

NEENAH — A 20-year-old Neenah woman was pinned under a car for about 15 minutes Wednesday night after a two-car collision on the southside of the city. She and three other persons apparently escaped without serious injuries.

Sandra L. Boushley, 120 Fourth St., apparently was thrown out the car as was the driver, Jane L. Mayhew, Plymouth.

The collision occurred at the intersection of Maple and Haylett Streets about 8:30 p.m.

When police arrived, Miss Boushley was lying against the curb of Haylett Street pinned by the wheel of the car. Officers decided not to try to move the car by hand for fear it would slip back and injure the woman more seriously.

Her face bleeding badly, she told police she was alright, commenting only, "This car sure is heavy."

When the wrecker finally arrived, the car was winched up and she was pulled from underneath. The driver of the other car, Laverne Franke, 535 Haylett St., and her nine-year-old daughter, Kay, were taken to Theda Clark Hospital also. The Police could not determine exactly what happened, but believed the Mayhew car was headed north on Maple and the Franke car west on Haylett. Haylett street has yield signs from both directions coming onto Maple, a through street.

And Warnes wasn't kidding when he said snow or what have you wouldn't really slow things up after a week from now. By then the necessary equipment will have been installed to melt any flurries as they touch down on the jobsite.

Incidentally, once the ramp is finished it will have an elevator, plus special indoor snow-melting facilities.

Meeting Set to Plan Wrightstown Alumni Group

WRIGHTSTOWN — The Wrightstown High School alumni will hold an organizational meeting at the all-purpose room of the school at 8 p.m. Tuesday to ascertain interest in formation of an organization.

Preliminary plans sessions have been held and a nucleus for the organization formed, but support is needed from additional alumni, their spouses and friends to make the unit effective, according to Carl Newhouse, publicity chairman.

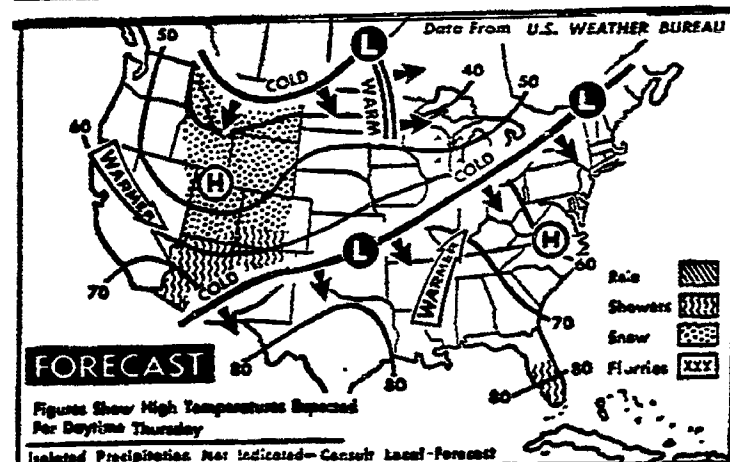

Purpose of the unit will be to allow the alumni a common area for socializing and to continue interest in the school. The group will assist the student council in special activities, particularly in the area of sports activities.

Class leaders have been assigned for each graduating class and they will be responsible for compiling a list of classmates, current addresses and alumni records. This information will be made part of the permanent records of the organization. Refreshments will be served after the meeting.

Neenah Woman Granted Divorce

OSHKOSH — Nancy C. Meyer, 36, Neenah, has been granted a divorce from Emil R. Meyer, 38, Appleton, by Circuit Judge Arnold J. Cane.

The couple was married in California in 1950. There are no children. A property settlement was made.

Snow and Showers Will Fall up and down the Rockies today. There will be snow flurries over the western Great Lakes area and south Florida will have showers. It will be warmer in the southwest and the Deep South and colder in the Great Lakes area. (AP Wirephoto Map)

Hearing Date Set For Iola Man

WAUPACA — A preliminary hearing for Theodore J. Miller, 39, Iola, charged with purchasing liquor for a minor and contributing to the delinquency of a minor, was set for Nov. 30, Wednesday, in Waupaca County Court.

Outline Aid Requirements To Supervisors

standards will be "tightened up" in the future.

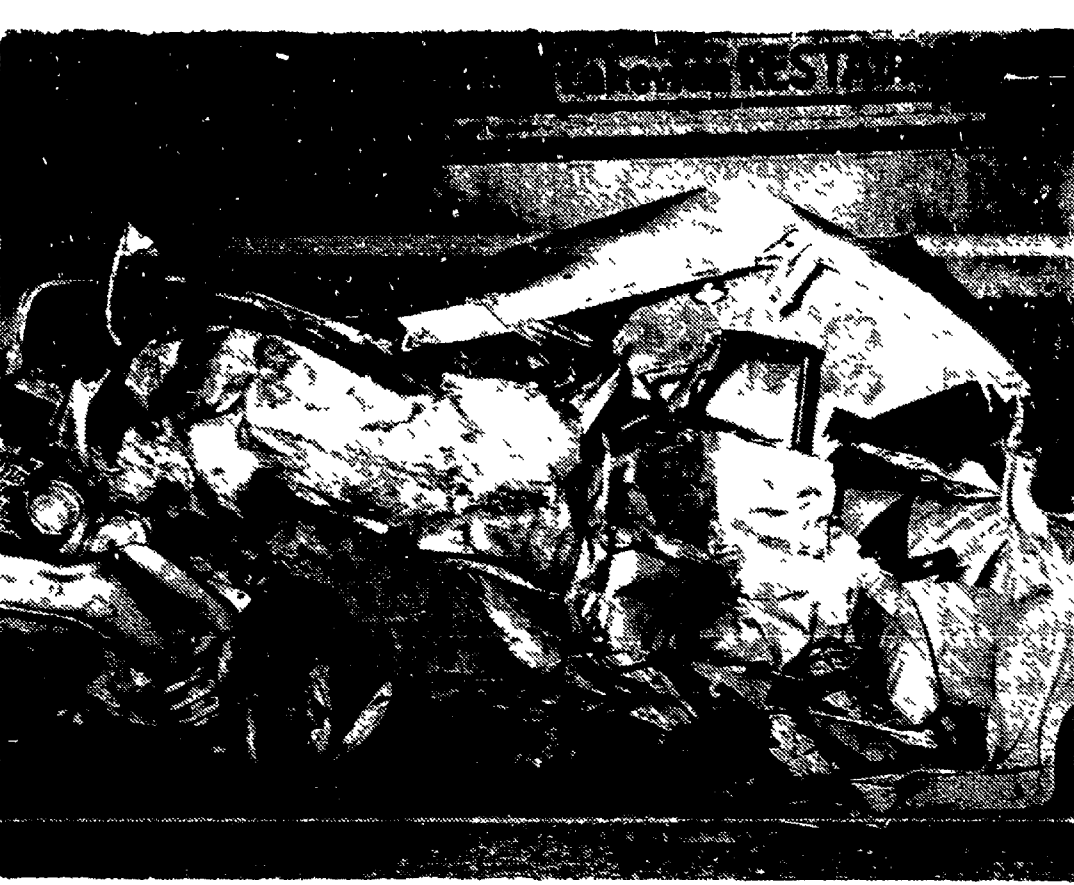

The State Board of Health administers Medicare under Title 18 while Title 19 is handled by the Department of Public Welfare. All county hospitals in the state received blanket approval as extended care facilities or "nursing homes" by the public welfare group under Title 19.

Stiffer Requirements

Dr. Archer said that after Jan. 1 the county hospitals may need other more thorough certification to continue eligibility under Medicare Title 19. "After Jan. 1," Dr. Archer said, "it may very well be that the state Board of Health can no longer categorically say that county hospitals will be extended care facilities."

He said one certain way of assuring Medicare approval is to receive certification from the Joint Commission of Hospital Accreditation (JCHA), of Chicago. The independent organization conducts stringent surveys to determine whether hospitals should be accredited. If they are accepted by the JCHA, Dr. Archer said, Medicare approval is assured.

Outagamie County home has field, pleaded guilty in court to charges of shooting a fawn deer and hunting after hours. On the first charge he paid a $50 fine and on the second $25 fine.

Mrs. Ida Phillips, 60, of Oshkosh, died Wednesday afternoon when her car was involved in a collision with another vehicle on U. S. 10 as Mrs. Phillips pulled out from the parking lot of the Lakeview Restaurant in Fremont, which she owned. (Post-Crescent Photo) applied for the professional accreditation but findings have not been revealed.

Other Programs

Other federal aid programs outlined were:

— Hospital Improvement Project which started three years ago. It makes up to $100,000 a year available for as many as 10 years if county hospitals can prove they are trying to increase patient care through the use of new programs. Money under this plan cannot be spent for construction.

— In-Service Training provides up to $25,000 for a maximum of seven years. Outagamie County has received $10,000 in three years. The money is used to train hospital personnel.

— The Comprehensive Mental Health Center plan is administered by both state agencies. It groups several counties together and is divided into construction and staffing phases. Outagamie County is included in a region with Waupaca, Shawano and Menominee counties. Funds are available for this program but no applications have been made. Dr. Archer said the plan was set up for states which, unlike Wisconsin, may not have mental hospitals in most counties.

Five Appleton Youths 'Mad Painters' Pay $346 to Undo Damage

Five Appleton youths who left their trademark, "The Mad Painters," on benches and the pavilion in City Park in September, Wednesday afternoon were ordered to pay a total of $346 to undo their damage.

The youths, two 14 years old and three 17, were apprehended following investigation by Appleton police.

Four of them appeared Wednesday in Outagamie County Judge Raymond P. Dohr's juvenile court. The fifth, although he was ordered to pay part of the damages, will appear separately. He is under court supervision for a prior offense.

The court was told, during the informal proceedings, that police apprehended the youths, two of them brothers, after first checking out initials spray-painted on the pavilion and on the park benches, and then receiving an anonymous telephone tip concerning the names of the boys involved.

Park Vandalism

Police said not all five boys were involved in the vandalism occurrences at City Park. Two of the 17-year-olds admitted they did most of the damage.

Included in the damages the youths must pay for is painting done on the side of a large truck owned by Ray's Tire Co. The damage was estimated at $46 to the truck.

An investigating detective told the court that most of the spray cans of paint were purchased, but one was shoplifted.

Two boys admitted they used

Tree Sellers Told They Need License

When Christmas tree lots start springing up in Appleton, it prompts City Clerk Elden Broehm to issue the traditional reminder that city ordinances require tree dealers to have a license.

Procurement of a $1 permit from the clerk's office at the city hall does not necessarily void or revise zoning regulations, he said. Trees can only be sold in areas zoned for business or commercial purposes. It also is the dealer's responsibility to remove unsold trees and clean up the lot to satisfy the department of inspection.

Rotary Plans Christmas Party At Clintonville

CLINTONVILLE — The Rotary Club Christmas Party will be at 7 p.m. Dec. 8 at the Veterans Memorial Building. The Christmas program presentation will be given by the Rev. Mrs. Arthur J. Snow, pastor of Christ Congregational Church, United Church of Christ, Clintonville.

The dinner will be served by the American Legion auxiliary. Reservations can be made with Earl Moldenhauer, secretary of the Rotary Club. There will be no regular monthly meeting Dec. 5.

Herbert Krueger, general agent for the Aid Association for Lutherans, Appleton, was the guest speaker Monday at club's luncheon meeting at the Hotel Marson. His topic was "Estate Planning." Vilas Krueger was the program chairman.

New Games Add Fun for the Family

Look to games this Christmas for surprise action and laughter unlimited. The most exhilarating new formats, many of them in plastic, appeal to the whole family. Focused on imaginative concepts, these novel competitions set a record for ingenuity ranging from zany to wildly bizarre.

Consider Twister, a hilarious new game, that has nothing to do with that discotheque dance. Twister is a frenetic game of skill and action, played on a big plastic mat marked off with colored circles. Barefoot players stand on the dots and put hands and feet on the colors called out by the person spinning the dial. The idea is to twist their bodies in as many knots as possible, with the goal to keep one's balance as long as possible.

Bizarre Addition
Blip is another bizarre new

File and a John Drake Spy game. Another unusual approach to competition is the Batman game, which is a combination jigsaw and game.

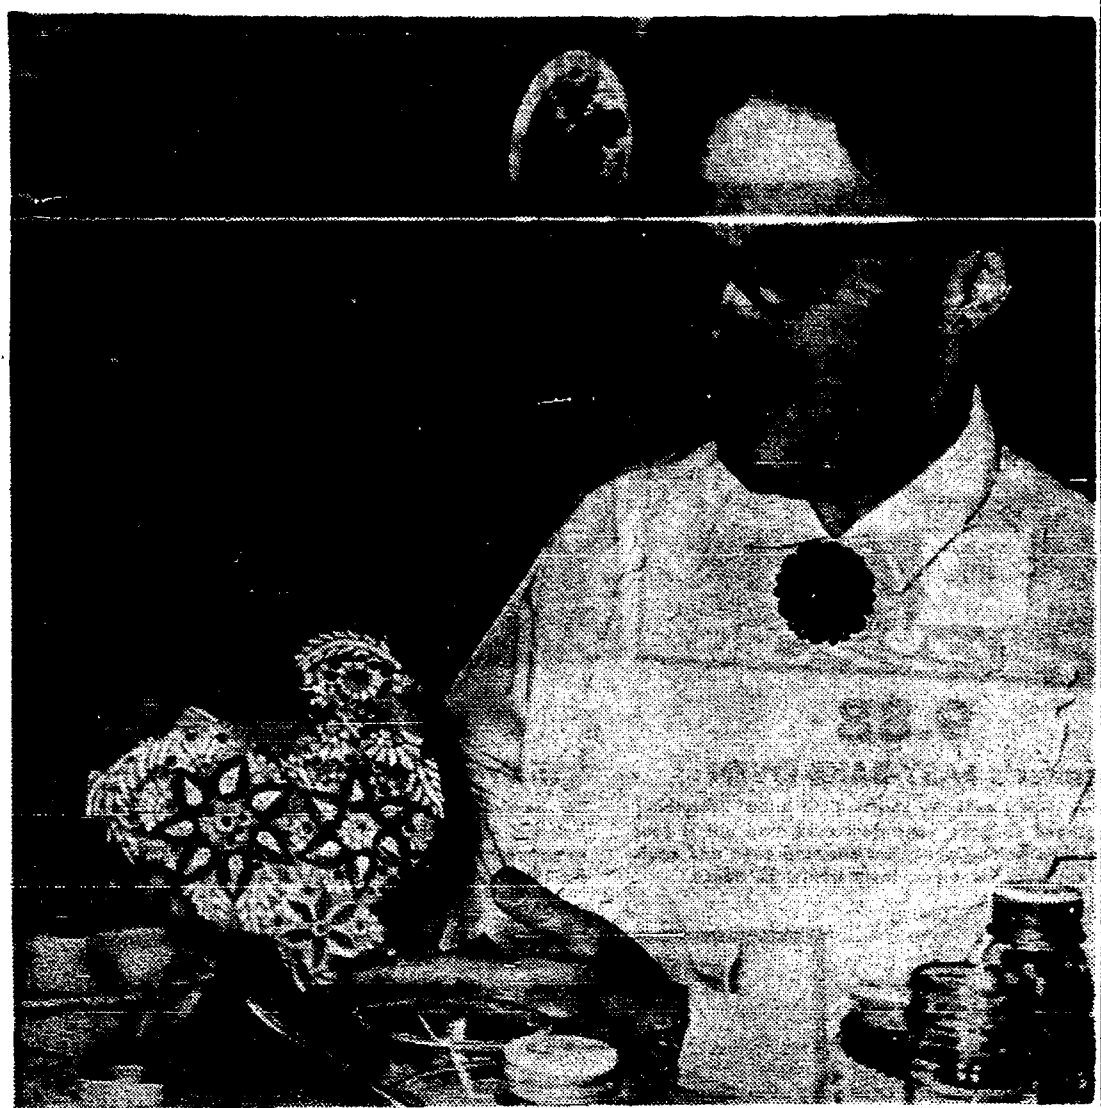

The thrill of manipulating large sums of play money has eternal appeal. The competition with the mostest in thousand dollar bills is Games of Life, where players try to get the lion's share of an assortment of $8 million and be first to win the title of millionaire. The plastic board provides a road through life full of realistic ups and downs.

Time Bomb
Among the bizarre fun makers that maintain high popularity is Time Bomb, a contemporary version of the old favorite, hot potato. The bomb is tossed frantically back and forth. The player holding it when it goes "boom" loses. Operation is another example of far out fun concepts. In this game, every player is a doctor performing comical operations on a plastic patient such as removing a charley horse and writer's cramp. Then there are classic favorites like Uncle Wiggily, the rabbit game, Candy Land and Go To The Head Of Class, which has a quiz question book geared to three age levels.

World Favorite
A world favorite in the strategy game category is Stratego, based on Napoleonic manoeuvres.

Word games are always favorite focus for family fun. Password, for example, which sparks skill with words, as does Match Game, are both modeled after TV game shows. New in this area is Supermarket Sweep. "Children need to relax as much as tired business men," said James J. Shea, president of Milton Bradley, oldest game specialist and a prime innovator. "The development of high impact plastic has made possible the creation of highly imaginative action games that are fun for all the family and keyed to laughter that encourages complete relaxation from the tensions of contemporary life."

Children confronted with challenges at school, as well as their parents enjoy participating in a variety of games appealing to different moods. The varied game library is becoming a staple focus for home recreation in thousands of homes; playing together seems to promote comradeship and understanding between parents and children to a significant degree.

The Finished Product of an artful Christmas cookie decorator is, in this instance, a beautifully decorated rooster. The cookie is an example of those

From 100-Year-Old Recipe

Aroma of Special Christmas Cookies Fills Brillion Home

BY JOAN COENEN
Post-Crescent Correspondent

BRILLION — The spicy aroma of cloves, cinnamon, nutmeg and anise lingers temptingly throughout the Adolph Nelson home, 632 Columbus Ave., as Mrs. Nelson prepares Christmas cookies from a German recipe well over a century old.

The recipe accompanied Mrs. Nelson's grandparents when they came from Posen, Germany (now a part of Poland) and settled at East Bloomfield in Wauwasha County in 1845.

When Mrs. Nelson's mother was a youngster in Germany all the neighbors would bake the cookies and go from house to house for "cookie decorating bees" as a means of socializing. Some of the cookies were eaten and some given as gifts. Families would donate enough cookies to decorate a big Christmas tree at the church.

Many Happy Hours

Mrs. Nelson was born and raised in Weyauwega and happily reminisces about the many hours spent with her parents and brother, Eldor Kopitzke, decorating cookies.

Linda Nelson was married and moved to Brillion in 1940. Her annual Christmas cookie baking begins right after Thanksgiving. The recipe makes about 12 dozen cookies so there are plenty for eating and gift-giving.

Santa's boot, a church, holly, a camel and a rocking horse with wheels are included among the five dozen other Christmas cookie cutters she has. If Mrs. Nelson decides to make a cookie shaped unlike any of her cutters she simply cuts out a cardboard form, places it on the rolled dough on a cookie sheet, draws around it with a darning needle, and presto, the newly formed cookie is all set for the oven!

New Decorating Ideas

She has gathered new ideas for forms this year from a stencil book she recently purchased.

The cookies are decorated with frosting made of an egg white and powdered sugar carefully applied with a tooth pick. The frosting should be beaten smooth. Correct consistency is when the frosting just drips off the end of the tooth pick.

Distressed Writer Complains in India

NEW DELHI (AP) — A New Delhi resident complained to a city newspaper that Indian postal authorities are not keeping up on their world geography. He said a letter addressed to Guayana, in South America, was returned marked "No such place."

In their attempt to deliver the letter, postal authorities had scratched out "Guayana" and sent it to Gohana, in India's Punjab state. It was returned to the writer without having left India.

The dark molasses called for in the recipe is necessary to make the cookies dark enough to show off the white frosting. Food coloring can be used to shade the frosting any desired color.

The ingredient star—anise—is difficult to obtain, but sometimes can be purchased in drug stores, according to Mrs. Nelson. This spice is shaped like a star and has to be ground. Liquid anise can be substituted, if necessary.

"Old-time recipes don't mention a time or temperature for baking," said Mrs. Nelson, "so I bake at about 375 degrees and take the cookies out of the oven when they are just a little brown around the edges."

Mrs. Nelson tops the frosted cookies with colored sugars, silver balls, cinnamon, shiny crystal sugar or colored coconut shreds.

Patience is Necessity

Patience is necessary, admits Mrs. Nelson, but added quickly that it is "so much fun and really a very inexpensive hobby."

The Nelson's sons, John 22, attends Wisconsin State University-Oshkosh, and David, 20, is a student at Dr. Martin Luther College in Minnesota, but their mother vividly recalls the Christmases when they were little boys. "They were always in the kitchen when I was baking. They would eagerly wait until a pan of cookies got too dark in the oven. Those would be theirs, and they knew it," Mrs. Nelson related. "The boys would pile the over-baked cookies with as much frosting and sugar as possible and then gobble them up," she said.

Not many area Christmas trees will be partially decorated with cookies this year, but the tree at the Adolph Nelson home will be.

MRS. ADOLPH NELSON'S CHRISTMAS COOKIE RECIPE

1½ cups sugar
1½ cups dark molasses
1½ cups shortening
Let come to a boil and cool, then add:

4 tsp. star anise
1 tsp. cloves
1 tsp. cinnamon
½ tsp. nutmeg
2 tsp. soda in
1 cup hot water

Salt, flour to make a stiff dough (about 8 cups). Dough does not need to be refrigerated.

Roll dough. Cut with cutters to desired shapes.

Encyclopedia, A Proven Gift For the Family

Editors Recommend Criteria to Follow
During Selection

Observers of the American scene have described our times variously as the "age of obsolescence" or the "age of disposables."

And, a cursory look might give some substance to that conclusion. After all, we do change our automobiles pretty frequently, and disposable napkins, towels, and tissues are commonplace in almost every home. Fashions, it seems, change almost daily.

Bug along with the "age of obsolescence" or the "age of disposables," we also find ourselves in the midst of the greatest demand for knowledge of any time in history. Everyone has to know more these days to keep progressing — especially students in the nation's schools.

Gift of Knowledge

That's why educational experts recommend the gift of knowledge as an all-family gift for Christmas — a modern, easy-to-read encyclopedia, prepared for the full range of school years and adult use, as well.

Encyclopedias today are a "permanent" gift, because most of them are kept current by the publication of annual yearbooks, reporting the significant events of each year to add to the basic information available in the original set of volumes.

Editors of the encyclopedia recommend these criteria in selecting a set that will best meet the student's needs, and those of his parents:

Easily Understood

— The vocabulary should be easily understood, difficult pronunciations clarified, and the writing clear and direct.

— Pictures should be plentiful, with many of them in color, and the set should offer clear charts, diagrams and maps.

— The set must be accurate, up to date in facts and unbiased in choice and presentation of material.

Clearly Printed

Volumes should conveniently be organized, clearly printed on good paper, durably bound, and easy to handle.

— Articles should be prepared by recognized teaching authorities, with the material adjusted to the needs and interests of the student.

The content of the encyclopedia should have a close relationship to the school curriculum, but also should include material beyond the immediate needs of school work.

Contain Suggestions

— It should contain study and suggestions for additional reading, and material to aid parental understanding of student educational problems.

Most of all, the encyclopedia should stimulate a lifelong appetite for knowledge by the young reader, and refresh the adult's interest in the world around them, as well. Knowledge never goes out of style.

Early Shopping Rule Fits Staples

Do your Christmas shopping early — even for the everyday staples like household cleaning supplies.

Remember there's more cleaning to be done at this time of year and less time to do it — so keep your equipment simple and easy to use.

Add extra cellulose sponges, including a long handled one, and several bottles of general purpose pine cleaner disinfectant to your cleaning stores.

Leader of Sikhs Calls For End to Problems

BOMBAY, India (AP) — Sant Fateh Singh, a leader of India's bearded Sikhs, called on the Indian government to solve its border problems with Pakistan and Communist China.

Singh said India can not afford the tremendous cost of defense preparedness and added:

"It is ridiculous to see these countries fighting each other when they still have a long way to go in providing the minimum necessities of life to the teeming millions."

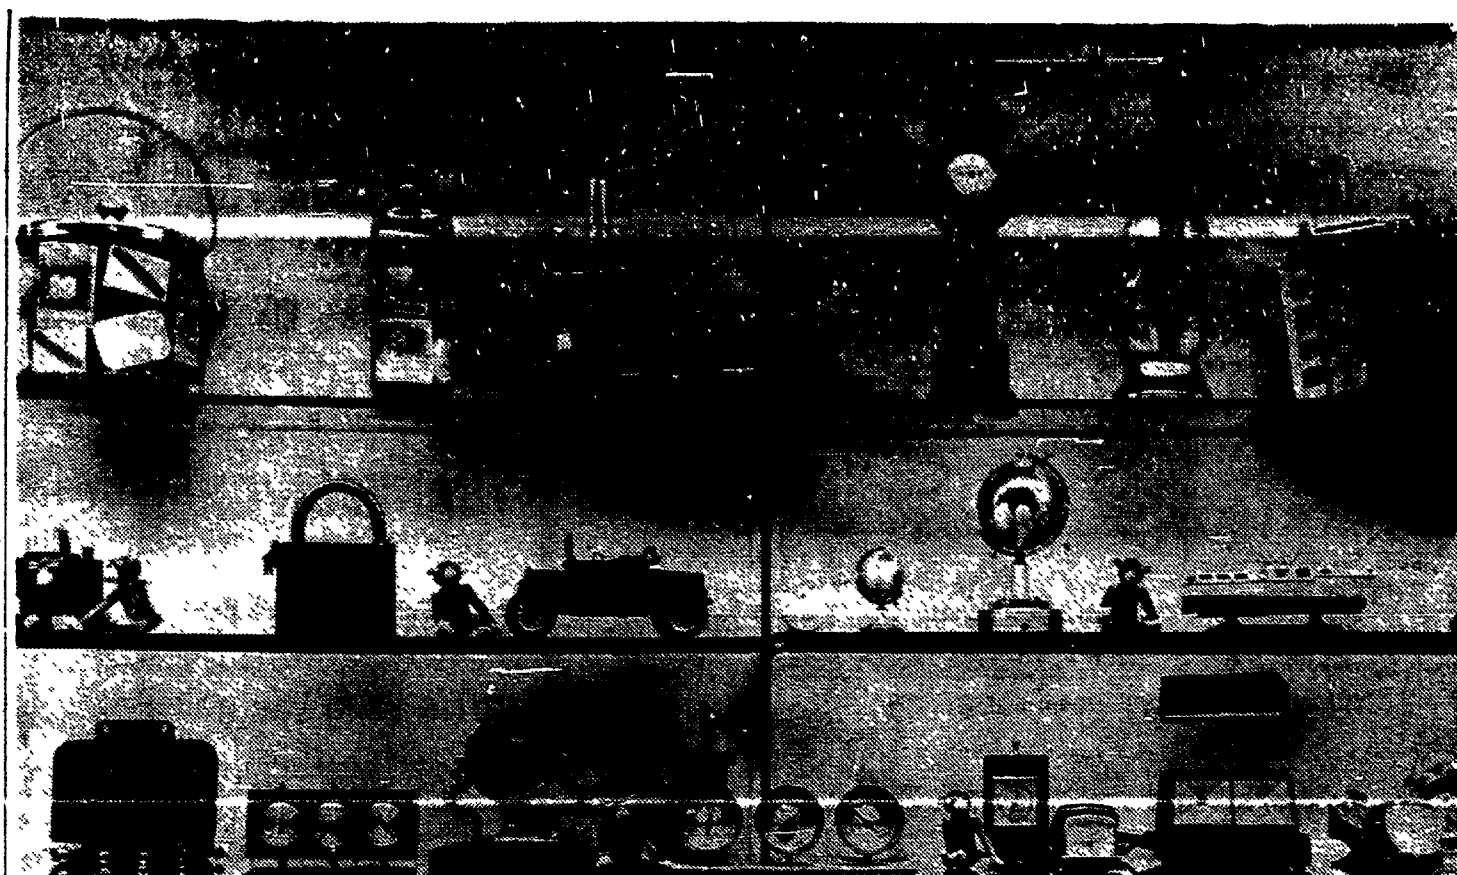

Even Santa's Whiskers Should be Fireproof

In decorating your home, use non-combustible or flameproof materials. If someone's playing the role of Santa Claus for the benefit of the children, be sure his "whiskers" are flameproof.

If You Think You'd Like it yourself, someone else probably would too, as a Christmas gift. It's fun to find out if your barometer checks with the newspaper report. It's handy to flip the globe as you trace the plane

Realistic Play

New Games Cater to Knowledgeable Fans

Millions of Americans are joining the ranks of sports enthusiasts who are knowledgeable about big league strategy. Catering to their interests are an ingenious new crop of sports oriented games which devise highly realistic ways to reproduce the most intricate plays of football, baseball, basketball and hockey at home.

Play Football

The National Football League sponsors an electric football game that will be a special delight to Monday morning quarterbacks. A new selectomatic quarterback device triggers pro action in an exceptionally realistic way. A series of levers make it impossible to operate both the defensive and offensive plays.

One of the significant advances in big-game realism this year is provided by a basketball game developed by a former pro leaguer hoopster. This novel competition is designed to enable players to twist and turn as they dart all over the court in a most realistic manner.

Adenauer Backs Kiesinger in Note To Jewish Leader

BONN, Germany (AP)—Former Chancellor Konrad Adenauer this week sent a cablegram to Malcolm A. Tarlov of Norwalk, Conn., president of American Jewish War Veterans, expressing support for Kurt Georg Kiesinger, the Christian Democratic party's candidate for chancellor.

Kiesinger has been criticized by Jewish organizations in the United States because of his Nazi past.

"I have known Dr. Kiesinger for many years as a true democrat who did not make himself guilty of anything during the Nazi regime," Adenauer said.

Husband's Romantic Gifts Fashionable this Year

Husbands with romantic ideas about gift buying for Christmas will find the fashions this year support their fondest dreams.

In seasons past, conservative-minded wives have tended to look askance at long, flowing at-home wear. In elegant turn-about, women are baring their knees by day and covering their ankles after five in the most romantic wrap-up of all this Christmas.

On the home front, the ladies have decided it's high time they played as dramatic a role as any star on stage. Most of the new lounge wear, no matter how filmy it may look, can be put in the washing machine, so there's no extra care price on home-scene glamour.

Reveal Personality
Designers who have master-minded a large and handsome collection of holiday season coverups, say husbands will be revealing facets of their own personality by the styles they select.

The man who fancies his wife in an empire robe may yearn for luxury, simplicity and ease of the Napoleonic era. If his eye falls on a velvet coachman coat with glittering buttons, he's probably spent at least a moment or two in his life dreaming about the stately life of an English lord. If he wraps up a full-length robe with flowing back, he may have a secret desire to visit Camelot and chat with Guinevere.

In keeping with the richness of these private life fashions are the soft, quilted fabrics, and the vivid colors which include violet, cherry, avocado, marigold, ruby red, and gold along with basic blue, turquoise and pink. Even linings are a color delight, with surprising contrast of violet outside and deb blue inside, or avocado and pink.

Gowns are Long
Gowns come long, supple, and flowing to match these robes, an old-fashioned touch that never looked more up-to-date. Doing away with the must-be-heavy-to-be-warm idea, designers combine layers of nylon tricot for warmth with a light, almost floating look.

Why are women baring all during the day, and covering all in the evening? Designers say it's the romantic side revolting against the excessive trimness of the daytime look. A woman's palace is her home, and in it she still likes to play the queen with grace and ease in something long and flowing.

Gentlemen, if you can't put a castle under your tree wrap up the queenly robes!

Select Right Toys

Give the Pre-Schooler Fun-Tools for Learning

For parents, grandparents, not just at Christmas, but all year round, is simplified when parents realize that a pre-schooler's toys are his tools for learning and discovering, not just idle amusements. To aid parents — and other family

Santas — in making the right decisions in this important area, research suggests several guides to toy selection.

Toys Correct
Toys should be correct for the child's particular stage of development. They should match his state of physical and mental growth — not just his calendar age. Toys should challenge — but not frustrate — his growing skills.

The pre-school child's toy should be well-constructed, and wooden toys should be close-grained, with rounded corners and sanded surfaces to prevent splinters. All removable parts should be oversized — too large to be swallowed. Make certain that paint on the toys is non-toxic, safe for the youngster who "tastes" everything. Youngsters give toys a rough workout, so playtools should be sturdy enough to withstand pre-school energy.

Listed Don'ts
Research consultants suggest this list of don'ts if you're shopping for Christmas toys for pre-schoolers:

Don't run out to the toy stores in search of the "latest gimmicks." They usually hold only fleeting interest for the child, and then wind up broken or on his toy shelf — permanently.

Don't buy toys just because they are "perfect miniatures" of the adult world. Remember that young children love to use their imagination with a toy and bring it into their world of make-believe.

Buy Manual
Don't buy electrical toys for young pre-schoolers. He prefers to "make the toy work" by himself — and it's safer, too.

Don't put all your Christmas toys in one stocking! Spread your toy budget throughout the year. Children's interests and skills change and develop quickly, and they love having

Clothes—New Ones—that's what big and little—single and married—girls like for Christmas. Winter white, whatever the style, is always smart, and you'll be proud to have her on your arm as you make the Christmas tree admiration trek to your neighbors and friends. If you go informal, she'll be happy with an elegant sweater, like a soft slip-over, or surprise her with an attractive blouse. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Yule Shopping Started By Conservative Romans

When you do your Christmas shopping, you can thank the ancient Romans — the conservative ones who raised their eyebrows at orgies for starting the whole thing.

"While the Roman equivalent of the jet set marked winter with wild revelry, their more conservative neighbors exchanged gifts and greetings instead — and invented Christmas shopping, although they didn't know it at the time. When Christianity came to Rome and eventually spread through Europe, everybody kept right on exchanging gifts, but now the gifts became Christmas presents," explains an expert on Christmas customs named — logically — Ted Winter.

Winter became an expert on the way Christmas is celebrated not really because of his name but because as president of the Regensteiner Corp., a printing company, he is deeply involved in Christmas. Regensteiner prints millions of Christmas cards for the country's greeting card industry.

"Christmas" several times a year.

Don't buy toys because they appeal to you. Think of the child's interests and needs first.

With the proper selection of the "right toys for every age," parents can help a child become an adult for whom learning will always be fun.

Newcomers
"The Christmas card is a comparative newcomer as Yuletide traditions go. It dates back only to 1843," Winter notes. "But some other Christmas customs go all the way back to antiquity."

The Romans were not the only ones who had a hand in shaping Christmas customs before anyone knew there was going to be such a thing as Christmas. Some of the festive traditions which became Christmas celebrations emerged from early pagan rites of the Teutons, Franks and Saxons, who kindled great bonfires in the wilderness of Europe.

The Druids in England staged ceremonies in which blazing torches were carried and mistletoe and holly were used as garlands. They also cut down and decorated tremendous evergreens, which became our Christmas tree custom.

"All of these customs seem to have been transported to America," says Winter, "the Christmas tree, holly wreaths, gifts and the exchange of greetings."

3 Billion Cards
This year Americans will send out some three billion Christmas cards, 5 per cent more than last year, and an average of 64 cards for the typical family of four.

But as recently as 120 years ago — a split-second as traditions are counted — there was no such thing as a Christmas card.

The first Christmas card was sent out in London back in 1843 by Sir Henry Cole. "It was quite an elaborate affair," says Winter, "designed by an outstanding artist of the day, J.C. Horsley, showing a happy British family at a festive Yule table."

The words to the best-known carol, "Silent Night," were written 28 years earlier by an Austrian priest, Father Josef Mohr, and the music is said to have been written by his church organist, Franz Gruber, in one hour. The organist's wife, deeply moved by this hymn, has been quoted as saying: "We will die — you and I — but this song will live."

Winter also found out that a lot of things besides Christmas have happened on Christmas Dec. 25 has been a big date in world history, too.

For example, on Christmas day in the year 800, Charlemagne, who has been credited with saving Christendom from the Moslems, was crowned the new Roman Emperor by Pope Leo, thus marking the birth of the Holy Roman Empire.

And, on Christmas day, 1214, King John of England signed the historic Magna Charta which served as the inspiration for the Constitution of the

New Poinsettia Varieties

The Christmas flower — poinsettia — has been undergoing a big change in recent years. New varieties are appearing among them Paul Mikkelsen, which holds up longer than the older kinds. This poinsettia is a cross between a red seedling and a white variety which has long been known to retain its freshness better than the reds.

Church Finally Built; Now to Pay for It

GUILDFORD, England (AP) — Guildford Cathedral, whose foundation stone was laid in 1936, has now been completed — 30 years later. Although the building is finished, about 100,000 pounds (280,000 dollars) is still needed to pay off debts and loans. The Rt. Rev. George Clarkson, Anglican Bishop of Guildford, hopes that "if people keep their promises" all should be clear of debt by the end of next year.

But growing conditions have also improved. There is no longer a headache for the grower to bring them into bloom at the proper time. Growers have learned that the plants must have 11 hours of complete darkness daily starting in October to bloom on schedule.

Most growers use a sterile potting mixture which prevents disease and also lessens the danger of over watering. Like other plants it will not tolerate wet soggy soil.

New Cleaner Gives Relief From Drudgery

Electrostatic Device Traps Dust, Dirt, Pollen in Household

Ask the average homemaker what gift she would like most for Christmas and chances are she might reply: "A permanent maid."

Not a maid, but the next best thing to one — a device that lessens household drudgery. The unit, an electrostatic air cleaner, miraculously traps up to 95 per cent of airborne dirt, dust and pollen in the home.

Consider the far-reaching implications of the air cleaner: near elimination of tedious dusting of books, bookshelves, picture frame, and boat models; far less vacuuming of draperies, fabric-covered walls, and lampshades; less curtain-and-window washing; longer life for upholstery and fabric furnishings.

More Free Time

Best of all, the precious time devoted to drudgery is now freed for the homemaker's own personal use—whether it be other more important tasks, or just a chance to relax quietly.

With the new air cleaner in operation, nearly all the airborne dust which usually coats the tables, chairs and molding is removed before it has a chance to settle. Even particles of smoke, soot, and kitchen grease are filtered out. Air is also refreshingly free of pollen and dust particles which aggravate hay fever and allergy sufferers. The cleaner air will lower redecorating costs, simply because furnishings will look better longer.

Filter Pad

Although the idea of electrostatic air cleaning is not new, the gift has a new feature. The dust is trapped by a low-cost filter pad, which is almost as easy to change as a vacuum cleaner bag. Furthermore, an automatic signal on the unit indicates when the filter pad should be changed. Resembling an oversized paper tissue, this pad, made of fine fiberglass, can be tossed out and a new one inserted.

The electrostatic air cleaner is a trim, flat little box affair that may be attached to the forced warm-air furnace. If you have central air conditioning or a heat pump, it may also be attached to these units.

Sunglasses Are Smart for Men All Year 'Round

Sunglasses are for summer, right? Wrong! Sunglasses have become such a popular fashion accessory that they are being worn all year long.

For the man who likes the way he looks in sunglasses, the perfect gift is a pair of winter "shades" shown in the stores. New sunglasses were made this year with the fashion-conscious man in mind. They will make him look as debonair as he did in his regular sunglasses, but have lenses that are only lightly tinted, for wear during the darker months of the year. The fun of wearing these glasses is that although the eyes are not hidden from view, the wearer still has the feeling of wearing sunglasses as he looks out on a pleasantly tinted world.

Spiritual Solace Given By 'Dial-a-Prayer' In Sydney, Australia

SYDNEY (AP) — Since its inception in 1961, Sydney's "dial-a-prayer" service has provided spiritual solace to nearly 1,350,000 telephone callers.

The service, originated in Sydney by the Seventh Day Adventist Church has now spread to all States of Australia, New Zealand, England and Europe.

The prayers are pre-recorded and changed every day. They are distributed by five telephone lines connected to a suburban home.

For some reason unknown to church spokesmen, telephone callers have made most use of the service in May each year.

Golfer Finds Lucky Links Combination

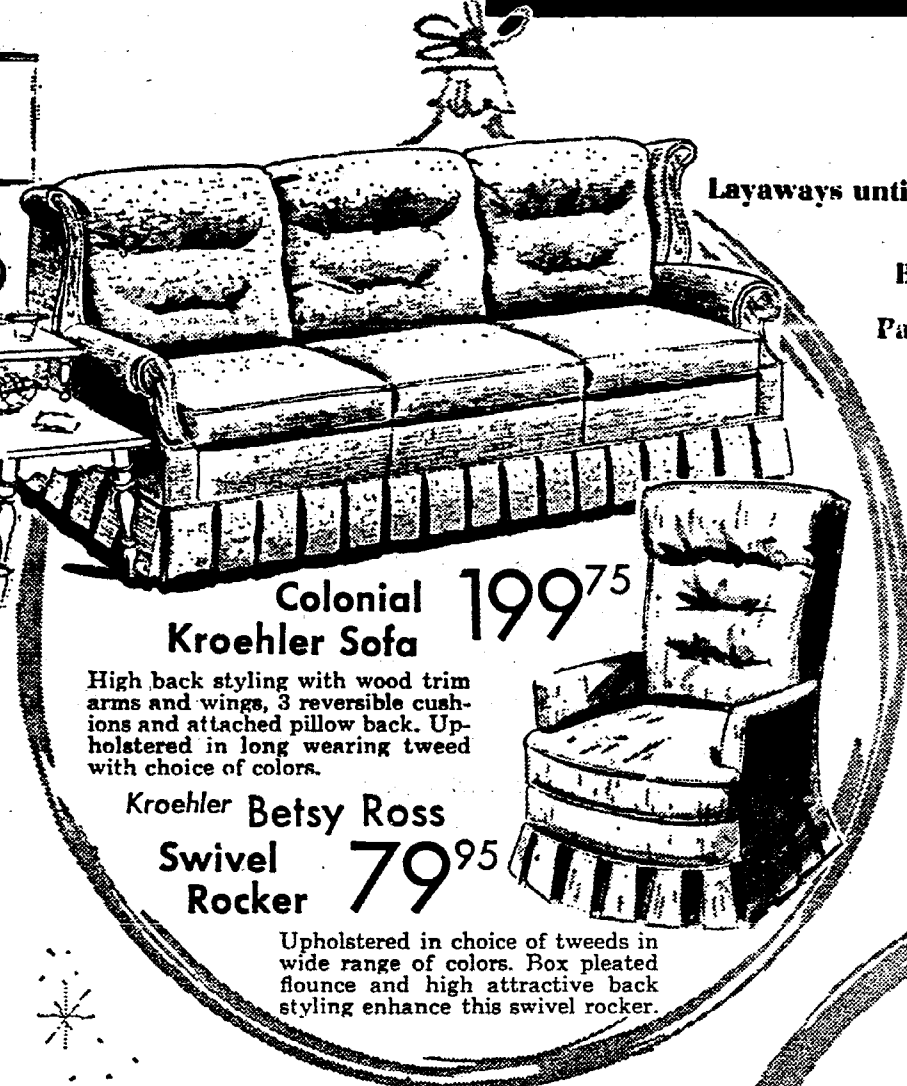

LONDON, Ky. (AP)— It's easy to understand why attorney Boyd Taylor prefers Eddie Curry as a golfing partner.

Twice while they have been playing together, Taylor has scored a hole-in-one.

A Festive Christmas Starts in the Kitchen

A festive Christmas starts in the kitchen. Before the tree is up or presents wrapped, mom is as busy as Santa cooking Christmas treats.

One of the best helpers she can have at such a hectic time is a large - capacity, no - frost refrigerator-freezer. She can start preparing food well in advance and store everything from cranberry relish to mince pie in the freezer compartment. When the big day arrives, or holiday guests drop in, all she needs to do is defrost the food and heat it. It will be as fresh and tasty as the day she made it.

If the lady of your house doesn't yet have a modern no-frost refrigerator-freezer, don't let her wait another year. Get her one this Christmas, and have it delivered before the holidays.

Today's models are stylish, streamlined and chock-full of conveniences. New thin-wall insulation lets you fit even jumbo capacity a 19-22 cubic foot model in the space formerly occupied by thick-walled, smaller-capacity older models. Some manufacturers are now showing side-by-side models with full-length vertical refrigerator and freezer compartments, some are also handy top or bottom freezer compartments, some with roll-out drawers which put frozen food at your fingertips. Most models come in festive colors as well as white, and many have interesting wood-grained or textured finishes.

One of the biggest conveniences available in new models is the no-frost feature. Since frost cannot build up in either the refrigerator or freezer compartments, there's never a need for messy, time-consuming defrosting. Mom will thank you for this gift all year long.

New Conveniences

Wider door shelves in new models now hold half-gallon bottles and containers, and most refrigerator shelves are adjustable or cantilevered so you can easily store gallon jugs and platters or bowls of food. Automatic ice makers, available with most models, give you a continuous supply of cubes which is especially handy for the holidays.

With more precise temperature controls, food keeps fresher longer. Milk and other dairy products store for a week without flavor loss, and a special meat chest in some models keeps unfrozen meat fresh for up to seven days. There are also crisper drawers for fruit, vegetables, and butter and cheese keepers which protect their consistency and taste.

The extra food supplies needed during the happy-eating holiday season require a miniature at-home supermarket - a large-capacity refrigerator-freezer serves this purpose. With staples on hand, and specialties safely stored in the freezer compartment, mom can take time out for last-minute gift shopping, to help decorate the tree, or join the festivities with her family and friends.

Without modern kitchen appliances, the Christmas season may be about as welcome to mom as it was to Scrooge. But the gift of a new no-frost refrigerator - freezer can change humbug to happy day not just at Christmas, but all through the year.

Freshen Up Linens for That Holiday Dinner

If you're hostess to a big Christmas dinner, inspect your company-best linens in plenty of time for the holiday. Tablecloths and napkins may need freshening up - just dunk them in hot, soapy water, spiked with a few tablespoons of pine cleaner. Rinse the linens, iron them, wrap them up.

Ideal Yule Gift Bible Or Religious Jewelry

With Christmas a season of deep religious meaning, there is no more important gift at this time of year than fine religious jewelry or a handsome Bible. Your jeweler is an excellent source for the finest tokens of faith and warmth, and is ready with many timely suggestions.

Incidentally, an amazing 91 per cent of the wealth of the $500,000, plus families with a head under the age of 35 is in the miscellaneous form. These are the rare rich kids with the trust funds.

Of course, these percentages can only be judged against the total wealth concerned. A family with wealth of $5,000 which has 59 per cent in its home has $2,950 invested. A family with wealth amounting to $500,000 which has 4 per cent in its home or homes has at least $20,000 invested.

U. S. Studying Putting Troops In Delta Region

South Vietnamese Command Shakeup Causes Speculation

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — No decision has been made to move American combat forces into Viet Nam's fertile, heavily populated Mekong River delta, a high U.S. military official said Wednesday.

He said there are "contingency plans" for such movement and the action will be taken if it is decided U.S. troops are needed and if the manpower is available.

There have been widespread reports in recent weeks that American troops soon will be moved into the delta area, the only portion of Viet Nam where U.S. soldiers are not carrying on a major share of the fighting. The Vietnamese commander of the 4th Corps Area, of which the delta is part, was transferred last week, reviving speculation that the way was being prepared for the introduction of American forces.

Difference of Opinion
The American official said there was no reluctance on the part of the Vietnamese government to having U.S. troops into the delta, but he noted there had been differences of opinion in Washington and Saigon on the wisdom of such a move.

Some quarters feel the delta should be left to the Vietnamese for the prestige and so that they would be fighting their own war. It also is feared that a stepup in major operations in the delta might result in high civilian casualties because more than half of South Viet Nam's 15 million people live there. Questions also have been raised about the reaction of the population to the presence of large numbers of American troops.

The U.S. official said, however, the largest enemy guerrilla force in the country is concentrated in the delta and there recently has been an increase in attacks on isolated outposts and towns. American ground forces have carried out operations on the fringes of the delta and there are U.S. advisers and helicopter units stationed there. South Viet Nam has three divisions stationed in the delta.

Instead, a giant 50 per cent of their wealth is in such investments as stocks, bonds (particularly tax-exempt state and local bonds), other publicly-traded securities, real estate. Another 23 per cent is in their own businesses and professions. And a fat 18 per cent is in the "miscellaneous" category, covering such sophisticated resources as oil royalties, commodity contracts, patents and most important, their trust funds. While the Federal Reserve Board does not trace their holdings of art, antiques, precious metals, etc., they obviously hold huge amounts in these, too.

GI Killed by Viet Cong Left $30,000 to 2 Army Buddies

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A young, wealthy GI killed in Viet Nam left part of his $100,000-plus inheritance to two fellow soldiers because he felt they needed it.
Edward M. McIlvain Jr., 21, an Army Special Forces trooper, left $15,000 each to two buddies who had served with him at Ft. Bragg, N.C.
McIlvain, member of a socially prominent family, was killed by shrapnel while riding in a Jeep in Viet Nam last Oct. 18.
"We don't know anything about his two soldier friends," said the two GIs have been told of the bequests.

McIlvain lived in Wynnewood, Pa., a fashionable Philadelphia suburb.
The youth enlisted in October, 1964 and went to Viet Nam last April.

Christmas Toy Market Keeps Valley Merchants Guessing

BY ROGER PITT
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

The annual guessing game on what the hot selling toy items will be this Christmas shopping season is on.

And a bad guess can be costly to the store — either in overstocking or loss of customer good will because items are "sold out."

Merchants agree that the biggest gamble of all is in the toy market, where continuous changes in the "in" market by major distributors keep store owners guessing.

Last year's most wanted toys are collecting dust this year. Only a few hot items survive and remain in demand for any length of time.

The biggest influence on what toys sell is national advertising over television by toy manufacturers.

Brief Popularity
Games being pushed by major concerns are in great demand for a short time but their popularity usually is short lived. Most games have a large number of pieces which are easily lost, merchants say.

Games are always in demand as Christmas gifts, according to Valley merchants. Top games this year carry such unusual names as Hoop-La, Bash, Ka-Boom and Slap Hand. The old stand-bys Monopoly and checkers have a steady market, but are not in demand as much as the raft of new entries in the game market.

National advertising actually has an adverse effect on some merchants. The demand is so great small stores simply are unable to stock the toys being promoted.

Promotion Changes
One merchant said, "If we could get a train load of a certain toy when the advertising for the Eastern States begins, we could sell them easily. However, by the time we get them here the push is for a new toy."

Action toys will continue as big items this year, according to area merchants. Dolls that can do most everything are right with the youngsters. Biggest demand will be for talking dolls who move their lips, one merchant said. Another agreed that an action doll, this life of a Christian missionary or one walks and roller skates would be the best selling item for young girls.

Another major item in the doll line will be one which is adaptable to a number of television and comic characters by changing costumes.

Racers Popular
A miniature kitchen and other household items will be "in" with the younger set.

Electric slot or track racers will be a hot item again, merchants believe, and they have stocked their shelves with an abundance of cross country and torture track layouts. A new item, some merchants believe, will be the slot racers which are usually fashioned from do-it-yourself kits.

The sophistication of the American youngster may sum up the development of toys in recent years. Examples, guns that produce startling effects; life-like dolls; workable trucks, cars and planes, and handicraft toys.

"Thing Makers" Popular

Expectant Nannies On Way to Bangalore; Bought in Wisconsin

NEW YORK (AP) — Accompanied by six goats, Father Joanas Thaliath, rector of Dharmaram College in Bangalore, India, flew back to that country to start up a herd among neighboring poor families.

He bought the six nannies in North Prairie, Wis., pointing out that a single American-bred goat can yield 1,200 to 4,000 pounds of milk a year, compared to 400 pounds from an Indian cow. He chose only nannies that were on the verge of having kids, since the expected offspring could travel without paying air fare.

Holiday Favorites

Gifts of Living Plants Add to Christmas Cheer

Gifts of living plants add to the Christmas cheer of any household.

The traditional holiday favorite, of course, is the stately, luxurious poinsettia. Pairs of these lovely plants, with red and white flowers, make a happy holiday combination. Kept out of drafts, in temperatures between 60 and 75 degrees, and given filtered sunlight, they will bloom throughout the holidays. It's important too, that the plants be in red clay pots that will drain off excess moisture from over-watering.

Has Dignity
Another plant rapidly growing in popularity for Christmas giving is the Norfolk island pine. This symmetrical pine has a dignity uncommon to pines and does well as a house plant attaining a height of about three feet. It is unique in that it is the only pine that will do well indoors if given partial sunlight, a cool location and is moderately watered.

If you choose to give a live Christmas tree such as spruce, pine or hemlock, the little tree should be balled and burlaped. In addition, you can help these trees survive the hot, dry air of today's homes if you keep your selection down to the size that will fit in a large 14 or 16-inch clay pot. With a half-inch of pebbles in a matching red clay saucer, you can water the pebble layer through the holidays and be sure that the plant will remain relatively cool and have adequate moisture.

Podocarpus is another plant worth consideration as a Christmas gift. It's a yew-like evergreen shrub that grows slowly, but can grow to five feet or higher.

Such foliage plants as the "Star of Bethlehem" hanging vine; the lush, green jade or prayer plant (Maranta) and syngonium (green gold) are always welcomed holiday additions to any house plant collection.

Other popular plant gifts plentiful at holiday time include the Christmas cactus, the Christmas begonia, Jerusalem cherry combination plants, specially grown for the season, peperomias and succulents.

A number of year-round flowering plants can supplement your traditional gift of poinsettias. Most popular favorites include clay-potted chrysanthemums, miniature roses, azaleas, African violets or perhaps a lovely cyclamen or anthurium plant.

Collectors Would be Delighted, and non-collectors might be inspired to start, if they received a Christmas gift of one of these lovely cups. Matching sets are elegant, but beauty doesn't need to conform and coffee, tea, cocoa and hot chocolate become conversation starters served in cups like these. (Post-Crescent Photo)

One Million Bikes Expected To End Up Under Yule Tree

If Santa thought his sleigh was full of bicycles in years past, he's got more problems riding for fun, recreation, fitness and good health. Bicycle popularity has risen markedly in recent years. As Americans have become more fitness conscious, and more aware of the beauty and pleasure to be found in outdoor recreation, increasing numbers of them have found the bike the ideal vehicle for pleasant, healthful outdoor activity.

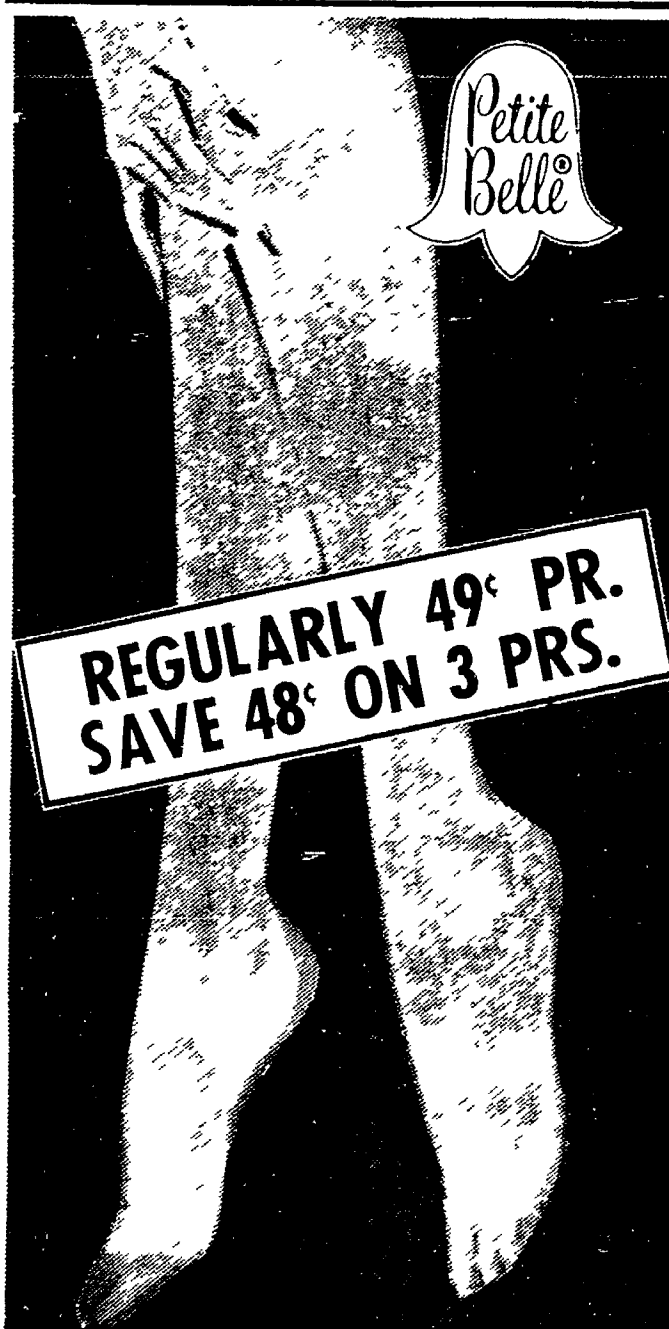

The fact that some bikes now come in spacesaving, new styles should please Santa, as well as year. The Bicycle Institute recently revealed that nearly one-fourth of all new bikes were being snapped up by adults from a youngster's bike to an adult's with a simple turn of the wrench. There continues to be nothing like a bike, and Santa knows it.

The Tent is About the swingiest style to breeze onto the dance scene for a long time. The one above is rayon georgette, trimmed at the neckline with a band of self-rosettes.

Dressing Up the Party Scene

Parties turn a glow on the Fox Cities early, and keep the scene lighted for several weeks. From the first dance club events in November to the Charity and Silver Tinsel Balls Dec. 17 and right on to Christmas and New Year's Eve, women need a variety of dance and party gowns that will assure that 'just right' fashion sense.

In our time of individualized fashion sense, no one style of party gown is the only right one. Women who prefer the elegance of floor length dance dresses will find plenty of company. And those who want them short will not be lacking elegance, for jewel trims lend enchantment to even the simplest lines. Also adding that special aura to holiday fashions are fur, lace and chiffon.

There are many ways to dance through the season. The dancer can set her own pace.

No Matter How Plain, there's a touch of the sumptuous in a party dress that focuses on jewel trim. The one above, available in green, orange or black, has gold jeweled borders at neckline and sleeves.

The Cage Is a Young and pretty style for those planning to attend the Dec. 23 Spinsters Spree, sponsored by the Little Women's Circle of The King's Daughters. This one at left, above, is nylon lace with medallion edging at hem, sleeves and neckline. Above right is the holiday suit to wear for cocktail parties and company dinners. The cuffs are long-haired lamb, with the suit speaking the good taste of simplicity.

Sheets Convert To Tablecloths

Planning to have all the family at your house this Christmas?

To make the dinner table setting especially decorative without breaking the budget, use a colorful sheet for a tablecloth.

For a big table, a vivid solid-color or patterned sheet is an ideal cover. No need to worry about spills. Even colored sheets are machine-washable.

You might use a festive-looking green and white striped sheet. Trim the edges with green cotton ball fringe, just basting in place.

Coordinated solid green pillowcases can be used to stitch up napkins.

Quilted Fabric 'Shapes' Adorn Christmas Tree

For a Christmas tree with an Early American air, make quilted fabric tree ornaments of cotton calico and gingham.

First, cut out desired ornament shapes from cardboard. Circles, pointed ovals, or any geometric shape will do, so long as it's fairly simple.

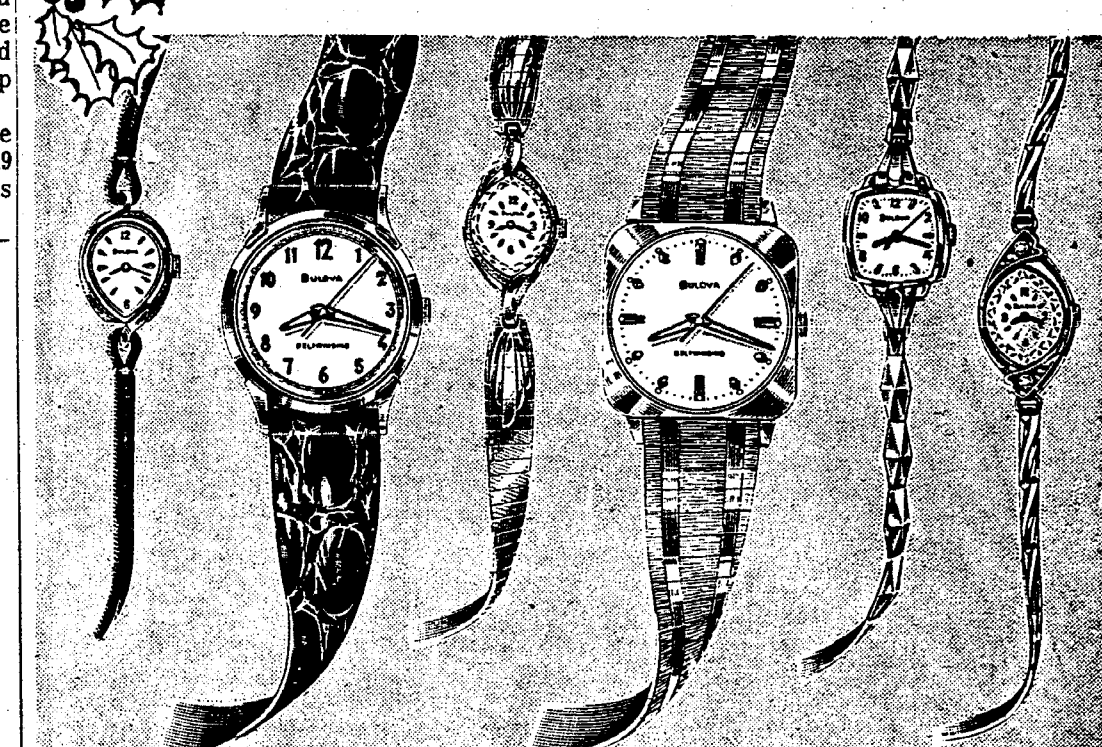

Using the cardboard pattern as a guide, cut out two or three layers of cotton batting for padding.

Cover with scraps of calico or red and white gingham cut to same pattern with one-fourth inch seam allowance.

Place the batting between two fabric pieces, and machine-stitch around the edges. Cut away seam close to stitch line. Quilt in diagonal lines across the padded ornament. Sew on gold curtain rings for hanging.

Wrappings for a Glamour Gift

A Bow-Tied Ranch Mink collar on a controlled cone coat is one of the season's pets. The new ribbed coating fabric was woven in Paris of mohair and wool. At right, in the mood of today, is a fabric coat for all seasons. It is not a fake fur and doesn't represent any known fur-bearing animal. The mohair and wool fabric, in black, deep brown or white, is patterned in chimerical designs inspired by fantasy animals.

A gift for many seasons and many years to come is the coat trimmed with or entirely of fur. From mink to fox to leopard to rabbit, whether wrapping totally or hugging neckline and cuffs, fur makes a coat 'special'. Not only does it mean warmth against the cold Wisconsin winter, but the kind of luxury that makes a woman smile in the face of a bitter wind.

High in favor this year are the elegant wool and mohair coats trimmed with collars of mink and fox. Also high on the list of both young and older women are the fake furs, never prettier, never better styled. Whether her taste is whimsical, high style or just plain good looks, there's a fur or fur accessory bound to brighten her Christmas morning.

Hint of Boston In Buffet Snack

'Tis the Season ... and what could be jollier than a good hearty snack to greet visitors on a frost-bitten night during the holidays ... or to perk up the tree-trimmers on Christmas Eve!

Boston baked beans in a pot garnished with tasty franks ... sharp cheddar cheese and Boston brown bread warmed from the oven and drizzling with melted butter ... steaming hot coffee — all say "Welcome!" and "Relax!" in a very heartening way.

Sweet-Sixteener

A lovely gift of jewelry for a sweet-sixteener is a pretty locket or pendant — a "something special" Christmas gift that is so popular with teenagers.

Claims Praise Knits For Easy Cleaning

Here are some typical claims and directions culled from manufacturers' advertisements and announcements about all varieties of knit apparel — testifying that knits are easy to keep clean with soap or detergent suds:

"Fashion knits that machine wash, machine-dry, and never need pressing — 'it's as sudsable as it is smart' — 'the initial softness increases through repeated washings' — 'as washable as a pair of nylon stockings' — 'built-in durability' — 'stands up to machine-washing and drying' — 'completely washable' — 'it's completely wash-and-wear.'"

Christmas Cleanup

Cleanup doesn't stop even for Christmas. Just to make sure you don't spend a harried holiday, put "pine cleaner" on your Christmas shopping list. It's a gift you can give yourself — good for wiping up everything from crushed candy canes to the pine tree stains.

Hair Styles Add Crown To Glamor of Holiday

It's raising a lot of eyebrows, but the higher the curve in your hair, the more "in" is the style for the holiday and winter season. At least that's what the Official Hair Fashion Committee of the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association had to say during its recent premiere of new hair styles.

Furthermore, adds this hair fashion authority of the beauty profession, you just can't have a "nothing" hair style for the coming season. It has to be important! It has to make you more important than your clothes. This means that fit, form and color have to be dramatic and totally becoming.

Nevertheless, the new High Curve Hair Fashions, as they are called, are essentially a small head look to which you add height and width, but not your own. The experts say

"add on" and that means hair pieces — a postiche, a braid, a false mane, sometimes even a fall. In any event, build it up, build it out, but add on. The result is a fluid little head with a dramatic height on one side, like an exclamatory "Ah!"

Short at Nape

Nape hair must be short. You just have to have a closely fitted nape line when you "add on" glamorous hair pieces. Keep the nape closely fitted and the added hair pieces can be balanced into elegance.

Height in all coiffures is off to one side, usually dressed into a flare of soft curves. The other side is always dressed closely to the head. This creates a split look, a decidedly different look from each side. On one side you have a young and active vibrance, on the other side hair is dressed

The Hair Fashion Look is different from each side this holiday season. The style at right, designed by the Official Hair Fashion Committee of the National Hairdresser and Cosmetologists Association has curves dressed close to the head on the left side and flared high and wide over the right side. where an 'add on' hair piece establishes height. Proper shaping and waving are basic to proportions and adaptability.

Watch the dressing of the hair near your face on the close side. You can dissemble faults with the flared volume on the high and wide side, but you must be careful that you have soft and easy curves near your face. This close side is telling. Its treatment is also one that you'd better learn to know, because it looks as if it may spread into an all around the face sweep of pure and undiluted feminine intrigue for next year.

Smooth, Silky

All hair must have satin smooth silkiness. Dramatic use of hair pieces demands superlative lustre. Holiday fashions and activities insist upon a high sheen that literally glitters with reflected lights. This means hair conditioning to remove any possible trace of summer abuse.

Highly important, too, particularly so for the right form and proportion for you, is professional permanent waving and hair shaping. This will also give your hair the appearance of a rich and lustrous fabric gently draped over the head and flaring up in soft curves.

Multicoloring of at least three shades is definitely the biggest news in hair coloring. Expect to see a lot of blondes of cream and honey, and from bluish pink to peach with mauve blendings of several tones. Deep reds and auburns will make vivid impressions with Parma violet tones in winter wardrobes, and almost violent red hues are being suggested for Tyrean purples and nightly blue shades of clothing.

The season is also great for deep brunettes, particularly when touched with sparkling brights, and topping orange costume colors. Watch, too, for sapphire and mercury highlights in gray hair, as well as regal touches of amethyst. A big note for all shades of evening coiffures is a complement of cosmetic glitter, or real jewels, to top jeweled fabrics.

Complexions for the season will be more naturalized with tonal touches of pink and mauve, plus warm rosy lips. Eye shapes will be rounder, set off with soft brown liners and shadow.

Status Reflected By White Gloves

Manpower, Inc., an international company that supplies temporary help, has selected white gloves as identification for their 150,000 female employees sent out on daily office jobs. This symbol is regarded as synonymous with feminine efficiency, competence, and good grooming.

White gloves are a status symbol for any woman — but only if they are kept immaculately clean. They need to be sudsed after every wearing — preferably on the hands, using a well-lathered soft brush to scrub soil from fingertips and knuckle areas.

These "Gifts-For-Christmas" Prices Good Through Sat., Nov. 26 Only!

Christmas shopping, like any other "battle," should be planned in advance. And since mother is usually the "general" for the annual foray, tactics and strategy fall to her.

Unfortunately, she must do the Christmas shopping while carrying on countless other household, family and social obligations. To help her, the makers of aspirin surveyed large department stores and selected small stores across the nation, and learned some helpful tips.

First, like a good general, assess your allies and utilize the help they offer. In this case, your allies are the stores which provide rest areas, refreshments and other incentives. All the department stores surveyed report increased customer services of this nature. Take advantage of the step saved by shopping the boutique and other special departments.

For instance, from Dallas to St. Louis there are "stores within stores" where you can buy anything and everything for the man in your life. In fact, these stores and others like them, have sections especially for him.

In other areas of the country, stores have carried the idea of specialty departments even further by setting up "secret shops." In them children can shop for parents, friends and pets without parental interference. Parents only get to see the bill — kept to very sensible limits.

While smaller stores have no specialized departments of this nature, they do offer the Christmas shopper special advantages. Individual attention in less hectic surroundings, for instance. It is also true that their smaller inventories allow for greater specialty, variety and daring in exotic imports — or such regional favorites as foods and crafts.

Learning what special services local stores offer is armchair reconnaissance — to be done comfortably at home with the aid of newspapers and telephone. Then make gift lists for everyone. Include beside each name clothing sizes, hobbies and special interests.

Shop for two hours. Then rest for an hour over lunch, during which you can make any necessary changes, or amendments to your list. Shop for two more hours, then go home. As soon as you arrive, take a leisurely bath, two aspirin tablets to ease aching muscles, and lie down for 15 to 20 minutes. This will leave you refreshed for your family.

Remember, let family members who are old enough do their own shopping. Get to the stores early, before others crowd the counters.

Mechanized operations save manpower, or in this case, womanpower. Use the trains, taxis and buses to eliminate driving and parking problems. And never exceed the four-hour shopping limit. Strategic withdrawal leaves you fit to shop another day!

Poinsettia Is First Christmas Flower

The "first" flower of Christmas is the scarlet poinsettia, according to a survey made by florists. Although the exotic star shaped bloom now is an American favorite, the poinsettia originally was grown in Mexico. According to legend, a Mexican peasant child brought a gift of weeds to the Cathedral as a humble Christmas offering. When she made the presentation, her gift was magically transformed into the poinsettia, or Flower of the Nativity.

Holiday Gift Sleigh

Sing a song of "Jingle Bells" and make a sleighful of tiny gifts that can double as a holiday table decoration. Or a package of Christmas bells, made of overlapping layers of velvet-like ribbon and outlined in gold cord, hums the same tune.

Satin, Velvet New in Black-Tie Attire

Every new season brings its own subtle changes in men's fashions, but this season really brings fashion news. It's one of those rare years when men's styles have made positive, not just subtle, changes.

The color barrier has been broken and formalwear has a new look. Tuxedos in rich, extraordinary shades of blues are in. Separate dinner jackets are still being done in opulent fabrics such as brocades and moire, but are also available in popular paisleys and woven prints in several color choices as well as black on black. Look for burgundy, gold, beige, bottle green and the blues. Be sure to see the imported fabrics, the silk and wool blends, the mohairs, the Bembergs, the man-made fabrics — and don't miss the velvet double breasted formal blazers.

Imagination and Good Taste
Every man can follow his own idea of individuality and look like a fashion expert, by adding a soupcon of imagination to a pound of good taste. Mix and match dinner jackets with blue or black formal trousers for the handsomest look in evening wear to appear on the scene in many a year.

Big news is the updating of the double breasted tuxedo. It heralds a new concept of elegance in men's dinner clothes. Slimmer lines, lighter weight fabrics and cleverly engineered tailoring have eliminated the bulk and add a new dimension.

It's comfort plus color plus style and it all adds up to an assured young look for those men who want to break with tradition and still be fashion-right during the holidays.

Perfect for the Romantic man attending a formal Christmas party is the double-breasted velvet blazer, above. Accented with a satin shawl collar and cuffs, smoked pearl buttons and satin piped pockets, the jacket is shaped, adding a youthful flair. It can be worn western style for entertaining at home, with a small silk square knotted and tucked inside a formal shirt.

The Man With a flair for the elegant will appreciate the imported French fabric of the diamond brocade dinner jacket, above. Satin peak lapels, collar and cuffs give an added air of luxury to the suit. Side vents, designer buttons and a hidden cigarette pocket are special tailoring details. At right, when the occasion calls for a black tie, this tapered coat is the perfect topper. The fly front conceals three buttons. The velvet top collar, notched lapels and piped flap pockets are all the trim the coat needs.

Steeped in Decoration Tradition

Decking the halls with fresh holiday trimmings sets the stage for Yuletide cheer. The flowers and greens that help your home blossom with the season's spirit are rich in ancient Christmas lore.

Holly is a traditional ingredient in holiday decorating. According to experts in floral design and legend, Christmas in merry olde England was not complete without holly in the home. If a man-servant failed to supply the popular greens, his privilege of kissing maids standing under the mistletoe bough was revoked for the season.

Round Kissing Ball
The English also introduced the kissing ball for holiday fun. A round hanging arrangement of greenery and fresh blossoms, the kissing ring now adds to the fun at Christmas and New Year celebrations in modern homes. Wreaths are a favorite Yuletide decoration, and their circular shapes are age-old symbols of eternal life. Florists suggest that the wreath on your door can later be set on your table and filled with fresh flowers. It will make an unusual centerpiece for the dining table or buffet on New Year's Day.

Add Yuletide Color
The bright red roses that add holiday color to your Christmas trimmings are steeped in legend. One tale recalls the trials of a group of peasants driven into a forest on Christmas Eve and saddened by the lack of holiday decorations for the children. During the night, the forest glowed with a white light, and by morning the ground was completely covered with gay Christmas roses. Another legend of the rose tells of a magic garden where trees and plants blossomed and music resounded on Christmas Eve. When a passing monk declared the garden was the work of Satan, only the Christmas rose continued to bloom as the symbol of the season's joy.

Plants Need Light
The gift plant in your home should have as much light as is possible, preferably a sunny window. It should be kept away from drafts and heating elements. The plant likes a 65 to 70 degree day temperature and 55 to 60 degrees at night.

Underworld Explodes in Color

No matter how fashionably a woman may dress, she is missing the total concept if she fails to recognize the important role of foundations and lingerie.

For the sleek, slim pants look, girdles in lightweight fabrics for better control and comfort are ideal. Available in time for Christmas giving are bold, wild designs with matching bras. Or if a girdle is too much, try a wisp-on variation to match the casual mood of your outfit.

Chemise Returns

The chemise has returned for an unlimited engagement on the lingerie stage. Available in bright stripes, flame prints and flowered patterns, the length is ideal for popular mini skirts and short fashion items.

Skimmers shaped to fit smoothly have closed the curtain on hiked up straps and raised hems. A new group of scaled-to-you slips and sleepwear is drawing encores in departments throughout the country. The smooth chemises lend a finished look before a dress is added.

For women who prefer not to wear slips under lined dresses, skimmers and chemises are perfect. One fashion designer points out, "Dress linings are for dress shaping, not to sub for a slip." Skimmers solve the dilemma without adding an extra layer of cloth.

Soft, silk fabrics fun to touch, wear and daydream in, are a welcome addition to this year's collection. Available in gentle hues or brilliant colors, plain or prints, lingerie now can be coordinated or mixed and matched from selections featuring the night shift, pajama and coat set, demislip, brief, bikini and petti-pants.

In a survey conducted by a New York firm, women interviewed named printed lingerie as the most exciting development in inner fashions. Some said they also used slips for sleeping and lounging.

Tapered to the new line of more closely fitted dresses, pants suits and shorter skirts, are new versions of petti-pants. Affording maximum coverage when skirts ride high or are mini-size, the pettipants in stripes, checks, plaids, prints, and plains and polka-dots are especially suited to the tastes and activities of the high school and college crowd.

Slim, Slim Look

And the Carnaby look has reached new heights in the undergarment world. Molded for the slim, slim approach enhanced by sleek London type fashions, luxurious chemises, unlike the heavier versions of grandma's day, are a smashing idea under Mod styles.

Lingerie and foundations, geared for the youthful, active world of the Pepsi generation and its parents, are also designed for maximum comfort and minimum confinement. New lightweight elastic fibers and fabrics are combined in easy to wear and care for mix and match bras and girdles designed to enhance their favorite outfits, not only during the holiday season but throughout the year. And colorful, vivid slips, chemises and pettipants will remain a favorite gift after the tinsel and ribbon have been put away.

A New Group of Scaled to size slips and sleepwear has been introduced to suit the special needs of junior petites. Shaped for the slim, young figure is this skimmer especially proportioned for a smaller frame. Hiked-up straps and pinned hemlines can be eliminated by skimmers for the junior petite.

Plastic Bags Protect Fresh Holiday Gifts

Why battle the bedlam of stores. The makings of the best gifts of all... those that bear the home-made-with-love stamp... can be whipped up in the peace and quiet of your own kitchen. A single gift of goodies... cookies, cakes or candy... does for an entire family, from young cousin Joe to aged Aunt Mabel, saving you the quandary of what to give to each with the resulting accumulative cost.

So this holiday season, set to with the baking. Do it in nice leisurely sessions, scheduling fruit cakes for one morning, cookies for another, and so on, setting aside a half hour or so for wrapping each day's harvest.

Stronger, Stiffer

This can be done simply and effectively this year thanks to a new wrapping medium... double wall quilted plastic bags.

More than three times stronger and seven times stiffer than other see-through plastic bags, they'll stand up stoutly beneath the weight of the heaviest fruit cake, withstand punctures from the sharpest nutstudded brittle, and completely seal off the air so that your gift will arrive at its destination fresh as the minute you popped it out of the oven.

More Room to Pack

Other definite advantages are the side gussets which give greater roominess allowing the bags to accommodate more goodies than you might expect or those with odd shapes. And the bags' lack of either static or vacuum cling makes them a cinch to handle and fill. You're sure to find the perfect fit for whatever it is you baked, for you have a quart and a gallon size to choose from.

Elegant Containers for elegant recipes appear at Christmas and a dining valet, such as this one, is the perfect way to serve refreshments to guests. For convenient entertainment, it can travel to any room as a refreshment cart or act as a server in the dining room. Sliding side leaves, two drawers and a cabinet give additional space. It is made of weathered pecan and the top is covered with stain-resistant black plastic.

Giftwraps Echo High-Fashion Hues

The world of women's fashions, 1966 — brilliant colors, baroque designs and the latest in magenta-and-gold creations — are reflected in the new gift-wraps, ribbons and trims for Christmas this year.

And there's a good reason, explains one of the industry's top creative designers:

"Women spend more than $200 million each year on Christmas giftwrap items. They represent some 75 per cent of the total purchases, and their interest in high fashion has an obvious influence on our choice of styles and colors."

Latest Fashion Colors

"Traditional reds and greens in Christmas giftwrap are still popular, but women want the latest fashion colors too. More than half of our 100 new gift-wrap designs this year are dominated by so-called high-fashion hues. There are some 30 hot pinks, reds and oranges — all lush, vibrant colors. Most of the rest are chic blues and greens," she reports.

Vogue refinements extend to conventional tissue papers, she says. Young colors like cerise, magenta azure, goldenrod, and lavender have been added to the established white, red and green. Even ribbons, gift tags and decorative trimmings are available now in color-coordinated designs.

Color Coordination

"The color coordination is important," says the designer. "We learned that from the Paris fashion designers. Colors needn't necessarily match, but they must complement each other."

Giftwrap designs maintain familiar patterns this year (stripes, Santas, wreaths, angels and the like). But contemporary art techniques have been applied to give the "new look" to traditional designs.

Santa has been slimmed in some cases. Christmas tree patterns are photographically reproduced from full-color transparencies. The use of half-tones allows blending of soft, subtle colors.

Hugging Headlines

The Simple Beret of white mink makes a costume "total" with matching collar. It can be worn with sportswear or for evening parties during the holiday season. Other furs popular for hats this season are stenciled calfskin, leopard, chinchilla and raccoon.

The new hat shapes and intriguing outlines give a "total" look to costumes this winter.

For a weekend in the country, a stroll through the park, or an outing on the ski slope, sportswear hats are new and exciting. With silhouettes of visors, crusader-type helmets, berets and a variety of shapes combined for the wrap-up look, they are seen in casual wear and for particular sports. When worn for sport, warmth, combined with fashion, mean double value. Some cover all except eyes and nose.

Principal materials for the casual-wear hat, are leather, fabrics, knits, vinyl, fur and felt.

The fur group is highly styled too. Variegated shades of mink, stenciled calfskin, leopard, chinchilla and raccoon furs go into styles of berets, hoods, toques and brims. When worn with matching coat collar, every occasion assumes special importance.

For afternoon luncheons and lectures a dressy hat is preferred. Turbans, snapbrims, fedoras and head-hugging caps are made of felt and fabrics and trimmed with flowers and jewels.

Hats will be tops on every street throughout Wisconsin's winter wonderland this year.

Romantic Uses Of Mistletoe Found in History

Mistletoe, one of America's favorite holiday decorations, brings to mind an especially pleasant custom: that of catching an unsuspecting (or so it may seem) sweetheart "under the mistletoe" for a kiss.

The green leaved, white-berried plant really does have quite a romantic history. References to it appear as far back in history as the days of the gladiators. The Romans made first recorded use of the plant as a symbol of peace. Enemies meeting under it were required to discard their weapons and declare a truce.

Parallels in later history occur in Norse mythology which records the mistletoe plant as a symbol of love. The custom of kissing beneath the bright leaves comes from the Norse marriage rite in which it was used as a major decoration.

Make Garlands

By the way, mistletoe can be used for things other than a romantic excuse. The mantel of the fireplace or center of a Christmas wreath are ideal spots for this colorful decoration. Mistletoe berries and leaves would make a fine garland for an unusual twist in tree ornaments as well.

Most gals could take a tip from the younger generation. Some teenage girls are carrying sprigs of mistletoe in their purses these days in case the right moment presents itself and no greenery can be found.

With the Cover - Up baby hat, above, one could ski, skate or hike in comfort. Chin, ears and neck are wrapped in the warmth of its cozy softness.

One Can Experiment with a beret by pushing it into different shapes, tilting it to either side of the head, resting it at the back of the head or perching it jauntily on top. The plaid wool beret, right, is high with college students for stadium visits.

Holiday Eye Care Important

For most of us, the holidays ahead mean partying, late hours, shopping, travel and dozens of last-minute chores. All of these activities put unusual strain on the eyes. If you want your eyes to feel well and to look bright and rested, follow these tips for the season.

1. Vary your Christmas chores. If your schedule calls for closeup work such as sewing, writing gift lists or addressing cards, give your eyes a rest by switching to a task that requires longer vision. This refocusing of the eyes, specialists say, is a good way to prevent fatigue.

Dangerous Glare

2. Watch out for glare. The glare of sun on snow not only is a danger when you are driving, but also can be damaging to the eyes. When outdoors and exposed to glare, wear correctly fitted sunglasses to protect the eyes. Indoors, avoid glare in reading and working. Reflections from bright, shiny surfaces or too-white paper strains eyes. And if eyes become tired, relieve them with a soothing, decongestant eye drop.

Be Sensible

3. Live it up — sensibly. In the festive whirl of the holidays, you may find yourself staying up late several nights in a row. You'll feel better the next day if you observe a few party-time precautions. To prepare yourself, set aside a few minutes during the day to rest, relax and conserve your energies.

At parties, limit your late-evening consumption of food and beverages and try to socialize in rooms that have proper circulation of air to prevent next-day headaches and aching eyes. If eyes feel irritated and look red, use decongestant drops to return them to their natural whiteness.

4. Treat your eyes gently. Eyes come just two to a customer, so take care of them properly! Don't poke or rub at them. Remove eye makeup gently and thoroughly. Keep your eyeglasses or contact lenses scrupulously clean. If you get something in your eye, lift the upper lid gently and place it down over the lower lid. Good care of eyes also requires yearly professional examination.

Roots Clue to Health of Plants

In selecting plants for holiday gifts, don't be guided only by surface appearances of leaves, stems and blossoms. Ask your florist to show you the roots. This can be easily done by upending the container. You'll notice that when you inspect roots of a mature plant in a clay pot, favorite of quality professional growers, that they are vigorous and concentrated around the sides of the pot. This means they are seeking both water and air — and getting plenty of both because porous clay pots permit even exchange of air and moisture. In substitute non-porous pots, roots find neither air nor moisture and re-enter the ball of soil.

Sentimental Ring

Did you know there is a ring created especially to honor Mother? A ring containing her birthstone, that of Dad and each of the children makes a most appropriate and sentimental gift this Christmas.

Wife Tormented by Husband's 'Undercover' Picture Gallery

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: The wife whose husband never takes his T-shirt off thinks SHE has a problem. Well, I'd give anything if I could trade troubles with her.

My husband should keep his shirt on for the rest of his life. His tattoo decorations have been driving me out of my mind ever since we were married. When our children were young it was impossible to divert their attention from "Daddy's pictures." They used to ask millions of questions and my husband would just sit there like a wart on a pickle. I was the one who had to explain things. I can't count the number of times when we've been out with nice people and after three drinks my husband peels off his shirt and shows off his art gallery. The next day he can't remember a thing. Believe me,

Landers

Ann, it's not easy to keep decent friends when you have a husband who acts so foolishly. I am not writing for advice because there is no solution to my problem. I am just writing to let you know that there are some very crazy people in this world, in case you didn't know it. — Married to a Nut

Dear Married: Thanks for writing. After nearly 11 years of writing this column nothing people do surprises me.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My fiancé and I have been discussing wedding plans. All my life I have wanted a beautiful church ceremony, complete with bridesmaids, flower-girl, ring bearer, music and flowers. It has been a dream I have cherished since childhood.

My boy friend feels a church wedding is a waste of time, energy and money. He says most men would just as soon avoid all the fuss and feathers but they agree to subject themselves to the ordeal because it means a lot to their sweethearts.

I have argued until I am hoarse, but I cannot persuade my boy friend that I have a point on my side. Will you say something please? — Starry Eyed

Dear Starry: A church wedding with all the trimmings is indeed impractical, and it often represents a heavy expenditure of time and energy and money, but there are occasions when it is just plain heavenly to be impractical — and the wedding day usually qualifies as one of those occasions.

If it means so much to you to have a fancy church wedding, and if your parents can afford it, I say, go ahead.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My

48-year-old mother has decided to finish college. I think it's nice that she wants to improve herself but she has loaded all her household responsibilities on me, which I feel is unfair.

I am 16 and trying to make decent grades which is far from easy these days. Now mom makes me do all the marketing, cooking and housework. I'm so exhausted at the end of the day I can't do my homework when I tell her I feel she is not being fair to me she says I am lazy and selfish. Am I — Dishwater Hands define your mother's workload, but it sounds as if she has taken on too much. Mom could cut back a course or two and take some of the pressure off you — and she should. If she waited until she was 48 to get her degree, another year or two won't make any difference.

Dear Hands: You don't

Carpet quiet everywhere!

Viking makes it practical in rooms you could never carpet before.

Put Viking anywhere and everywhere. Impossible places like the kitchen, laundry room and playroom. Even in the boiler room and basement. Of course in the living room and bedrooms.

Viking is carpet reinvented. Tough, tight nylon pile is bonded to springy B.F. Goodrich sponge-rubber to give you the luxury of carpet with the durability of tile. The quiet sponge-rubber cushion is a joy to walk on. No din and clatter. No slipping and skidding. Viking's incredible pile won't show heel marks, traffic lanes, dents from furniture. Nothing can mar the miracle of Viking.

And Viking carpet is so easy to clean—and keep clean. Vacuums in half the time ordinary carpets need. Spots and stains from just about anything sponge-mop right off. No scrubbing, waxing, stripping ever... anywhere in a Viking-quiet home!

Single Theme Adds Bright Look to Holiday Decorations

Want to make this Christmas the brightest ever?

Then try the newest idea in Christmas decoration — the single theme.

The theme could be a color scheme, or all one kind of lights or decoration. It could be salt and pepper, featuring everything different, including new 3-cycle lights that change colors, or it could be a repeated pattern of garlands. It could be old fashioned or contemporary... in between or way out... candy... toys...

Indians... boats... planes. Your hobby can provide an eye-catching theme.

Helpful Hints

Once you've decided on a theme, here are points to keep in mind in putting a fresh, bright new look on holiday decorations:

Use only one dominant color.

Apply about 3 ornaments to each square foot of tree area.

To better visualize the total effect, turn the lights on as you apply the ornaments.

Gather all trimmings in one corner, preferably where the tree will stand. This will help you in visualizing (as well as cut down on time in trimming the tree).

Quantity of lights depends on the size of the lights. Use twice as many midget lights as the larger lights.

Place the main tree in front of a window. This will enable passers-by as well as your family to enjoy the tree's beauty.

Get the children involved — one of the best ways is to give each one a miniature tree to trim. Give a prize for the best one.

The beauty of tinsel lies in putting it on carefully, strand by strand hanging straight down. Spread it evenly.

Beautiful Fir Trees, whether trimmed by the whole family or by Santa Claus on Christmas Eve, can add an elegant touch to holiday decorations. Ornaments may be contemporary or can add a hint of an old-fashioned Christmas. Early planning and careful selection of a theme will set the tree apart as a thing of beauty.

ting decorating off to the last minute usually results in a confused, hit-or-miss look.

Your early preparation should include testing lights, as well as checking to see whether your supply is adequate. Also check on the condition of your trimmings and discard fraying and soiled ones.

Reflects Personal Taste

The kind of theme you should use is limited only by your imagination. But choose one that reflects your personal taste. It will help you create the individualized personalized look that sets your Christmas decorations apart as a thing of beauty.

This year, too, the availability of unusual types of Chris-mas light decorations can produce striking new effects that enhance any theme.

There are midget lights and crystal jewel lights illuminated by matching color midget lamps strung on glittering translucent wire.

Of course, the ever-popular standard lights are basic to the overall decoration. Lighting experts stress the importance of quality and safety.
Christmas decorations are part of the joy of the holiday.

When you've done it right, the effect is one which adds to the warmth and festive spirit of the season.

Fun, Flower Favor

Party favors with a personal touch add to the fun of Christmas get-togethers. To put your guests in a merry mood, florists suggest tiny corsages and boutonnieres in a variety of colors. Tie the flowers to the branches of your Christmas tree, and let guests choose their own party flowers.

Festive Flowers Solve Shopping, Gift Problems

When it's the night before Christmas, will you be a creature that's stirring — and scurrying for last-minute gifts?

This year, you can plan one-stop shopping for gifts and for decorations to make your own Christmas merry. Fresh flowers are a holiday tradition. They'll make your home blossom with Christmas cheer and carry a "living" holiday message to anyone on your gift list.

Christmas bouquets can be sent anywhere in town or around the country with a guarantee to arrive in time for holiday festivities. The time you save on shopping, gift wrapping and mailing can be spent enjoying the good times that go with the season.

Holiday Floral Season

The Poinsettia is the floral symbol of the holiday season, and this year you can choose new, long-lasting pink or white varieties for people who like the very latest. For friends who have green thumbs, florists suggest cyclamen, orange or pepper plants. African violets sprinkled with winter "snow" and blooming cacti make colorful Christmas packages for collectors of indoor plants.

The traditional Yuletide wreath dotted with red and white flowers or a centerpiece of holly and red roses or carnations for the table are blossom-bright ideas for holiday hostesses on your gift list.

When it comes to Christmas trimmings — the more the merrier, and fresh flowers combine easy shopping with a festive, personal approach to your season's greetings.

Furniture Pleases Young, Elderly

Pieces of furniture, priced under $100, selected by a group of homemakers as 1966 Christmas gift suggestions, seem equally suitable for both the youth market and a multitude of the elderly. The homemakers, who comprised the National Association of Furniture Manufacturers' sixth annual Consumer's Choice panel, may not have had this in mind, but an analysis of their selections proves it to be true.

The young and the elderly, whether single or married, frequently find themselves living in small quarters; thus each greatly appreciates a gift of furniture with built-in efficiency, comfort and good looks.

Desk Chair

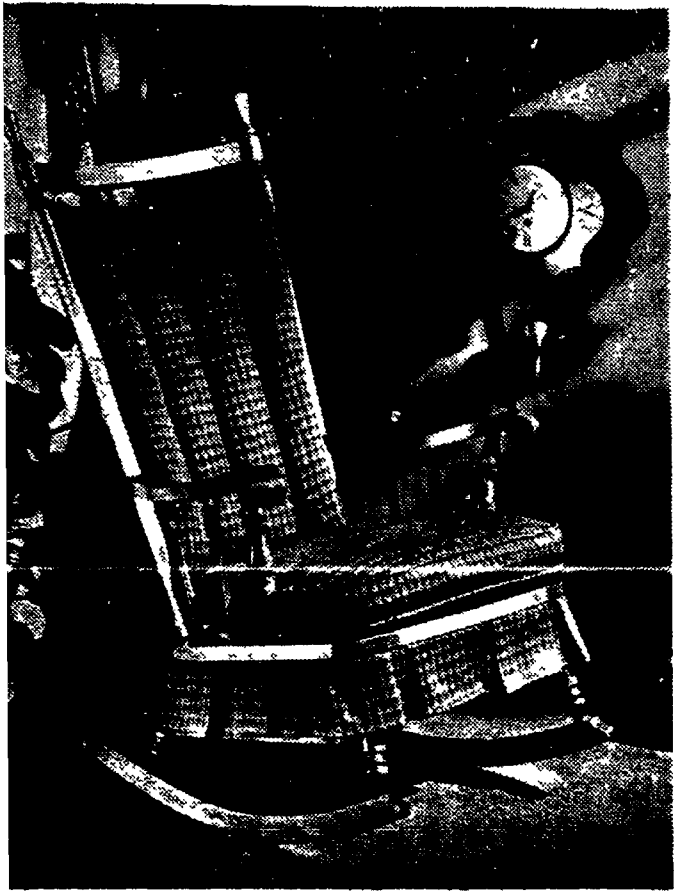

Among choices was a comfortable contoured chair equipped with a desk ledge, making it useful for either students or older persons who need support for reading material. The chair has yet another attraction — comfortably upholstered seat and back fit into each other without use of bolts and can be taken apart for easy storing or moving. Arm ledge is removable and easily replaced by slipping a pin into place. The chair is upholstered in soil-resistant fabrics in a choice of bright or neutral colors.

Another gift suggestion was a round cocktail table, 36 inches in diameter, design by Larry Peabody. Its mahogany top, hand-carved by natives of Haiti in the Malayan manner, is mounted on a solid elm base in matching finish. Carvings on each table differ, according to the technique of the carver. These tables are for individuals of any age who like an accent piece that is different and useful.

Rocking Chair

A rocking chair now belongs to all age groups and a handsome rocker in Early American styling was also selected. Crafted in solid maple, softly cushioned and attractively overed it is very acceptable for living room use, for bedroom or family room. Positioned in front of the TV set, it offers comfortable seating and possible therapeutic value for the user.

A Rocking Chair That Can relieve the stresses of the young, the old and the desk-bound is an attractive gift in solid maple. This one has tie-on cushions for seat and back and a detachable tailored skirt. At right is a table that may become a collector's item, for each carved top is different, according to the technique of the Haitian carver. All these gifts for the home, or for newlyweds, are less than $100.

A Chair With Many Secrets, all worth discovering, is the one above, perfect for the student or the person who spends much time in his room. The back and seat are separate units which slide into each other for perfect locking fit; the ledge slips into place without effort and can be adjusted to a number of tilted, level or side positions. It is of solid oak, softly cushioned, and the covers are Scotchgarded.

It's Fun to Pounce On Kings

BY ALFRED SHEINWOLD

There's usually a bit of risk when you take a finesse. Perhaps the king will show up in the wrong opponent's hand, and all your work will be wasted. What a relief it is when the king appears on the correct side.

South refused the first two spade tricks but won the third, discarding a heart from dummy. Then, since he had only seven sure tricks, South had to go after the clubs.

Declarer led a diamond to dummy and returned a club. East layed the king, and South pounced on it with the ace of clubs. "Just what I needed," South chuckled. But it wasn't.

South now had eight sure tricks: one spade, two hearts, three diamonds and two clubs. There was no hope for a ninth trick except in clubs, but when South continued that suit West got in with the jack of clubs and ran the rest of the spades to defeat the contract.

Too Quick

South would have made the contract, of course, if he hadn't been so quick on the trigger with his ace of clubs. He should allow East to win the first club trick with the king.

South would be safe even if East had another spade. East would then lead his spade, and the suit would break 4-4, so that the defenders would get three spades and one club.

Actually, East would be unable to lead a spade. South would easily develop the rest of the clubs, making four clubs, three diamonds, two hearts and one spade for a total of ten tricks.

Daily Question

Partner opens with one diamond, and the next player passes. You hold: S Q 10 6 5 2 H Q J 9 D 4 2 C J 8 5. What do you say?

Answer: Bid one spade. The response shows a biddable suit with at least 6 points in the hand. You just barely have the 6 points for the response.

Toy Decorations Delight Tiny Tots

In the eyes of a child, Christmas is a magic season, and you can plan special holiday trimmings as children's delights. A broken toy drum will get a new lease on life as a container for an arrangement of holly, pine cones and daisies. Doll buggies and cradles or a decorative Santa's sleigh, brimming over with blossoms and shiny ornaments, also make Christmas merrier for tiny tots.

Suited to the Short hemlines now in vogue is the chemise with a modern touch. Available in silky, print fabrics to please tastes of conservative wearers preferring quieter colors to Mod swingers relishing exotic, flame designs, the chemise is "in."

Jewelry Sparkles With Season

Keeping Track of Holiday time takes on new importance to the woman receiving a pendant watch for Christmas. Suspended on a slender chain, the polished gold watch is an elegant, feminine and useful gift, appropriate for formal and casual wear.

The sparkling spirit of Christmas can be captured for years to come in gifts of jewelry for young and old. No Spanish galleon ever carried a more fabulous treasure than the exciting gifts to be found at your jewelry store. The love and thoughtfulness you want to express at Christmas will be understood when your gift of jewelry — the special, personal present — is opened.

Beautiful jewelry lays a spell upon a woman, making her glow with loveliness and the knowledge of being loved. You can enchant her with rings, necklaces, bracelets, pins and earrings. When chosen with love, even a simple and inexpensive memento such as a charm reminiscent of a special occasion will work sentimental magic and long be cherished.

The men on your list are sure to enjoy your special choice from the jeweler's vast selection of cufflinks, tie tacs, tie bars, belt buckles and money clips. To make his ego expand, you can add to his prestige by gifting him with a ring from the handsome array of stone set, fraternal, insignia, initial or signet design.

A teen-age girl will be thrilled with jewelry such as pendants, birthstone rings,, novelty watches and pins. Special moments in her life will linger when dangling charms commemorate them. To celebrate her approach to maturity, errings — whether pearl, button-type or popular pierced earrings — will be especially cherished.

Personal jewelry is a gift of sophistication and status to young men, and your gift of cufflinks, tie tacs or tie bars is certain to please. A sure way to be a successful Santa is to gift a teen-age boy with silver military brushes. Other ways to delight him are to give him a wallet, money clip, key chain or watchband.

Christmas joy is best reflected in the face of a child, and a gift of jewelry will make the tiniest person on your list gurggle with pleasure. Your little daughter will delight in the fairytale shimmer of a lustrous silver identification bracelet or delicate lock-et. A merry Christmas tradition which will add to her anticipation of living happily ever after, is to start a pearl necklace, adding a new pearl on each special occasion. A tiny son will feel at home on his white charger after drinking from a sterling silver cup and learning table manners with a baby sized silver fork and spoon set.

An ever exciting gift for anyone of any age is a fine watch. The phenomenal variety in design of wristwatches and watchbands for dress, sport and business makes it possible for you to choose the perfect timepiece for any individual, whatever his or her special interests and taste may be. For adornment and utility, nothing holds so unique a place in the wardrobe as a watch, and your special thought and care in choosing just the "right one" will be doubly appreciated by the recipient.

Items other than personal jewelry are part of the Christmas treasure trove at your jewelry store, just waiting to thrill everyone on your list. The homemaker's vision of her home's elegance will come true with gifts of silver holloware, crystal and china. Sterling silver flatware, sparkling in the Christmas lights will bring a special gleam to any woman's eyes all year and every year. Attractive gifts sure to please the most practical of men are smoking, desk and bar accessories. Silver bib holders, bent-handle spoons, rattles and porringers for baby will be cherished for their beauty and quality long after childhood has passed.

The Sleek Design of This oversized ring is echoed in the segmented bangle bracelet. The simulated gold matching set is perfect for the many parties planned during the holidays, adding an elegant and unique accent to many ensembles.

Lounging Has Taken on new attitudes — in fact, become almost a way of life in a society that seeks time at home and the feeling of something special all at the same time. The outfit at left is in burgundy velveteen, a soft pajama pant suit that will spell delightful hours with holiday music or be ready for guests. The overblouse is quilted in oversize diamond pattern and the rope belt emphasizes a tiny waistline. At right, in a gleam and glitter forecast that can match any snowfall, is a silver slither culotte of lightweight nylon.

Bright Apron Glamorizes Holiday Hostess

Whether she's an honest-to-goodness cook or one who specializes in opening cans, chances are she'll welcome a smart-looking apron for a Christmas gift.

If you sew, you'll find this is an easy way to solve gift problems for almost every woman on your Christmas list.

This year, the newest look in kitchen cover-ups is the cotton tunic apron. Easy to make, the tunic apron is a straight-cut garment that slips over the head and is joined together only at shoulder seams. Waist ties secure the apron at the sides. One size fits all.

To personalize each style, vary trims and fabrics. You'll find that the same basic tunic pattern can look dressy or practical depending on the trims and fabrics used.

For a party apron, choose sparkling white cotton pique or lustrous cotton satin . . . and trim the scooped neckline with black pom-pom braid. Or pick a perky black and white polka dot print and outline the neck with black rickrack. Use the rickrack for waist ties, too.

For an apron that's tops in versatility, make it reversible. Coordinated cottons — in colorful stripe and polka dot combinations, checks and solids — take the guesswork out of matching up colors and designs.

A Ring for Every Finger

A sure way to ring in the season merrily for a woman is to give her a ring. Fashion-conscious women are thrilled by the elegant accent given to any outfit by a bold, striking ring. You can find styles as bright as a rainbow. Fashion-favorites are turquoise and pearls set in a froth of lacy gold, shimmering opals complemented by diamonds, and new enameled rings set with contrasting or matching stones. Pearl rings are always welcome. Distinctive and dramatic combinations of black or baroque pearls surrounded by diamonds are certain to please her.

Single Stone Rings

Foremost in fashion for well-dressed women are single stone rings in smoky topaz, quartz, aquamarines, amethysts, Linde Stars and black and white cameos. Multi-colored rings are a feminine favorite.

The personal touch of a birthstone ring appeals to both men and women. The connotations of the birthstone gem make such a gift a lucky talisman as well as an adornment. The twelve birthstones and their meanings are: January, garnet - constancy; February, amethyst - sincerity; March, aquamarine or bloodstone - courage; April, diamond - innocence; May, emerald - love and success; June, pearl or alexandrite - health; July, ruby - contentment; August, peridot or sardonyx - married happiness; September, sapphire - clear thinking; October, opal or tourmaline - hope; November, topaz - fidelity; and December, turquoise or zircon - prosperity.

Sure-to-succeed ring ideas for men include signet, initial and fraternal or professional emblems.

Sun's Rays Hit Ramses' Crown In Abu Simbel

Years of Planning Succeed in Moving Of Egyptian Shrine

BY YOUSSEF SHENOUDA

CAIRO (AP) — As dawn spread over the desert, rays of the sun slid across the ceiling of a great temple, slipped through its long corridors into an inner sanctuary, then lit the crown of the Pharaoh King Ramses.

"It struck the crown! It did!" someone shouted from inside the temple. Outside, a tense group of archeologists, engineers and laborers exploded with elated cheers.

Thus they learned one morning last month that years of planning and work and investment of millions of dollars, had achieved an important success. They had dismantled, moved and reassembled the colossal twin temple of Abu Simbel so exactly that the sun's rays penetrated the inner sanctum just as they did when the temples were built 3,200 years ago.

Threatened by Dam

The priceless monuments had been threatened by the waters of an immense lake slowly rising behind the United Arab Republic's Aswan Dam. Five European nations formed a consortium two years ago to salvage the temples, and the United States and the United Arab Republic agreed to pay the major part of the estimated $36 million cost.

It was one of the century's most daring projects—to cut the temples apart and reconstruct the huge structures on a promontory overlooking Lake Nasser along the same astronomical angles used by the ancient Egyptians.

Egyptologists say the temples were designed and their site selected by means of precise calculations by engineers of the Pharaohs so that the sun would illuminate the inner sanctuary twice a year—in late February and early October.

Four Gods

Only then did the light pass from the main hall of King Ramses' temple, dedicated to the worship of four gods, into the queen's temple, where Pharaohs once worshipped the goddess Hathor, and on into the sanctuary to settle on Ramses' crown and on three other prominent gods.

The phenomenon was said to mark the occurrence of memorable events. Ramses was born early in October and was crowned king late in February.

For the men who eagerly assembled in the darkness around the temples on that morning last month, the first rays of the sun brought the thrill of watching Abu Simbel maintain a legend that has seized the imagination of men throughout the centuries.

Man of Many Names Jailed Under One

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — Police stopped a man for speeding Monday and asked to see his driver's license.

"He pulled out one," said Patrolman Don Henderson, "and started to hand it to me. Then he said, 'Oh, that ain't me,' and he pulled out another one."

The name on the first driver's license was Eddie Junior Flowe, said the officer, and the name on the second was Isiah Foster.

When Henderson asked for other identification, the man produced light and water bills with the name of John Jeter.

"I just use his name to pay those bills," the motorist told Henderson. "He's been dead several years."

Then the officers took the man to his place of employment and asked the supervisor who he was.

"Oh, that's Clyde Thompson," the officers quoted the supervisor.

So that's the way he's booked: Clyde House Thompson, 55, charged with driving after license revocation and using another person's license to drive.

Reuther Says Meany Fails Responsibility To American People

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Walter P. Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers Union, says the American labor movement under the leadership of George Meany is failing in its responsibility to the American people.

Long at odds with Meany, national president of the AFL-CIO, on Viet Nam, Reuther said Tuesday that and other issues are "only a small part" of the reason for his feud with Meany.

He said labor's failure to promote a strong civil rights campaign, a strong stand on education, increased Social Security benefits and a greater effort to erase poverty is "fundamentally what's wrong with the American labor movement."

Actress Kidnaped, But Charity Plan Raises Only $28

LONDON (AP) — A burly youth barged on to the stage of London's Phoenix Theater during final curtain calls Tuesday night, threw actress Juliet Mills over his shoulder and exited with his pretty burden kicking and struggling.

The audience half filling the 2-38 seat house gasped. The theater manager called the police.

Wearing an Edwardian gown and elaborate blonde wig for the leading role in Oscar Wilde's comedy "Lady Windermere's Fan," Miss Mills was carried to a waiting car and driven away.

Drinking in Pub

Detectives found the 26-year-old actress, daughter of movie star John Mills, drinking in a pub with her kidnapers. They said they were students trying

Hanoi Worried About Too Many Drunkards

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — North Viet Nam appears worried that too many drunks may spoil the Communist revolution.

Radio Hanoi announced that President Ho Chi Minh signed a law Oct. 27 cracking down on moonshiners and alcoholics. The broadcast said the decree was necessary to "the building of socialism and the anti-U.S. struggle for national salvation."

Radio Hanoi gave no estimate of the number of alcoholics in the nation of 17 million.

Living Costs Higher Again In October

WASHINGTON (AP) — Living costs rose four-tenths of one per cent last month as virtually all consumer goods and services except food increased in price, the Labor Department reported today.

Retail food prices went down two-tenths of one per cent, but costs continued up for housing, clothing, medical care, automobiles and many other items measured by the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

The October increase, the ninth straight monthly rise, brought the index up to 114.5, meaning it cost $11.45 last month to purchase items worth $10 in the 1957-59 base period.

Hawks Post Third Straight Victory, Trim Jordan, 74-59

Defensive Play Stands Out in Non-Conference Tilt Triumph

BY RON WITT
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

The Xavier Hawks pulled away from a cold-shooting Milwaukee Jordan club in the second half here Wednesday night to rack up its third win of the young season, 74-59.

Although the Hawks had four men in double figures, it was their tight defensive play that kept the stubborn Cardinals at bay. Coach Gene "Torchy" Clark threw a hustling 2-3 zone at Jordan, and the Cardinals were forced to take long outside shots all night.

Two things point up Xavier's ball-hawking ability. First, the Milwaukee team was held to a meager 29.8 per cent from the field, hitting only 22 of 76 shots. Second, the Hawks not only stopped flashy junior guard Tim Kelley, but stopped him cold. Kelley, who had 23 markers in

Maple Leafs Explode to Trim Chicago

Erase 2-0 Deficit With 6 Goals in Last Two Periods

TORONTO (AP) — The Toronto Maple Leafs, led by Frank Mahovlich and Eddie Shack, exploded for six goals in the second and third periods to erase a 2-0 deficit and walloped the first place Chicago Black Hawks in the National Hockey League Wednesday night 6-3.

Mahovlich and Shack each scored two goals.

The victory moved the second place Leafs to within one point of the leading Hawks.

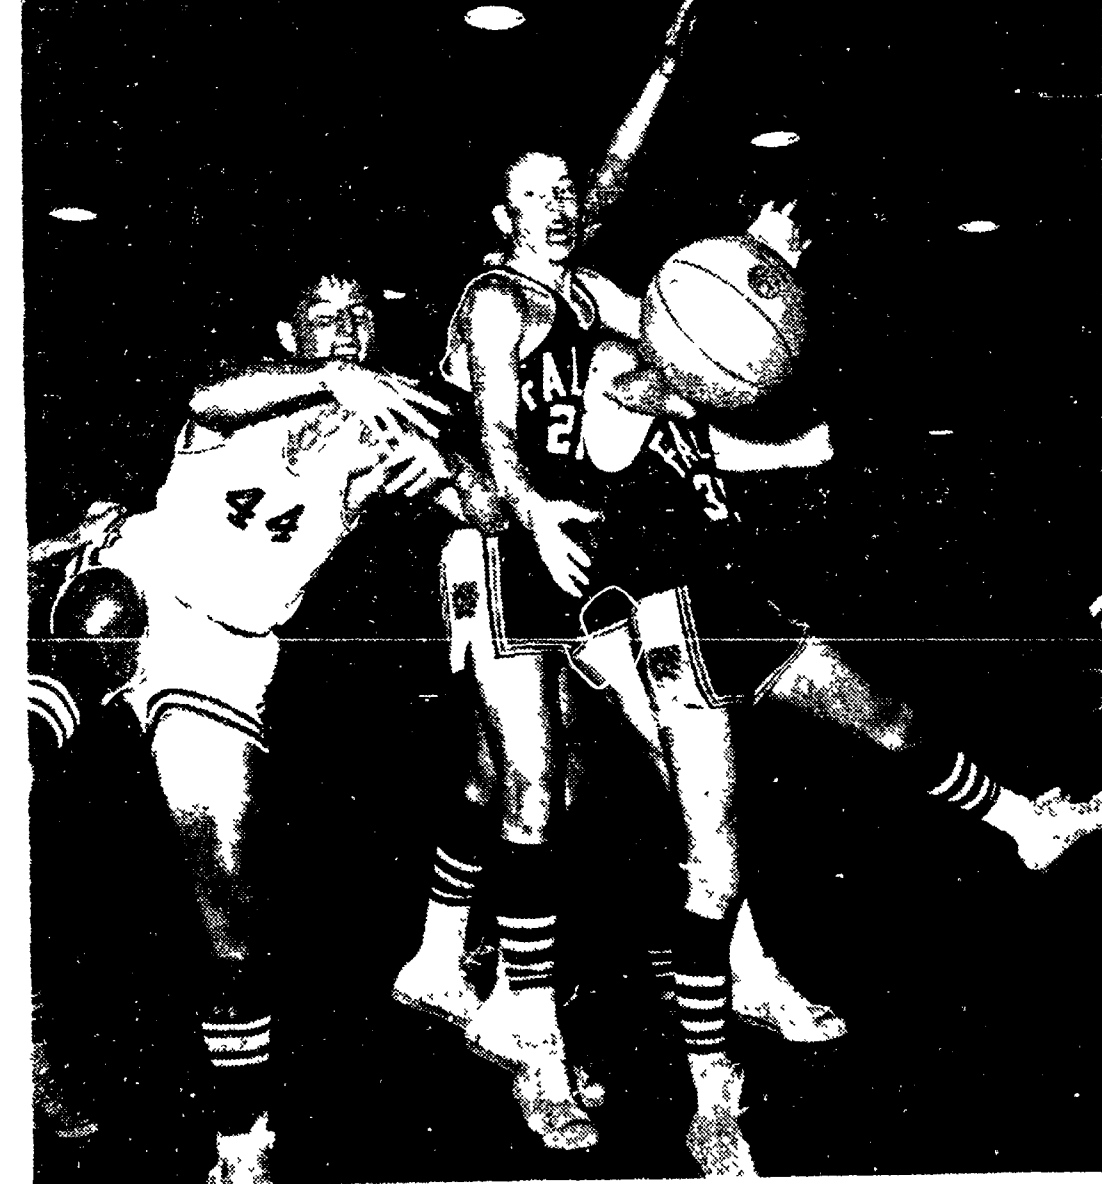

With the score tied at 2-2, Shack rammed home the goal that put Toronto ahead at 17:30 of the second period. His second goal came at 3:47 of the third period and gave the Leafs a 4-2 lead.

Mahovlich broke the scoring ice for Toronto after Stan Mikita and Ken Wharram had given Chicago a 2-0 lead at the end of the first period. Mahovlich made it 2-1 at 3:35 of the second period and John Brenneman's goal at 10:42 tied it at 2-2 to set the stage for Shack.

Mahovlich tallied his second goal at 19:48 of the third period after Dennis Hull had scored for the Hawks at 17:27.

his debut last week against University Lake School, had only three fouls to show for his performance against Xavier.

Control of Boards

However, the Cardinals of coach Larry Kujawa got an outstanding effort from 6-3 center Steve Volkman to keep the game close for the first three quarters. Xavier raced quickly to a 6-0 lead on two baskets by Gene Jack and Dan Hardy's turn-around jumper, but Volkman got momentary control of the boards and the Cards struck back for a 10-9 advantage on Terry Marcou's drive. The Hawks hit six straight points only to have Jordan come right back. The opening quarter ended 15-14, Xavier.

The Hawks pulled into a 30-24 advantage early in the second period, but Jordan rallied again and led for the last time at 32-31 on Volkman's 10-foot jumper. Then, Gene Jack hit a long jumper, and reserve Tom Thompson got two key buckets including one at the horn, to give Xavier a 37-33 edge at the intermission.

Any hopes Jordan had of upsetting the Hawks went down the drain in the early moments of the third quarter, when in rapid succession, Hardy drove the lane, Brad Graf connected on a long jumper, Gene Jack hit a driving lay-up and Pat Fitzgerald potted a free toss. The string made it 44-33, and Jordan never seriously threatened after that.

Xavier built leads to as much as 21 points in the final frame at 72-51. Gene Jack continued to set the scoring pace for the Hawks with 22 points, Pat Fitzgerald finished with 18, Dan Hardy fired in 12 and Tom Heinritz added 10. Volkman led the Cardinals with 22, while Terry Marcou flipped in 15 and Paul Kozlowski hit 12.

Overwhelming Vote Total

Chisox' Agee Top '66 Rookie

NEW YORK (AP) — Tommie Agee, the 24-year-old center fielder of the Chicago White Sox, was named Wednesday the American League Rookie of the Year by the vote of a committee of 20 members of the Baseball Writers Association of America.

The committee, composed of two writers from each of the 10 cities in the league, gave Agee an overwhelming total of 16 votes.

Jim Nash, the big Kansas City pitcher who reeled off a 12-1 record and a 2.06 earned run average after a late start, was second but he received only two votes.

George Scott, Boston's first baseman and home run slugger, and Dave Johnson, who took over the regular second base job with the world champion Baltimore Orioles, each received one vote.

Agee follows Curt Blefary, the Baltimore outfielder, who won the award in 1965. He was the third White Sox to take the honors. Gary Peters was the 1963 winner and Luis Aparicio, then with Chicago, was the top rookie in 1956.

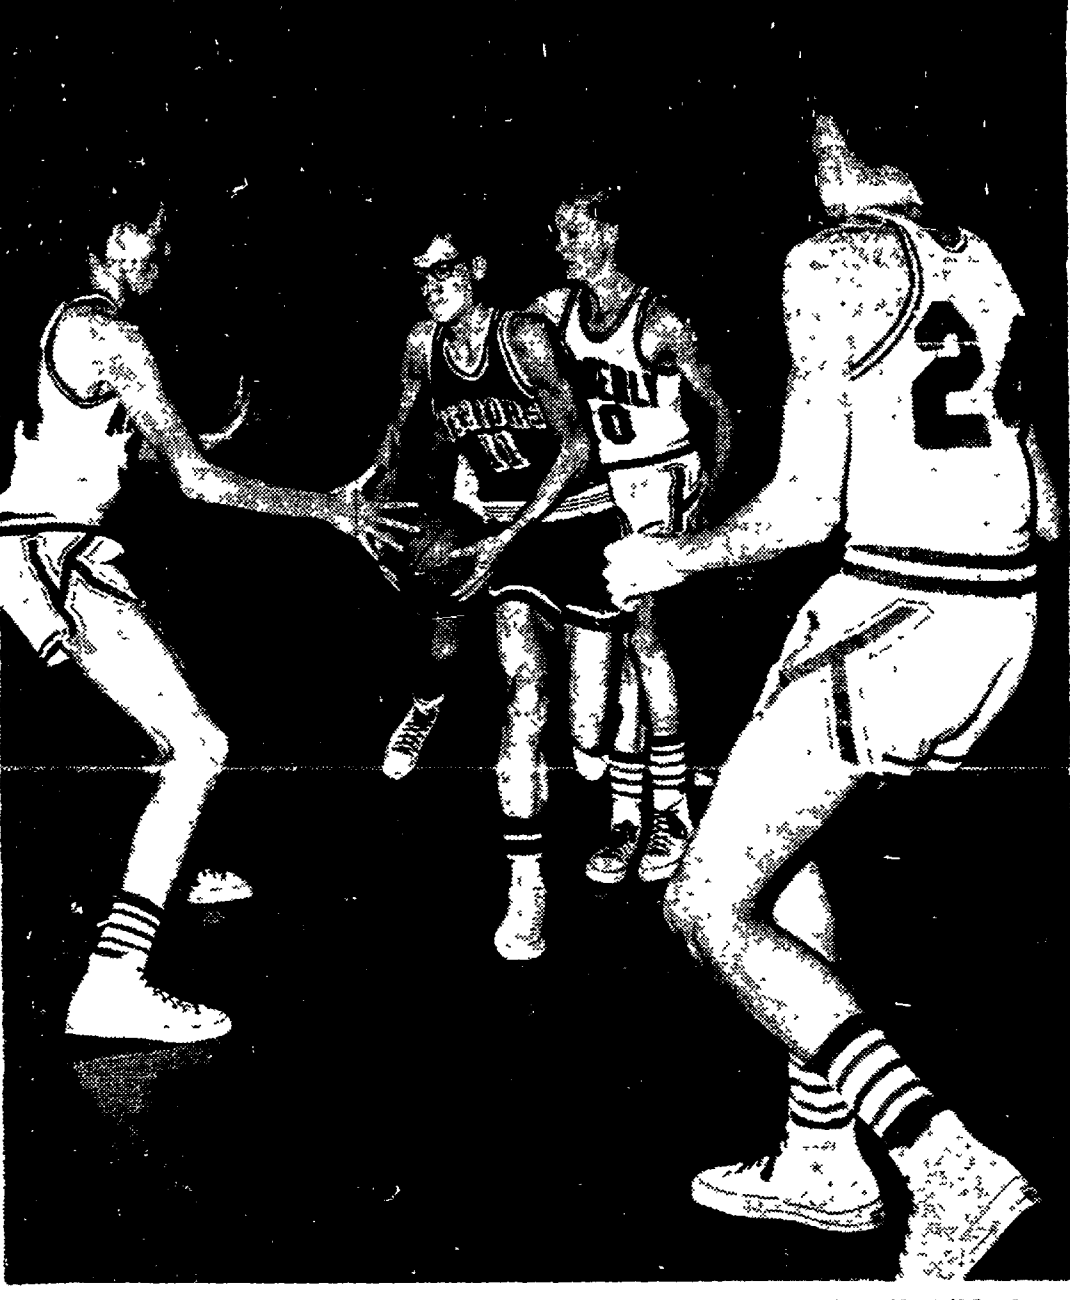

Agee moved up from the Indianapolis farm club and won the center field job in spring training at Sarasota, Fla. A fine centerfielder with the speed to steal 44 bases, Agee led the White Sox in hitting at .273, home runs with 22 and runs batted in with 86. His 172 hits also included 28 doubles and eight triples. He has been playing winter ball in the Instructional League in Sarasota.

Clinched Job

In the spring of 1965, Agee appeared to have clinched a job with the big club when he sustained a fractured right hand in spring training. His right hand had been broken in 1963 and his left hand had been cracked when hit by a pitched ball in Puerto Rico in the winter of 1963-64.

Nash, a 6-foot-5, 245-pound right-hander, was a sensation with the Athletics after moving up from the minors.

Scott hit 27 homers and batted .245 with the Red Sox although he cooled off after a hot start. Johnson took away the job of Jerry Adair last spring and hit .287 with the pennant winners.

Art Zuleger (11) of the Appleton High School basketball team, was surrounded by Kimberly Papermakers in this action at Kimberly Wednesday night. The Kimberly players are Dennis Gossens (34), Don Hagany (10) and Jeff Wildenberg (24). The Terrors open the season by handing the Papermakers their second straight setback, 60-45, in the non-conference game. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Wausau Builds Early Lead, Deals Neenah 90-76 Defeat

Lumberjacks Stay Unbeaten, In Front by 21 at Halftime

BY GEORGE MANCOSKY
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

NEENAH — Wausau High School raced to a 21-point halftime advantage and then fought off Neenah's fourth period comeback to stop the Rockets, 90-76 in a non-conference test here Wednesday night.

The Rockets, who are now 1-1 against non-league foes, trailed by 28 points at one juncture in the third segment and were down 71-51 at its conclusion.

Putting together a string of 10 points, the Rockets lowered the score to 79-67 with three minutes left to play and they were behind 11 (82-71) with 2:22 remaining. However, in the next 1:10 the Lumberjacks moved out of range by scoring eight of 11 points to go ahead by 16.

Neenah's cause was hurt when Gary Losse was forced to leave the game with a leg injury with 2:02 left. He and Larry Handler had sparked the fourth quarter comeback.

The Twin Cities had been down 19-15 at the close of the first period, but with the score tied 22-22 in the second their defense collapsed and Wausau went on a scoring binge. The visitors made 13 straight markers and then after Neenah put in four, they wound up scoring the last 12 of the quarter to make it 48-27 at halftime.

The 9-point second quarter included nine field goals in 21 attempts and 11 free throws in 13 tries. Neenah had a 23-point third period, but couldn't do anything about the lead since the total was matched by Wausau.

Five Lumberjack players hit in the double figures and two others were close. Ken Roeder and Steve Anderson each had 18 points. Neenah, and game honors, went to Losse with 23 markers. Handler added 20 for Neenah.

Wausau, which is unbeaten in two starts, shot 46 per cent from the floor on 33 of 72 and was torrid from the free throw line sinking 24 of 29 including a string of 11 straight.

The Rockets connected on 53 per cent of their field goal attempts, hitting 28 of 66, but they made only 20 of 36 free throws.

Terrors Open With Win Over Kimberly

Hoffman Leads 60-45 AHS Triumph

BY JOHN L. PAUSTIAN
Post-Crescent Sports Editor

KIMBERLY — After sputtering for better than 60 per cent of the game, the Appleton High School basketball team turned on the power in the final 12 minutes to down Kimberly, 60-45, here Wednesday night.

Making their first start of the season, the Terrors never trailed — but their once-comfortable lead was shaved to two points (32-30) with 4:49 left in the third quarter. George Hoffman then ignited the charge that enabled AHS to outscore the Papermakers, 28 to 15, in the closing stages.

The loss was the second in two non-conference starts for Kimberly, which again went to the post with a youthful lineup because its only three lettermen were still under suspension for a training-rule violation.

List 17 Points

Hoffman, firing in four of his seven field goals during AHS' pull-away operation down the stretch, produced the game's top total of 17 points. He was the only Terror in double figures. Gary Lutz was runner-up, with eight points.

The bulk of Kimberly's scoring was handled by Bill Kroner, who came off the bench to score 16 points, and Jeff Wildenberg, who notched 15.

AHS shot .345 from the field (22 of 64) and .727 from the free throw line (16 of 22) as Dick Emanuel took a 2-1 lead in his coaching rivalry with Gene Mason. Kimberly hit .358 (19 of 53) from the field and .700 from the line (seven of 10) as its series with AHS resumed after a 1-year lapse.

St. John Cagers Post 59-30 Win Over Oconto Falls

Open Season on Successful Note With Non-League Victory

BY TOM VANDERPAS
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

LITTLE CHUTE — St. John's Dutchmen ushered in their season basketball slate on a triumphant note here Wednesday night, trouncing Oconto Falls in a non-conference affair, 59-30.

The Chuters spotted the Northeastern Wisconsin Conference representative a 5-1 lead, but three buckets by Lloyd Hackel in the closing moments of the first period boosted St. John to a 13-9 advantage at the quarter.

Notching 15 markers in the second canto, while limiting the Panthers to a mere four, the Dutchmen were well out of range at 28-13 by halftime.

7 Quick Points

The ball-hawking of Tim Hartjes and seven quick points by Don Eckes early in the third period put the game out of reach, as the Chuters extended their margin to 40-13.

Hackel and Eckes paced the Fox Valley Catholic Conference entry with 18 and 15 tallies, respectively, as the Chuters

Baltimore Trims Team to Allow for Possible Draft

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore Orioles announced Wednesday that they have assigned outfielder Dave Roberts to Rochester of the International League.

The move reduces Baltimore's winter roster from 40 to 39 players, one below the maximum. An Orioles' spokesman said the move was made to make room for a possible draft choice in next week's major league draft.

Aggie Coach Has Pact Extended

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The Texas A&M board Wednesday extended for six years the contract of head football Coach Gene Stallings, Chairman H. C. Heldenfels said.

The former Aggie grid star also received a substantial increase in salary, Heldenfels said. He declined to disclose Stallings' present salary or the new figure under the contract through 1972.

The 31-year-old Aggie coach puts a 4-4-1 season record on the line against Texas here Saturday. Stallings played on the last Aggie team to beat Texas in Austin. That was in 1956.

Vikings 'Paid' for Win Over Packers

Post-Crescent News Service

GREEN BAY — The Vikings paid dearly for their 20-17 victory over the Packers in Green Bay Nov. 6. . . like so:

They came out of the battle with eight injured — two for the season.

They lost the next two games. And the hero of the Lambeau Field Episode, one Fran Tarkenton, didn't even start two Sundays later.

While all this was going on, the Packers enjoyed a weekend off and then got back on the winning track by beating the Bears 13-6.

On Waiver List
Halfback Tommy Mason and linebacker John Kirby were placed on the injured waiver list after the Packers game, knocking them out for 1966; offensive end Paul Flatley missed the next two games with injuries; and linebacker Lonnie Warwick suffered a broken bone in his wrist, though wore a light cast in the next two games.

Flatley might be ready for the Packer-Viking clash in Minnesota Sunday. Mason and Kirby were replaced by halfback Billy Ray Barnes and end-linebacker John Powers, both veterans removed from the taxi squad. Warwick also will play Sunday.

After Green Bay, the Vikings lost a 32-31 heartbreaker to the Lions in Minnesota and the obvious difference was the record-breaking field goal performance of Garo Yepremian. The "Sparrow," a left-footed soccer type kicker, booted six field goals.

Pride of Preble
Ron VanderKelen, the pride of Preble, was given the starting assignment against the Rams last Sunday and Coach Norm Van Brocklin explained that he wanted to "test everybody with an eye on the future." Vandy completed six of 15 passes for 20 yards before Tarkenton replaced him in the third quarter.

The Rams won the rain-splattered game, 21-6, but it took a large break to turn the trick in the fourth quarter. The score was 12-6 just after Fred

Cox kicked a 44-yard field goal and the Vikings forced the Rams to punt. The fired-up Vikings were ready to move but Lance Rentzel fumbled the punt and the Rams recovered deep in Viking territory. The Rams scored — with a tinge of luck, Paul Winston tackled Roman Gabriel and the LA QB fumbled into the end zone where Billy Truax recovered for a touch-down.

Lost No Sting
Packer Coach Vince Lombardi, after viewing films of the Viking-Ram game, said "The Vikings played a helluva tough game," indicating that Minnesota lost none of the sting they had in Green Bay.

Tarkenton, in view of his showing in the first Packer game, will get the starting nod Sunday. He was nothing short of phenomenal in Green Bay — especially with his scrambling. He completed 16 of 26 passes for 172 yards and set up two one-yard TDs by Bill Brown with his throwing.

Despite the two losses, the Vikings continued to play well on defense. The Lions and Rams piled up 10 field goals, accounting for 39 of the 53 points permitted. The Vikes allowed only three TDs in the two games and a safety.

The Packers finish the second day of rough drills for the Viking game this afternoon and then sit down to a Thanksgiving Day dinner with their families at the Beaumont Inn.

Soviets Crack Down on Two Hockey Stars
MOSCOW (AP) — The Russians are cracking down on the behavior of both their athletes and fans.

Two leading members of the world ice hockey team, Captain Viktor Kuzkin and Yevgeny Mishakov, have been booted off the team for the rest of the season.

Tass, the official news agency, said they were disciplined for breach of peace in a public place. Meanwhile, four Soviet soccer stars complained that some sports fans here poison the atmosphere in Soviet stadiums by pers, blaring trumpets and rattling noise-makers.

They said these practices were picked up from habits dominating at some foreign stadiums and have no place here.

They suggested that authorities eject offensive fans from stadiums and make sure they do not have seats in stadiums again.

The complaint was made in a letter to the newspaper Soviet Sport.

Sue Jentz and Darlene Beyer Hit National Honor Counts

Slams 602 and 600 Counts in Same Loop; Carol Rosz Has 567

It's rare enough when one woman records a national honor count, but both Sue Jentz and Darlene Beyer turned the trick in the Hit 'n Miss League at the 41 Bowl Tuesday night.

Sue and Darlene didn't hit 'n Miss, they "hit 'n connected" as Sue blasted a 602 series and Darlene had an even 600 count.

It was the first time this season that two national sets have been recorded in a league in the Fox Cities area. The counts were the sixth and seventh to be rolled by Fox Cities women.

Sue rolled games of 237, 166 and 199 for the 602 series. Darlene had a 213 game, followed with a 189 and closed with a 198.

Referee-in-Chief Of NHL Plans to Investigate Injury

DETROIT (AP)—Ian (Scotty) Morrison, referee-in-chief of the National Hockey League, said he intends to investigate the injury of Detroit Red Wing player Bryan Watson in Saturday's game with the Chicago Black Hawks.

"I have had no directive to look into it," Morrison said Wednesday. "But when a player is cut for 18 stitches without a penalty, it's customary to check with the referee who handled the game to find out what happened."

The Black Hawks won the game 7-2. Morrison said he has not yet spoken to Vern Buffey, the referee in the Chicago game.

"All I know about the incident is heresay," Morrison said. Watson was injured in the second period when hit above the right eye by Chicago's Bobby Hull.

Florida State Will Play in Sun Bowl Game

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Florida State University accepted a bid Wednesday to play in the Sun Bowl, sending its offensive-minded football squad against Western Athletic Conference champion Wyoming in El Paso, Tex., Dec. 24.

The Florida State Seminoles, led by quarterback Gary Pajcic, have a 5-4 record for the season. One of FSU's triumphs was over the highly rated Miami Hurricanes, bound for the Liberty Bowl.

The Wyoming Cowboys finished 9-0 in the WAC and have a 9-1 over-all record.

Dallas, Cleveland Tilt Tonight Most Important In History for Cowboys

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — The Dallas Cowboys and Cleveland Browns meet here Thanksgiving night in a game that is considered the most important in Dallas' seven years of National Football League competition. The Cowboys are tied for first with St. Louis in the Eastern Conference. Cleveland is one-half game behind.

"It will be difficult for any other team than ourselves to beat the Browns," said Coach Tom Landry of the Cowboys.

"If we don't do it, Cleveland should win the championship. If we lose, we are not going to be out of contention mathematically, of course, but we'll be out of it in fact."

OHS Matmen Edge Terrors

Rally in Final 2 Matches; AHS Has No 95-Pounder

OSHKOSH — The Oshkosh wrestling squad scored pins in the final two matches of the card to notch a come-from-behind 25-21 victory over Appleton High School Tuesday night. The Terrors had some measure of consolation by winning the preliminary junior varsity match, 28-18.

The Appleton varsity got off to a bad start, when none of the Terrors slated for action could make the 95-pound weight limit. As things turned out, the forfeit cost the Terrors five points and probably the meet.

However, strong performances by Mike Breitzman, Scott Ferguson, Don Dafee and Jim Michalkiewicz brought AHS from behind to take a 21-15 advantage. Then Oshkosh's Bob Schaeffer pinned Steve Sheppard in 3:15, and Dave Patzlatt pinned Jim Kloes in 1:01.

The Terror jayvees got pins from Mike Losse (at 103 pounds) and Jim Crowell (145) on their way to the victory. Dick Dafee, Chuck Guyle, Dave Hofmeister and Steve Kagen registered wins on decisions.

The Terrors take on Menasha next Tuesday on the Terrors home mats. The Jayvee matches beginning at 6:30 p.m. and the varsity matches slated for an hour later.

Varsity results:

95—Appleton forfeited.

103—Mike Breitzman (A) pinned Dan Wolf (O) in 3:15.

112—Randy Warobick (A) and Pete Gumz (O) drew.

120—Bruce Huelsbeck (A) decided Joe Le Roy, 4-1.

127—Paul Lakey (A) and Bob Amundson (O) drew.

133—Paul Redenan (O) decided Jim Crane (A), 5-3.

138—Dave Moen (O) decided Gary Feldt, 6-0.

Dallas Leads in 4 Team Categories

Browns Have Best Rushing Attack; Green Bay Tops in Pass Defense

NEW YORK (AP) — Cleveland has the best running game in the National Football League, Dallas has the best defense against rushing. When they meet Thursday in the Cotton Bowl, the collision should shake the earth.

The Cowboys, tied with St. Louis for the Eastern Conference lead, are first in four team categories in the latest NFL statistics released Wednesday.

Dallas has the best total offense with an average gain of 402.4 yards and the best passing attack with an average gain of 252.6 yards. The Cowboys also lead in total defense, yielding an average of 228.1 yards and are tops in rushing defense with a stingy 71.4 yards per game.

The Browns, with an attack built around Leroy Kelly and Ernie Green, have averaged 167.7 yards on the ground. Green Bay is the other team leader first in pass defense with an average of 120.3 yards.

Dallas leads in scoring with 340 points in 10 games. Green Bay has given up the fewest points, 107 in 10 games.

The Chicago Bears have been able to give their passer the best guarantee against being thrown for a loss while trying to get the ball in the air. The Bears' passer has been thrown only 18 times for 147 yards. The most effective pass rush has been Dallas, which nailed the quarterback 39 times.

Offer Atlanta Stadium for Super Bowl

ATLANTA (AP) — Atlanta Stadium was offered Wednesday to the National and American Football Leagues as a site for the Super Bowl meeting of the two league champions Jan. 8.

The NFL and AFL reportedly have been considering holding the first playoff between the leagues in the Los Angeles Coliseum or in the Sugar Bowl in New Orleans, La.

John McFale, president of the Atlanta Braves, sent a telegram to Pete Rozelle, commissioner of the NFL, offering the use of the stadium and the support of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce.

Rozelle was told that the Atlanta Braves, the Atlanta Stadium Authority, the Atlanta Falcons and the Chamber of Commerce were backing the drive to get the playoff game in Atlanta.

Rozelle said in New York that Atlanta was one of the cities leagues in the Los Angeles Col-

Director of Illinois Athletics Resigns Position

URBANA, Ill. (AP) — Resignation of Douglas R. Mills, 58,

s director of intercollegiate athletics at the University of Illinois was announced today.

Prof. Leslie A. Bryan, faculty representative in the Big Ten Conference, will serve as acting director effective Dec. 1.

President David D. Henry said Mills wrote:

"Because it is my decision that the athletic association needs fresh and new leadership, I wish to step down from the position as director of intercollegiate athletics."

Wants to Fight Every Two Months

Clay Tells Atlanta Fans He Would Like to Defend Title in Their City

ATLANTA (AP) — Cassius Clay said Wednesday he would like to stage the next defense of his heavyweight boxing championship in Atlanta "because country people like you all don't very often get a chance to see a really big fight."

Clay, who now uses the name of Muhammad Ali, paid for a luncheon for 40 persons — at which he devoured a second big helping of roast beef — to drum up interest in holding a title fight in this Georgia capital.

"There never has been a title fight in Atlanta, and this would put me in history," Clay said.

"We have a lot of cities wanting my next fight with Ernie Terrell, but if all offers are equal, I would rather fight here because you folks have never gotten to see a champion."

Nod Concrete Plans
Clay said he would like to hold his next championship fight in two or three months, but no concrete plans have been made to stage the bout in Atlanta.

Paul Jones, Atlanta wrestling promoter, said he would be interested in staging a championship bout next summer in Atlanta Stadium if Clay could find a top opponent that would attract Dixie fans.

Clay, who met with high school and college students in Atlanta and Mayor Ivan Allen before leaving for Tuskegee Institute in Alabama, told a news conference that he wants to fight every two months to keep boxing from becoming dull.

"Those other champions, they had a title fight only once a year and almost killed the game," Clay said. "Since I fight every two months, I have to find new cities."

Lot of Followers
"Atlanta is a nice city, and I have a lot of followers here. Atlanta has a nice stadium, and by fighting in the first title fight here that would keep up my image of doing something new all the time."

Clay said Las Vegas, Nev., New York, Houston, Chicago, Detroit, Philadelphia and his home town of Louisville, Ky., all are interested in putting on his next championship bout.

Told that former champion Joe Louis had said he thought in his prime he could have beaten Clay, the talkative champion replied:

"Joe Louis is my friend, and he was the man of the day. But I wouldn't be no match for me. He was flatfooted, and he would scare him to death with my talk."

Chances on Line Today

Nebraska Still Hopes For National Crown

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — Nebraska puts its faintly glimmering hope for a national championship on nationwide television, and Oklahoma will be out to show the country the kind of football it plays, when the two collide here today.

The stadium crowd is expected to be 45,000 but could go higher with temperatures expected to reach in the upper 70s.

The Cornhuskers of Coach Bob Devaney have already secured the Big Eight Conference title and are ranked fourth nationally. Nebraska, which has won 19 straight regular season games, is seeking its second straight unbeaten season.

While most folks figure the national title rests between Notre Dame and Michigan State, Nebraska considers itself a top candidate.

Unbeaten, Untied

winner of that Sugar Bowl match Jan. 2 would be in a position for title consideration.

But not unless Nebraska beats Oklahoma.

The Sooners will be performing before television for the first time under new Coach Jim Mackenzie, who has piloted Oklahoma from a losing season last year to a 5-3 record.

Oklahoma has dropped three of its last four games, with the first of the defeats coming against Notre Dame, just after the Sooners had been ranked 10th in the nation.

Bob Churchich is the Cornhuskers' field general, and his backfield of Harry Wilson, Pete Tatman and Ben Gregory all rank among the top ball carriers in the Big Eight.

The defensive crew is led by All-American candidate middle guard Wayne Meylan, while another top performer is halfback Larry Wacholtz, who's stolen seven passes this season.

Recall Holocaust of Last Thanksgiving Eve

KEOKUK, Iowa (AP) — It was square-dancing night in the Keokuk National Guard Armory, and more than 60 couples were twirling to the strains of "King of the Road."

At 9:34 that Thanksgiving Eve just a year ago the armory burst into a terrible ball of flame.

Twenty-one persons died from the explosion and fire. The survivors in this southeastern Iowa town still live with memories they cannot erase.

Kenny Anderson, who was calling the dance that night for the Swing Ezy Square Dance Club and escaped with minor burns, said:

"All of a sudden I heard a big explosion and felt a big heat blast. It blew me right out a door and window. I looked back and saw a lot of rafters and everything laying all over people. They were crying, and one man came running out of the building all ablaze."

"Everything happened so quickly. I can close my eyes and see things a lot better than I can tell them."

The Iowa fire marshal's office later said a broken natural gas line outside the building caused the explosion.

Although not accepting blame for the holocaust, the Keokuk Gas Service Co. says it has settled all of the more than 100 claims filed against it.

More than $231,000 has been contributed to a fund to aid survivors and their families. Fund officials report more than $51,000 has been paid out. College scholarships are being set up for children of the dead.

Members of other square dance clubs kept sending money until the Swing Ezy Benefit Foundation finally ran an advertisement in a dancers' magazine asking them to stop.

Workmen are clearing away debris of the ruined armory in preparation for the erection of a new one on the site.

The Swing Ezy Club is back dancing again — but across the Mississippi River in Hamilton, Ill. They don't call "King of the Road" any more at the dances.

Auto Recall Not Helping Lagging Sales

Defects Revealed In Half Million U. S., Foreign Makes

DETROIT (AP) — The auto industry, already beset with a sales lag and production cutbacks, has another worry today — the possible effects of a safety-recall campaign involving more than a half million cars and trucks.

The industry confirmed Tuesday reports from Washington that a wide variety of potential auto safety hazards had been discovered in recent months.

It was small consolation to U.S. manufacturers that some foreign competitors, ranging from the swanky Rolls-Royce of England to Japan's Honda motorcycle, were in the same boat.

Potential Trouble

The majority of the 527,962 U.S.-built cars and trucks involved in the recall were checked out in recent weeks, but additional thousands of owners were sent notification by registered mail that a potential trouble item had been uncovered in their cars.

Industry sales in October and early November ran about five per cent below a year ago.

The sales lag has caused all four major automobile firms to slice production.

Owners of recalled cars were told that costs of labor and replacement of parts would be met by the manufacturers.

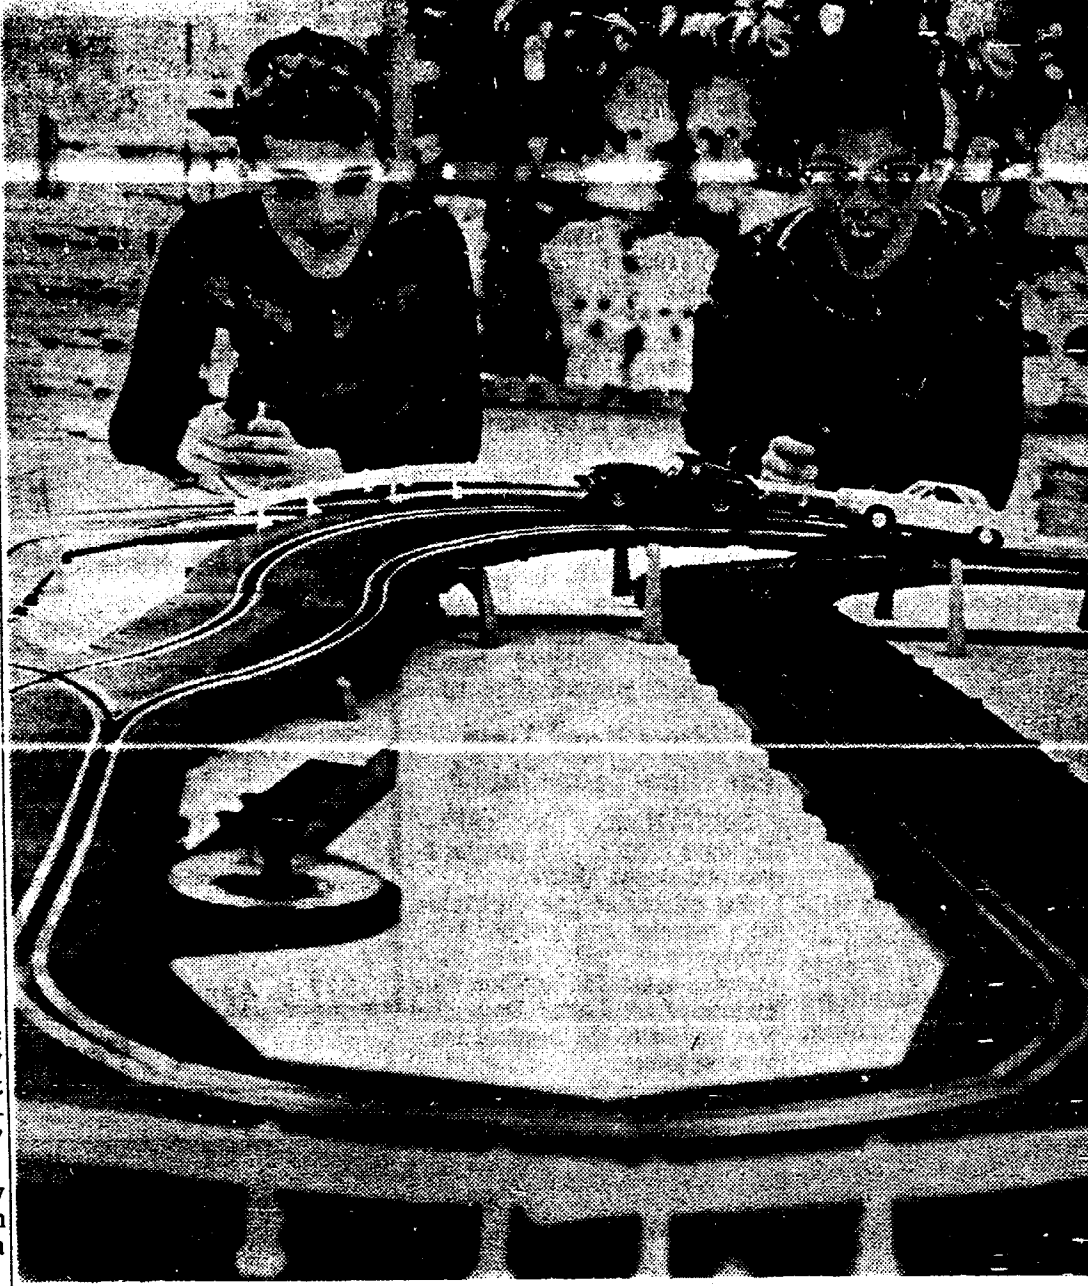

Federal Watchdog

The recall is the first conducted with the federal government as watchdog in accordance with provisions of the Highway Safety Act of 1966. It requires auto manufacturers to notify the federal government promptly if they discover any car defects after the vehicles go on sale.

The law provides that the secretary of commerce could make public as little or as much as he wanted of the defect reports.

On cars and trucks built in this country, main defects are faulty braking systems and throttles which could stick at high speeds, the government said.

In the import category, the defects ranged from slipping gearshifts on Honda motorcycles to defective brake hoses on Rolls-Royce's Silver Shadow line.

Christmas Safety Tip

Careful Selection of Tree, Proper Care Prevents Fire

Preparations for the holiday season are about to begin, and in more than 50 million American homes Christmas trees will be lighted as part of the holiday observance.

A Christmas tree, properly cared for, can be a joy. A Christmas tree that is allowed to dry out becomes a fire hazard.

To assist you in enjoying a Merry Christmas and a firesafe one, the American Insurance Association presents these suggestions about the purchase and care of your Christmas tree:

Keep It Wet

When you buy a tree this year, take your time. Feel the needles to be sure the tree is a fresh one. Brush the needles with your hand, and if some of them drop off, choose another tree. If needles, when brushed, drop off of all trees, choose another seller. Don't be afraid to shop around.

When you have taken your tree home, if possible keep it out of doors until you are ready to place it in its stand and decorate it. If you have no place to keep it out of doors, keep it in a non-heated garage or some other cool place. And, immediately, stand the tree in a pail of water. A freshly cut tree will "drink" water and help keep itself fresh and green.

And don't bring the Christmas tree inside until just before Christmas.

You can keep your Christmas tree fresh longer by placing it in the coolest part of the room. Select a location which is away from radiators, hot air ducts, heaters, and fireplaces.

When you buy a stand for the tree, select one which has a water container in which the trunk can rest. The tree will continue to "drink" water in doors, and more than you probably imagine. Check the metal container every day and refill it regularly.

Flameproof Trim

Always use flameproof decorations when trimming the tree. Preferably, you should use those made of glass, metal or fire-resistant material.

Check the wires and sockets of Christmas tree lights several days before decorating the tree. If a string of lights has frayed wires, it should be discarded. Buy new ones and when you make your purchase, be sure the lights bear the UL label of Underwriters Laboratories.

If possible, Christmas tree lights should be controlled by a switch some distance from the tree. A switch away from the tree makes it easier to shut off the electricity in case of trouble in the wiring.

If part of your Christmas display includes an electrical train, the tracks should be set up away from the tree. A spark from a toy train under a tree could cause a Christmas fire.

Turn off Lights

Turn off Christmas tree lights at bedtime, and when there is no one in the room — and always when nobody is home.

Your Christmas tree should be checked frequently for dryness. In particular, check the needles on the tree near lights. If needles near a light are dry and brittle, change the position of the light. If the tree becomes so dry that the needles are falling in volume, take the tree down.

Never decorate metal trees with Christmas lights — with metal trees there is always danger of an electrical shock or short circuit, the American Insurance Association says. Off-the-tree lighting should be used to give both a safe and attractive illumination.

When Christmas gifts are opened, gather up gift wrapping immediately. Fold and put away any wrappings you may want to save and other paper, boxes, cords or ribbons should be gathered together and disposed of.

When you take your tree down after the Christmas season, discard it outside, and remember to treat it as a fire hazard until it is removed.

NEW YORK (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. Giancarlo Uzielli announced the birth today of a son in Lying-In Hospital, Manhattan.

Think Ahead, Dad

Helpful Hints for Homestyle Santas

Homestyle Santas usually need help! And to aid Pop in his Christmas chores, consultants suggest these tips to lighten the load:

1. Think ahead. Many chores that are left for Christmas Eve can be done in advance to save time and tempers. For instance, locate the Christmas tree stand in advance and make sure it is in working order. The tree itself also should be purchased ahead of time. It will keep perfectly well outdoors until ready for trimming, and chances are you'll have a better selection from which to choose if you pick yours early.
2. Share preparations. The more that everyone participates in holiday preparations, the more meaningful the spirit of the season becomes for each member of the family.
3. Play Safe. Every year at this time, accidents mount in the home. Faulty wiring, inflammable decorations and ornaments can cause fires, and ladders can fall — the accident list is long. So be sure your paper decorations are flameproof, and your tree lights are in perfect working order. Make certain that extension cords are tucked safely in place, and that candles and matches are out of reach of small children.

Check Ornaments

Also check out the ornaments and tree lights to see whether replacements are needed and repairs are in order. And finally, if complicated toys need assembly, start chores several evenings ahead. Many a frantic father can attest that some instruction leaflets require the skills of a computer and the mind of an Einstein to decipher!

When you take your tree down after the Christmas season, discard it outside, and remember to treat it as a fire hazard until it is removed.

Family Photos Are Christmas Tradition

Easy-to-Use Equipment Makes Home Photography More Exciting

Family fun pictures are a Christmas tradition in many, many homes. Lately with the introduction of simplified operation and easy-to-use equipment, the photos are getting more professional and more exciting. Flash bulbs are used (even by camera-shy Mom) and color is "in."

Now for the next step . . . movies. Many who once considered motion pictures either too expensive or too complex — or both — are now producing handsome, heart-war-ming highly personal home movies. With new equipment and instant-loading film, most of the technical problems have disappeared.

Plan Movies — If you are branching into the field of Hollywood-at-home you may be interested in these tips from camera plan ahead. You have 50 feet of film, enough for a bit over three minutes of shooting time. That is longer than it sounds! So don't cut your individual scenes short. The minimum length should be seven or eight seconds; count to 15 and you will be just about right.

Read the booklet that comes with your camera very carefully. You will find that many problems have been presolved.

For example, one new camera features a red light which lets the subject know when the action should start. Just like TV. Another new boon is a built-in light meter which automatically balances ground and sky light, eliminating a problem which has annoyed photographers for years.

Introduce the camera to your subjects. Rehearse them briefly. Tell them what you plan to cover, how long it will take.

Get a story line. For example, you can build a whole film around Christmas by starting off with Mother, late on Christmas Eve, piling packages under the tree. Then show her, sleepy-eyed as the children race for their gifts early the next morning.

Following scenes could include Mom getting the small fry ready for church, greeting guests, cooking and serving the dinner, cleaning up, and finally (with a clock in the background) — collapsing. With such a working outline, you can show the important events and people that made the day memorable, and still have a continuity and a star.

With simplified equipment, and a bit of imagination, you may win the Neighborhood Oscar.

Don't Fight Grain When Carving Yuletide Goodies

The first rule of carving to remember is that all meat has grain. Meat grain may be best visualized as bunches of tiny, closely-grouped tubes, each brimming with savory juices. When the meat is cut with the grain, the slices will consist of these tubes, side by side — in other words, chewy or tough.

When meat is cut across the grain, the slices are made up of short lengths of these tubes standing end on end — tender and holding all their natural juices.

To carve a rib or standing roast, you will need a roast slicer such as the knife with "finger-grip" notched handle and a blade guaranteed sharp.

Holidays Hard Time For Nine-Year-Old

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Holidays seem to be a jinx for 9-year-old Donna Myers.

She celebrated one Christmas with measles and another with chicken pox; one Easter with measles again and another with mumps. Last Labor Day, she was rushed to the hospital with an arm injury.

$8,000 Picasso

Thieves Couldn't Satisfy Fence of Valuable Art

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Two young men have admitted trying to sell a stolen Picasso watercolor to various underworld fences, but were turned down because the fences thought it was a worthless copy, police said.

The youths told police they sneaked the Picasso out of the Philadelphia Museum of Art Nov. 14 inside a hollowed-out artist's sketching pad.

3 Suggestions to Make Life Easier At Holiday Time

For quick holiday clean-ups, keep an extra bottle of pine cleaner and a sponge in your kitchen closet. Triple-duty pine cleaner cleans, disinfects and deodorizes all at once.

There is no doubt about it, evergreens and the entire garden appear much more attractive when the Christmas lights are on. But the bulbs should be placed so that they do not touch the needles of the evergreens and one should check the position of them each day. Winds may shift them out of position.

Just before setting up the tree, saw off the trunk at an angle at least one inch above the original cut. Place tree in water, making sure the level of water is above cut at all times. Make sure the tree is well supported and is placed away from sources of heat such as fireplaces or radiators and where it will not block any exits in case of fire.

Nurses Advised to Get Set for Future Trips to the Moon

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — Nurses here have been advised to think of working in outer space — and even on the moon.

"Who says nurses won't land on the moon? They will," was the confident prediction of the International Nurses Council's retiring deputy executive director Gwen Buttery.

"Nurses today are part of a team of specialists in a highly specialized world. In some countries they are already being prepared for the time when they will work in space," Miss Buttery added.

The painting, which the museum values at $8,000, was found undamaged in a bus terminal locker.

Thomas Chronister, 20, of New Oxford, Pa., and George L. Young, 19, of Memphis, Tenn., were being held in connection with a $200 holdup shooting Monday of a motor inn here. A third youth, Cosimo Cannella, 29, of Atlantic City, N.J., was shot to death by a policeman who stopped the trio's car shortly after the holdup.

To authenticate the painting to the fences, the youths told police, they telephoned the museum and demanded "maximum publicity" or they would burn the painting and leave the ashes in the courtyard of City Hall. They did not intend to burn the painting, police said.

Authorities said an informer told police that the painting could be found in a locker at the bus terminal. Two detectives staked out the terminal, hoping to catch the thief. They then found the locker unlocked and the painting inside.

Chronister and Young were being held without bail as accomplices in the holdup. No other charges were filed.

Card Games Will Share Counters With Puzzles

Card game variations will be evident on game counters this Christmas. One game, for example, bases play in a circular bowl shaped playing area ringed with birds; the bird cards are prime troublemakers. Another challenge involves racking up numbered cards on plastic racks.

Jigsaw puzzles are enjoying a boom. There's a particular demand for large puzzles with 1,000 and 1,500 interlocking pieces, said to appeal to insomniacs and to provide a day-to-day project for family activity, positioned on a bridge table. Solving a mystery is a new angle for jig saws, keyed to Man From U.N.C.L.E. scenes.

Octagonal puzzles are another novelty. A new series of the octagonal variety features Rembrandt paintings. The secret agents, James Bond adventures, too, are the base for a puzzle series re-enacting high points of action.

Have you received a phone solicitation lately for home improvement products? This is to state that the phone call did NOT come from Walsco.

The Walsco company was founded many years ago upon the principles of factory-direct savings for homeowners who call us. We do not solicit your business by blanket phone canvass. Nor do we canvass door to door. And we never will.

Instead Walsco depends upon the daily newspaper to carry the proper message to the public. We feel you know best when you want to buy . . . and if our products merit your consideration you will call us. You alone will decide whether our representative will call at your home. Only at your request will we arrange an appointment.

An example of Walsco solicitation can be found on Page D5 of tonight's Post-Crescent. If you are now in the market for one of these specials we invite you to call Walsco. Your questions will be answered as completely as possible and with utmost courtesy. Walsco of Appleton, 1405 South Westland Drive (On Highway 41, South of Appleton).

Individuality Counts

Gift Giving Is Easier if Man Has a Pipe Dream

The search for the personal gift which is also useful continues to harass millions of womenfolk. It seems that the longer you know a man, the more the field for highly individual presents narrows down.

The Pipe and Tobacco Council offers this ancient adage as a solution to the problem: "Ask a friend for a cigarette, accept his cigar, but never try to share his pipe." The last, says the Council, is one of those rarities among a man's possessions—a completely personal item.

Nothing you can give a man becomes a part of his life as quickly and completely as a pipe. He may look at a tie with loathing and cheerfully lend a new pen, but he keeps his beloved briars to himself.

What's more, a pipe isn't just a pipe. Women, who buy most of the pipes sold in this country, may not know it, but they can select a pipe in the same way they select any other accessory for his wardrobe. Depending on the pipe in his mouth—and the suit or jacket or sports shirt he wears with it, a man may appear rakish, scholarly, athletic, sophisticated, or domesticated... but always masculine.

Men's clothing manufacturers have caught the idea, too. The Council is always called upon to recommend pipe styles for men's fashions. It suggests the following:

1. Rough tweed jacket; a large bowled "sandblast" finished pipe, with a lumberman shank.
2. Golfer in striped or madras shirt; a short-stemmed squared shanked "bulldog" which also fits comfortably into his pocket while he tees off.

Young Executive
3. Young executive in a business suit; a bird's eye with a "billard" bowl and a quarter-curved stem.

4. Midnight blue dinner jacket; a narrow-bowled, thin-stemmed pipe with silver bank as a high fashion note.

5. For dad in his favorite armchair, drinking a glass of beer; an extra long-stemmed "television" pipe (resembling the old churchwarden style) to keep the smoke away from his eyes, lest he miss a puff or a home run.

With every pipe maker putting out a myriad assortment of shapes, sizes, and even colors, shopping for a pipe can be as much fun as looking for a new bonnet.

The above examples only emphasize the need to keep in mind the things about your man that you think about for yourself when buying accessories; the style of clothes he favors, his size, face type, habits.

Roller Rink Preacher Plays Organ for Skaters As Well as Worshippers

FARGO, N.D. (AP) — The Rev. Harvey L. Gustafson here is known as the "roller rink preacher" who pumps the pipe organ both for worshippers and skaters.

On Friday and Saturday nights, he plays the pipe organ for a skating rink across the river in Moorhead, Minn., and on Sundays, leads his St. Matthew's Lutheran congregation in singing to a small classic pipe organ built at his own expense.

First Celebrated in 1621

Thanksgiving, 345 Years Young

Although the custom of harvesting time thanksgivings were ages old before the Pilgrims set foot in Plymouth, it was the feast that they celebrated in 1621 that is regarded as the ancestor of today's great national holiday. The exact date of that first Thanksgiving is unknown, and even the presence of a turkey on the banquet table is undocumented. Here is all the colonial chronicler has to say about it: "Our harvest being gotten in, our governor sent four men on fowling, that we might after a special manner rejoice together after we had gathered the fruit of our labors. The four in one day killed as many fowl as, with a little help beside, served the presence of a turkey company almost a week. At which time, amongst other recreations, we exercised our arms, many of the Indians coming amongst us, and among the rest their greatest king Massasoit, with some ninety men, whom for three days we entertained and feasted, and they went out and killed five deer, which they brought to the plantation and bestowed on our governor, and upon the captain and others. And although it be not always so plentiful as it was at this time with us, yet by the goodness of God, we are so far from want that we often wish you partakers of our plenty."

Nurtle, the Jet-Propelled turtle, has a few choice words to say to Pinocchio in the new animated, full-length color cartoon feature "Pinocchio in Outer Space." The movie, along with Disney's Thanks-standard. Everyone in this animated puppet show is nice, including the villain, a well-meaning but sloppy escaped zoo ape who is careless with his matches and his garbage.

6:30-7:00 Channels 11-69 — Holy Lohengrin, but Batman is just barely saved from marrying Marsha (Carolyn Jones) by Alfred, who saves our hero by saying he would become a Batbigamist. Marsha, still trying to snare the Batdiamond, goes to Aunt Hilda (Estelle Winwood), busy taking a bubble bath in her cauldron, to get a potion that will really work. And it looks as if Auntie comes through when we meet a pair of toads, dressed like the Dynamic Duo.

7:30-8:30 Channels 4-5 — Star Trek concludes its two-parter (made up of the original pilot, plus additional scenes), "The Menagerie." Seems Jeff Hunter has been imprisoned on Talos as a "specimen" in a "zoo" where he was observed by Talosians as he lived through illusions forced on him by their superior will.

8-10 Channels 2-7-12 — Now that you are sated with turkey, parades and football, maybe CBS will be able to sneak The Thursday Night Movie by. It would be kinder not to pay too much attention to "Jason and the Argonauts," one of those epic epics that sends hordes and stuff like that into your living room. Familiar faces in the cast: Gary Raymond, now a regular in Ray Patrol, and Honor Blackman, who went on to fame as James Bond's Miss Galore.

8:30-9 Channels 11-69 — That Girl makes the most of a situation that is all too true in real life: the belief of soap opera fans that the actors are exactly like the characters they play. Seems Marlo Thomas is playing a seductive witch on a soap, and this is why her boy

Jingo Recommends 'Focus' Curfew Show

Appleton Discussion Feature of WFRV-TV Program Scheduled for 8:30 p.m. Friday

BY JINGO

Appleton is prominently featured in a "Focus" program dealing with curfew laws, to be shown at 8:30 p.m. Friday on WFRV-TV, Channel 5, Green Bay.

A large share of the half-hour show, narrated by Channel 5's Ed Moore, deals with the once-proposed curfew law for Appleton. The program is well-done and interesting, but somewhat beside the point, considering the curfew issue in Appleton has since died of non-support. The special was taped about a month ago, at least the segment dealing with Appleton.

At that time, Mayor George friend's mother is so cold to her. Marlo tries to clear things up by inviting Mrs. Hollinger (Mabel Albertson) to a dinner at which the show's hero is also a guest.

9-10 Channels 11-69 — Hawk will keep you guessing as Burt Reynolds goes on the trail of a missing haul from a bank robbery — $750,000. The story is episodic and has the feel of realism since Hawk, in addition to the main plot, must contend with a nervous policeman just two weeks away from retirement, some high JD's, and a killing for which he is partly responsible.

Buckley was still pushing for the law, though he admitted that support of the Council was not to be had. It is now reported that the issue will not be brought before the Council.

still a good commentary on misconceptions some persons have regarding curfew laws.

Interesting Program
Jingo viewed the program earlier this week at Channel 5 studios, and could still recommend it for general information purposes, if viewers will overlook the fact that the curfew proposal is treated as a current issue on the show.

Scenes shot at a meeting Oct. 20 in Appleton's Council Chambers, which students, school administrators and clergy attended, are quite interesting.

Also of note is an interview Moore made with a Green Bay police lieutenant, in which the

Accept $2,454 Squad Car Bid At New London

NEW LONDON — A $2,454 bid by Mullarkey Auto Sales for a 1967 model Pontiac squad car was accepted Monday by the police and fire commission. Mullarkeys bid was lowest of five submitted by New London dealers.

The new vehicle will be delivered early in 1967. The 1966 model car will be used as a second patrol car, for transporting prisoners and traveling out of the city on official business. New London had operated with a single police squad car for a number of years. Some time ago the city had a motorcycle which was used as a second patrol vehicle.

Turkey Day Has Games And Parades

BY TV SCOUT

9 a.m.-11 (Channels 2-7-12 — While the turkey is cooking you can relax and watch parades from three cities. Thanksgiving Parade Jubilee for the eighth year, presents highlights of three parades: the J. L. Hudson Parade in Detroit (with Mike Douglas and Marilyn Van Derbur covering), Eaton's Santa Claus Parade in Toronto (with Bob Denver and Jim Backus commenting) and the Macy's Thanksgiving Parade in New York (with Arthur Godfrey and Bess Myerson talking it up).

9 a.m.-11 (Channels 4-5 — Meanwhile, at the other network, concentration is on only one parade, Macy's Thanksgiving Parade. Once again, Lorne Greene and Betty White are cohorts. A spectacular highlight this year; the thrilling precision "Musical Ride" of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police Lots of bands, a smattering of celebrities, and balloons (including a new one, Smokey the Bear, making the first of two TV appearances today) lead up to Santa Claus' appearance here.

2-Conclusion Channels 11-69 — Unbeaten Nebraska travels to Norman, Okla. where the Sooners of Oklahoma try to upset the Cornhuskers in what should be an exciting NCAA Football Game.

5-Conclusion Channels 2-7-12 — The day's second National Football League Game pits the Cleveland Browns against the Dallas Cowboys from the Cotton Bowl, Dallas.

6:30-7:30 Channels 4-5 — The G-E Fantasy Hour has a charming show in "The Ballad of Smokey the Bear." Be sure to let the children watch this story, with music and lyrics by Johnny Marks, which tells how Smokey grew from a frightened little cub, mentally scarred by a terrifying experience in a forest fire to the cheerful Forest Ranger he is today. James Cagney supplies the voice of Smokey's older brother, who tells the story to his two cute cubs. The title song is catchy, and an inspirational song, "Anyone Can Move a Mountain" has a chance of becoming a

WOMEN DON'T THINK AS FAST AS MEN! RIGHT OR WRONG?

Right, at least they don't seem to in some situations. In restaurants women take longer in making up their minds. In shopping for clothes, women spend four or five times as long as men do. Studies have shown that in many situations, men le up who needs to be done and act on it much quicker than women can. But in the fields of their competence, women can act much more quickly and effectively in dealing with crises than men. Such differences usually reflect differences in experience.

Are enough teen-age girls being allowed to cook family dinners?

Yes — No —

No. A study by sociologist Theodore B. Johannis Jr. reveals that three out of four American teen-age girls set and clear the table and also do the dishes. Less than a third of the girls, however, are asked or allowed to prepare the main meal. If more mothers allowed their daughters to serve as apprentice cooks, not only would girls receive valuable training in homemaking, but also mothers would be able to spend an occasional day away from home.

A Notebook Piggy Bank Built Into the Cover

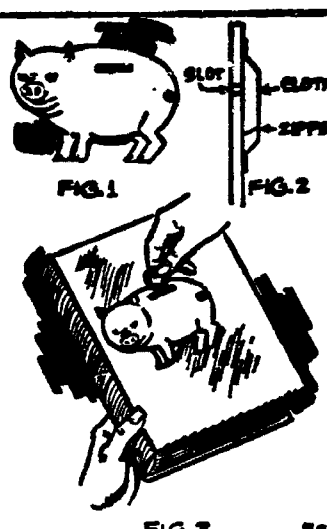

BY CAPPY DICK

A piggy bank built into the cover of your notebook binder will give you a handy place to keep spare coins for bus fare or other purposes, if you should happen to run short of pocket money.

MATURITY. Send for "How to Be an Emotional Grownup," and see for yourself why some people never "grow up." Find your own weakness and some expert pointers toward recognizing your own shortcomings. The booklet is 20 cents. Send a stamped, return envelope along with the money, to: "Let's Explore Your Mind," in care of The Post-Crescent.

Here's how to make such a bank: Draw a pig (Figure 1) on art paper and glue it to the front cover of your notebook as shown in Figure 3. Cut a slit through the pig and the book cover, making it large enough to receive coins up to a quarter in size. Sew a zipper into a small square of cloth and glue it to the inside of the cover to catch and hold the coins that are pushed through the slot; Figure 2 shows an edge view of the arrangement. There should be enough slack in the cloth to provide space for several coins. When you want to get a coin from this piggy bank, simply zip open the bag and lift it out. (Copyright 1966)

Way to Man's Heart Is Not Through Stomach but Auto

Not so long ago it was accepted that the way to a man's heart was through his stomach, but now with frozen foods and prepared gourmet meals this is no longer the route to take.

A man's preoccupation these days, especially if he is a young man, is with his car rather than his stomach. And the way to reach him is by way of his auto rather than his taste buds.

So this Christmas think of giving him a gift for his car, rather than for himself. It'll be your way of telling him that you're really with the "custom-

Golf Equipment Should Suit Person to a Tee

Bags Are of Great Variety; Should Fit Wearer Like Clothes

A dozen favorite golf balls, a pair of golf gloves, a golf cart if the giver is in a generous mood, or perhaps a golf bag is guaranteed to bring warm thanks on Christmas morning.

It's best to stay away from golf clubs, unless they can be exchanged, because they're as personal as a custom tailored suit.

And if you're thinking about a golf bag select one that suits the clubs it will carry as well as the person who will carry it.

Much Variety

There is as much variety and style today in golf bags as there is in golf clothes, says president of a California manufacturing firm whose golf bags are used on the world's most famous courses as well as on pitch-and-putt greens.

The choice of bags, says this expert, ranges from the shapes of the tops and bottoms, to their colors, their weights and their materials.

Some golfers prefer what is known as a Keystone shaped top, others an oval or rectangular top. Bottoms are round and oval. Be sure, says the manufacturer, that the bag is well balanced and will stand without toppling. This makes for easier carrying, less possible club-damage and longer wear.

There is an endless variety of these car gifts, called "custom car accessories", available at practically every auto parts dealer, including the larger department stores.

For example, one of the major manufacturers of these "goodied" as they are affectionately called by the "in" group, boasts of having 1001 items to dress up the interior, the exterior or the engine of any car of any year and claims they are available wherever there are men and cars.

One of the hottest new items this year is a set of shining chrome hub caps. What makes them wanted is the sleek "Forward thrust" torpedo dome design circled with a jet black racing stripe. A set of four retails for about $8.

Engine Parts

For his engine there's everything from a chrome waterneck to chrome battery cover to a polished aluminum injector scoop carburetor air cleaner for his going to school or to his office car with the same butterfly opening design of the "bug catcher" injectors used by the world's fastest racing cars.

Recipe for ... A Merry Christmas

Lillian Mackesy

Homemade gifts from the kitchen, whether served at home with a liberal dash of hospitality or packaged beautifully and sent with quantities of affection, simply can't be equalled. Special breads, cookies from a personal repertoire of holiday goodies can truly bring the merry spark of Christmas to others.

If the Christmas treats are to be given away as gifts, tuck the proper recipe for each one in the package or make a gaily decorated recipe card into the gift tag with the receiver's name on it.

The recipe certainly will be appreciated if it's one of these featured today. Each of the breads, cakes and cookies looks fetching and elegant ... each tastes likewise ... but the recipes are particularly simple to follow in the easy-to-make category. Since they take no time at all ... comparatively speaking ... these recipes will be repeated over and over throughout the year.

Two of the cookie variations start with basic refrigerated dough from the grocer's dairy case. The frosted cranberry bars have a base of a new cranberry bread mix which has the berry bits right in it. Pieces of pecans (or other nuts) and shredded apple are added to the mix and then the finished cakes are topped with a delicious Orange-Cream Cheese Frosting.

Even the dainty Peanut Butter Bon-Bons, made from scratch, are simple to prepare. Only six ingredients are needed and they all get mixed at once. Shaped into balls before baking, the cookies are rolled in confectioners' sugar while still warm from the oven after baking. This gives them a pretty, snowy look typical of the season.

The breads are special and of two different kinds. One Sour Cream Pecan Loaf, in miniature, are newcomers to the dairy case in original form. They're Quick Butter Layered Loaves, to which chives and onion flavors are added to give them added interest.

Here are the recipes, presented for a Merry Christmas.

CHOCOLATE-RUM SANDWICH COOKIES

- 1 roll refrigerated Chucky Choc'lit Cookies
- 1/2 cup semi-sweet chocolate pieces
- 2 tablespoons light cream
- 1/4 cup sifted confectioners' sugar
- 1 tablespoon soft butter
- 1/4 teaspoon rum flavoring
- Confectioners' sugar
- Flaked coconut

Slice cookie dough eighth-inch thick. Place on ungreased cookie sheet 2 inches apart. Bake at 350 degrees for 10 to 12 minutes. Do not overbake. Cool 2 minutes; loosen with spatula. Cool.

Melt chocolate pieces with cream over hot water. Remove from heat. Stir in butter, rum flavoring, and confectioners' sugar. Spread about teaspoon frosting between cookies, sandwich style. Spread top of each with 1/2 teaspoon frosting; sprinkle with confectioners' sugar or coconut. Recipe makes 18 cookies.

APRICOT-LEMON JEWELS

- 1 roll refrigerated Lemon Sparkle Cookies
- 1/2 cup sifted confectioners' sugar
- 1 tablespoon grated lemon peel
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- 1 teaspoon soft butter
- 3 tablespoons apricot preserves

Slice and bake cookies as directed on label. Cool. Combine confectioners' sugar, lemon peel, lemon juice and butter; mix well. Frost cookies with thin layer of glaze. Top with 1/4 teaspoon preserves. Recipe makes 36 cookies.

ORANGE FROSTED CRANBERRY BARS

- 1 package Cranberry Bread Mix
- 1 egg
- 1/2 cup water
- 1/2 cup panned, shredded apples
- 1/2 cup coarsely broken pecan pieces
- 3 ounce pkg. cream cheese
- 2 cups sifted confectioners' sugar
- 2 teaspoons grated orange rind
- 2 to 3 teaspoons orange juice

Prepare mix as directed on package, reducing water to 1/2 cup and adding shredded apple and pecans with the dry mix. Turn into 13x9-inch pan greased and floured on bottom only. Bake at 350 degrees for 25 to 30 minutes. Cool completely. Spread with frosting. To make Orange-Cream Cheese Frosting: Combine softened cream cheese, confectioners' sugar and orange rind. Add orange juice; beat until light and fluffy.

PEANUT BUTTER BON-BONS

- 1 1/2 cups flour
- 1 cup confectioners' sugar
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1 egg
- 1/2 cup soft butter
- 1/2 cup crunchy peanut butter

Combine all ingredients in large mixer bowl. Mix at low speed of mixer until well blended. Shape into balls using a rounded teaspoonful for each. Place on ungreased cookie sheets. Bake at 350 degrees for 12 to 15 minutes. Roll warm cookies in additional confectioners' sugar. Recipe makes 48 cookies.

SOUR CREAM PECAN LOAF

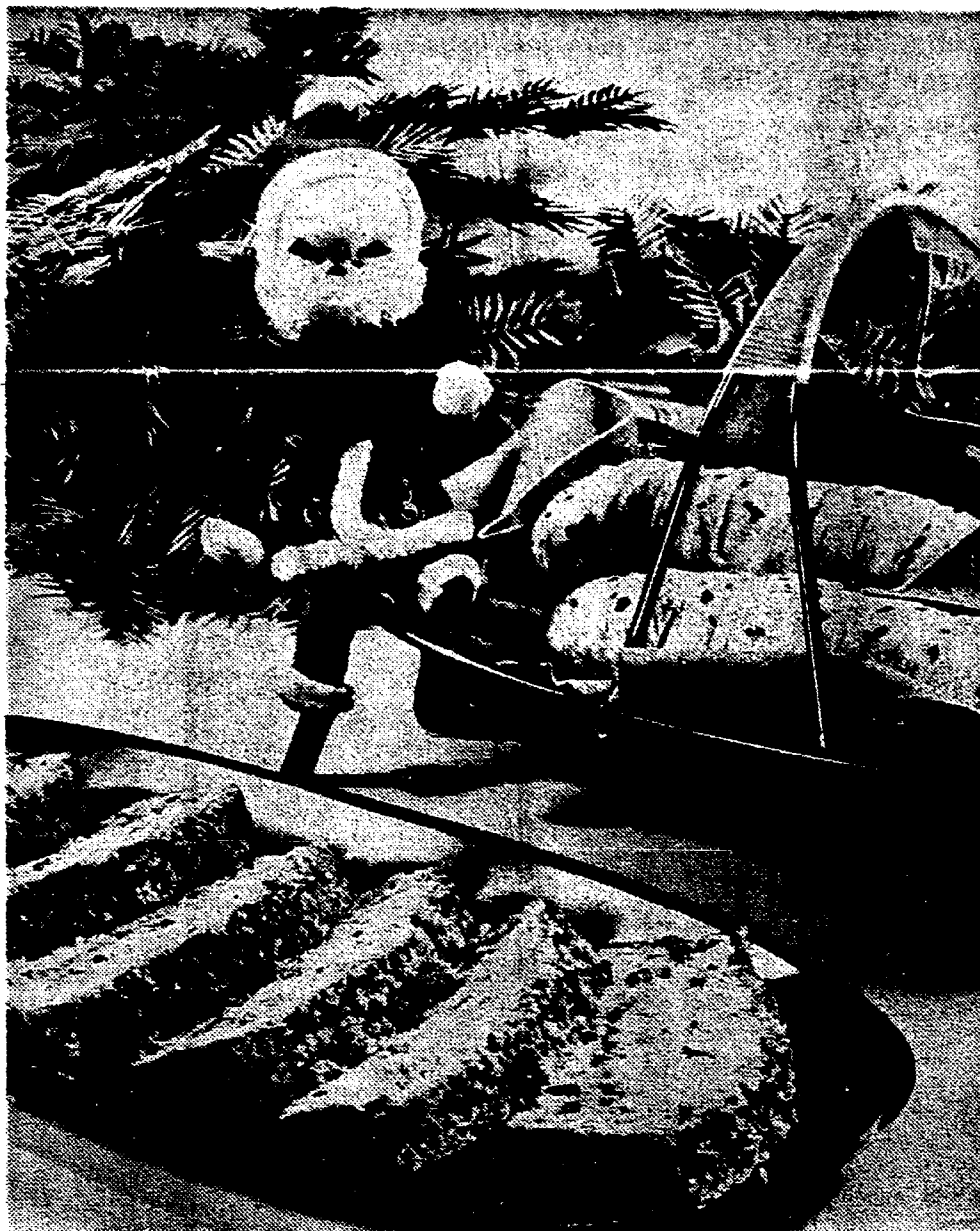

- 1 pkg. Sour Cream Coffee Cake Mix
- 1/2 cup coarsely broken pecan pieces

Prepare cake batter as directed. Stir in pecans. Spread half of batter in greased and floured 9x5-loaf pan. Top with half of Topping Mix. Spread with remaining batter and remaining Topping Mix. Bake at 350 degrees for 35 to 40 minutes. Serve warm.

CHIVE 'n ONION LOAVES

- 1 can refrigerated Quick Buttered Layered Loaves
- 1 tablespoon soft butter
- 1 1/2 teaspoons minced chives
- 1/4 teaspoon onion salt

Divide dough in half. Place each half side by side (about 3 inches apart) on ungreased cookie sheet. Combine remaining ingredients; spread on top of dough. Bake at 375 degrees 15 to 18 minutes, until golden brown. Serve hot. Recipe makes 2 loaves.

Christmas Tree Growers in Constant Search for Ways to Improve Product

BY JOHN SAWALL

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

WAUPACA — When you go shopping for that Christmas tree next month don't be too surprised if the price is slightly higher than last year. As with everything else, increased production costs have forced prices up again this year.

However, for the extra money consumers will be paying for their Christmas trees they will be getting a much improved product over what they received a few years ago.

If your tastes lean toward a large Christmas tree, it will probably be a good idea to shop early. Demands for larger trees increase each year. A few years ago the five to six foot tree was very popular. This has gone up to seven to nine foot trees.

Demand Scotch Pine

Another continuing trend in the Christmas tree market is an increased demand for Scotch pine. Demand for Scotch Pine outstrips the supply and will continue to do so for the next few years, if their popularity continues to grow as it has in the past few years, officials of General Tree Corp. here, one of the state's larger tree growers said recently.

The Scotch pine has become so popular because of its short needles and fullness, it is the only member of the pine family that resembles the balsam spruce, the traditional Christmas tree in the United States.

The balsam is in very short supply because it is a slow growing tree. Plantation owners have shied away from balsam because of its growth rate.

Spruce Lose Needles

The common spruce, which at one time was a very popular tree, is nearly nonexistent on any tree plantation. Because the tree will not retain its needles long after cutting, it cannot be shipped to distant markets.

Today the Pine tree family outranks all others in the number of Christmas trees sold. Charles Wightman, an official of General Tree Corp., said the public was pushed into buying pine trees in recent years because the pine tree is the easiest to grow and manage on tree plantations.

Growing Christmas trees has become a big business and with controlled growing and production, growers have been able to furnish the type of tree that the public demands. Ten years ago only four per cent of the Christmas trees sold were grown on plantations and the balance grew wild. Today the plantation grown figure has jumped to 60 per cent.

Must Raise Prices

It takes from seven to 11 years to raise a marketable tree on a plantation. Because of the time required and the demand for larger trees in addition to higher land and labor costs, growers are being forced to increase the price they get from the retailers.

Ranking in popularity behind the Scotch pine are the white pine and Norway pine.

When Norway pine first appeared on the market, they were either wild or the unmanaged variety. Limbs were far apart and were hard to decorate. With this type of tree very few ornaments were needed and lighting was the important part of the decorations. Because of the difficulty in trimming the Norway pine, the public turned to the Scotch and White pine. Now, however, through proper shearing and management, growers have been able to produce a much thicker, more attractive Norway pine. Although the demand for Norway pine has dropped, it still is a popular tree in the eastern part of Wisconsin, Wightman said.

Can be Made Thicker

White pine, like the Scotch pine, have shorter needles and are naturally thicker, and with shearing they can be made to be extremely thick. The shape of the tree can also be controlled by shearing.

In addition to shearing the trees annually, growers have now gone to coloring the trees before they are cut. This is done by spraying the trees with a green dye while they are still growing. Besides enhancing the color, it makes it possible for the grower to harvest trees later in the season.

Before the coloring process was used, trees had to be cut before late October or they would dry out and discolor. Now trees can be harvested into December which results in a much fresher tree for the buyer as well as a better colored tree.

Prices Higher

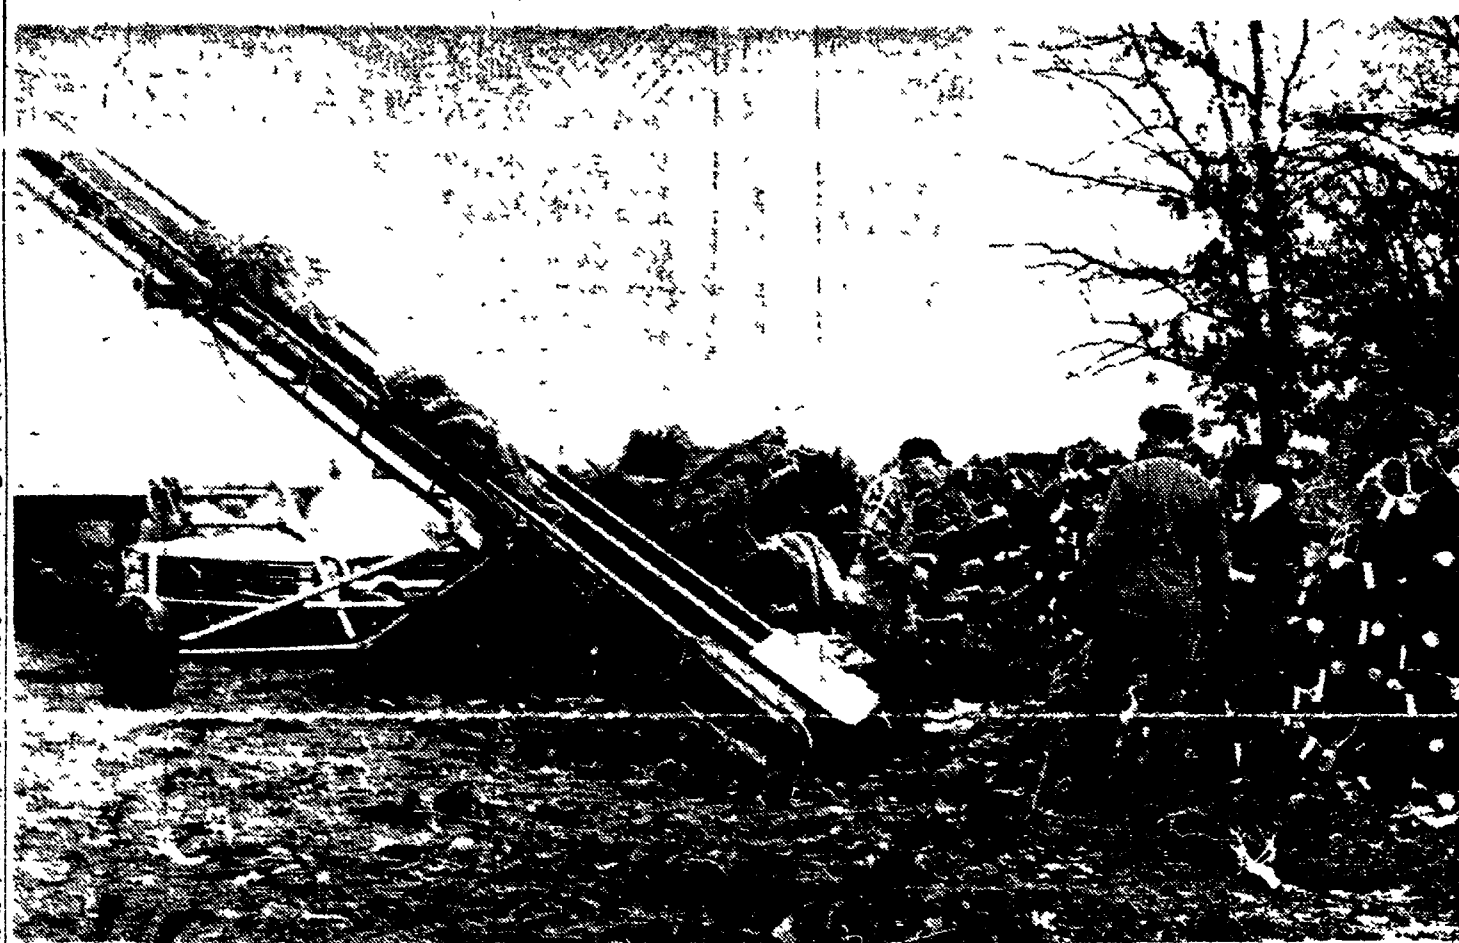

Producing a better colored, better shaped and fuller tree means more growing time, more work and more equipment for the Christmas tree grower and a higher price for the Christmas tree buyer.

Mrs. Arthur Sells, wife of General Tree Corp. president, said rising costs of land on which tree plantations are located and a new minimum wage for workers will push tree prices even higher.

It is no longer possible to plant a tree, and when it is tall enough, cut it and send it to market. Now the grower must shear the trees, at a cost of approximately four cents per tree per year, and then, before the tree is cut, it must be sprayed and thus costs between 10 to 15 cents per tree, depending on its size.

Spray Trees

This year alone, General Tree Corp., which has approximately 2.5 million trees on 40 plantations in Wisconsin, Iowa, Indiana and Illinois, will spray and Christmas Is Still a Month away but the task of cutting and shipping Christmas trees is in full swing. At General Tree Corp. plantations in the Waupaca area, trees are now being cut wrapped and loaded into either railroad boxcars or trucks for shipment through-

cut between 40,000 to 50,000 trees. Other growers have also gone to 100 per cent spraying of trees they cut.

Wrapping and shipping costs also continue to rise. Now most of the trees cut are passed through a machine which compresses them and binds them with twine. Cost of this operation is approximately four cents per tree. Recently a new type of plastic netting has been developed for wrapping trees and higher. To wrap a tree with the new plastic the cost is between 15 to 20 and 25 cents per tree.

buyers are demanding that their trees be wrapped with the plastic netting, Mrs. Sells said, but in the future the demand for the plastic is expected to increase and the cost will have to be passed on to the buyer.
